KING FERDINAND SHOT AS HE FLEES FROM REBELS

REVOLUTION IN RUMANIA THREATENED

Royal Family in Attempt to Flee From Palace Turned Back When Fired on by Workers; King Is Wounded

Crowds in Bucharest Cry "Down With the Puppets; Long Live the Republic"; King's Wound Not Serious

BERLIN, Feb. 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—A general insurrection is in progress throughout Rumania, according to a special despatch from Vienna.

King Ferdinand has been wounded slightly in attempting to flee from Bucharest with the royal family.

Workmen blocked the roadway from the royal palace when the royal family attempted to flee to Jassy and the king and his family were forced to return. The king was wounded when the workers, according to report, fired upon the royal palace.

Rioters in the streets of Bucharest are openly demanding the overthrow of the dynasty, crying "down with the puppets; long live the republic."

In a clash between the military and demonstrators at Bakorst, sixty persons were killed and 150 wounded.

The discipline of the Rumanian army, the newspaper adds, is collapsing. The food situation is rapidly growing worse and the country's finances are completely demoralized. The position of the Bratanio Cabinet is declared to be untenable.

BASEL, Feb. 13.—Karl Radek, the Russian Bolshevik emissary, who has been accused by the German authorities of being an instigator of numerous radical outbreaks in Germany, has been discovered and arrested by the Berlin police, according to a Berlin despatch today. His whereabouts had been a mystery for some time.

A state of siege has been declared at Hamburg, Germany, until the people of that city have surrendered all arms in their possession. Patrols demanding the arms are taking action against those who resist. Gustav Noske, minister in charge of military affairs, in the Ebert cabinet, has telegraphed to the president of the Soldiers' Council at Hamburg, saying that he will not take military measures against that city as the soldiers' and workmen's council is restoring order.

BERNE, Feb. 13.—As a result of a long conference between Mathias Erzberger, member of the German armistice commission, and various ministers at Berlin on Monday, it was decided, according to the Frankfort Zeitung, that Erzberger will demand that the allies recognize the new Berlin government when he meets the Entente chiefs to negotiate a renewal of the armistice.

'Dear Buggie' Letters Kiss Heart-Pounding And Her Brown Eyes!

LOVE letters of Frank M. Schultz to Miss Gertrude Marie Hoffmann:

This title is not without color, but it lacks the surge, the pulsations, the fire of the real thing, which is provided herewith in the actual heart-piercing missives themselves.

Once, in a fine poetic burst, Schultz says: "Oh, gee, but I do want to see you again, darling." And he says: "I am going to look way down deep into those pretty little brown eyes."

However, here are the letters; read them:

"Gee, But I Love You"

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.
May 17, 1918.

DEAR Lover Buggie:

Just received your letter and I am going to be more prompt than a certain little "Doubting Thomas" I know about, and am going to answer right away.

Certainly does me a lot of good to get your letters, sweetheart. I have knocked about a great deal and it never seemed to make much difference with me where I was, but this is the first time I have really been homesick, and gee, but I do want to see you again, darling, and love you and kiss you as we have done so many times.

I envy all those auto rides and dinners and theater parties you are having and wish I were there beside you. However, you just hold that Boss of yours at arms' length until I get back and then you can bet he won't have a chance to tempt you any longer, and just you remember, dearies, I am going to look very deep down into those pretty little Brown Eyes and see all the things you have been doing since I have been away.

I see you haven't forgotten Santa Barbara and the "near accident," and whenever you want any pins in a hurry . . . . .

"Tell Me You Love Me"

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.,
May 23, 1918.

DEAR Buggie Bug:

I had been planning on seeing you this week, dear little sweetheart, and holding you in my arms again, and feeling your arms about my neck in one of those good old bear hugs that you know so much about, and those thrilling, throbbing heart pounding kisses again, but instead of that I am going farther away from you, darling, and am leaving in a few moments for Portland and Seattle. It is going to be a sort of a flying trip, though, and I will be back here the latter part of next week and will be in old Los Angeles a few days later, where I expect . . . little while longer, and then you will be lonesome no more.

I hate to think of my car laying up in the garage and all of those nice rides and trips that we are missing, but then it is having a good long rest and will have to make up for lost time later on.

Write to me again, dear heart, and address the letter here so I will get it on my return, and remember that I will be thinking of you every moment and of all the many, many pleasant times we have had together. I have just about worn those pictures out looking at them.

Your old
LOVER BUG

"In My Arms Again"

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.,
June 10, 1918.

DEAR Bug:

Just returned today from Salt Lake. Had a much longer trip than I expected when I left here. Stopped at Portland, Seattle, Lewiston, Idaho, Ogden and Salt Lake, and all the time I was thinking of you, dear heart, and the nice big love letter that I would find here awaiting me, and I get just a little old card and a pretty cold one at that. I am afraid it is another case with me "out of sight, out of mind," and I can't blame you much at that, for it has been a dreadfully long while since we have seen each other, but, believe me, dearie, you have not been out of my mind, and I surely long for the time when I will see you again and those eyes that won't behave and that pretty brown hair and those soft warm lips—gee, but I can hardly wait.

I have been working on a lot of reports and statistics that our company had to make out for the government, and about the time I get through with one thing something else turns up, and the two weeks that I expected to stay here at first have run into six. However, I can begin now to see through the woods and unless something entirely unforseen again turns up I will certainly get back to dear old L. A. the last of this week.

Won't you write to me again, darling, and tell me that you still love me and that you are still waiting? Your WANKIE.

'DEAR LOVER BUG' LETTERS IN BALM SUIT

Beautiful Los Angeles Girl Bares Epistles Alleged to Have Been Written From Here in Seize of Her Heart

"Gee, But I Want to Kiss You, Wankie," Says Note to 'Buggie;' Not Money, But Affection She Seeks, Says Girl

Here are some words the salt sea air of the bay can add to a lonely bachelor's vocabulary: Dear Lover Buggie, Dear Buggie, Dear Bug, Wankie. The are culled from the letters which Miss Gertrude Marie Hoffmann, beautiful Los Angeles girl, says were written to her from here about the bay by Frank M. Schultz, wealthy apartment house broker and clubman of the southern city.

Miss Hoffmann says that Schultz lover-bugged on stationery only of the correspondence type and not of the marriage license clerk's variety. Therefore she has sued him for $50,000 for breach of promise, the suit stirring the bay cities, where Schultz was as well known as at home, as well as Los Angeles, where it awaits hearing.

"Gee, but I do want to see you and love you and kiss you," "Wankie" exploded in one of his letters of "Lover"—Buggie." Continued necessary separation from the fair Gertrude a week later had brought him to this melancholy state:

"HEART POUNDING", KISSES LONGED FOR.

"I had been planning on seeing you this week, dear little sweetheart, and holding you in my arms again and feeling your arms about my neck in one of those good old bear hugs that you know so much about and those thrilling, throbbing heart-pounding kisses."

By June 10 of last year the following extract from "Wankie's" letter, dated San Francisco, Miss Hoffmann quotes as expressive of his state of feeling:

"Believe me, dearie, you have not been out of my mind, and I surely long for the time when I will see you again and those eyes that won't behave."

But, the lady explains, Schultz's disposition continued to manifest itself chiefly in his cerise sentences and more concrete exemplification thereof when he finally returned to Los Angeles, but, she adds, it did not lead him to the altar with her upon his arm.

NOT THE MONEY, BUT AFFECTION SHE WANTS.

"It is not the money I want from Frank," she says. "It is for him to keep his promise to me. Certainly I have a right to ask that, considering all the circumstances. We were engaged for nearly a year; he took me to his mother's and he came to see me at my mother's. Everything was perfectly and plainly understood.

"His longing to remain a bachelor is possibly a true explanation of his feelings, but he should have thought of that before he asked me to marry him—before I went to the length, with his encouragement, to notify all of my friends that we would be married soon.

"I did not sue for $50,000 for the sake of the money, but because the law makes that the only possible alternative. If I should be given ten times that amount it would not recompense me because what I want is happiness."

Schultz was approached at his Los Angeles hotel. His statement was brief and terse. It was:

Express Is Wrecked; Relief Is Sent Out

Earl Reading to Return to U. S.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—The Associated Press is authoritatively informed that Earl Reading, British ambassador to the United States, will return to America in about a week's time.

The ambassador had intended to sail on the Olympic, but owing to an indisposition which is confining him to his room, he is compelled to postpone his departure. If he is sufficiently improved, it is stated he will sail on the Acquitania.

Silk Mills Gates Opened to Strikers

PATERSON, N. J., Feb. 13.—The textile mills opened their gates today to the striking silk workers. The strike was apparently ended by the agreement to refer the workers' demands to the National War Labor Board for settlement.

Great Britain to Demand Full War Cost and Damages

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Feb. 13.—The British delegates at the peace conference have been definitely instructed to claim an indemnity which will include the cost of the war as well as the damage actually caused, it was announced in the House of Commons today by Andrew Bonar Law, government leader, in reply to a question.

A commission is now considering the amount to be claimed, the method by which payment should be made and means of enforcing the payment, Bonar Law added.

DYNAMITERS IN BUTTE DESTROY HOME OF MINER

ABERDEEN, Wash., Fbe. 13.—The strike of metal trade workers at Gray's shipyards will be declared off tonight at a mass meeting, according to labor leaders here today.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS,
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

BUTTE, Mont., Feb. 13.—The home of C. H. Nolan, a miner living on Gaylord street, in the eastern section of Butte, was dynamited early this morning. No one was injured, although the house was occupied at the time. A portion of the rear porch of the house was blown down and a shed in the rear was demolished.

Nolan is employed at the St. Lawrence mine here and has continued to work since the strike of miners was declared last Friday. Pinned to the front door of the Nolan home was a piece of paper bearing the figures of "3-7-77." These same figures were found pinned to the body of Frank Little, I. W. W. leader, who was lynched here a year ago last summer. Nolan and his family have received threats over the telephone, according to the police.

According to the police, Mrs Nolan told them that she had received a warning over the telephone last Monday evening from some unknown person that if her husband did not refrain from working at the mine something "would happen to his family."

THREE IN HOUSE AT TIME ARE SHAKEN UP

Nothing more was thought of the matter, the police say Mrs. Nolan told them, until the explosion early this morning. Mrs. Nolan and an infant son and a cousin were sleeping in the house, but beyond a shaking-up were not injured. Windows in adjacent houses were broken by the force of the explosion.

Major George Halloran, who arrived in Butte late last night with two companies of the 44th Infantry, assumed command today of all troops stationed in Butte.

Chief of Police J. J. Murphy early today arrested a man giving the name of Albert Brawly, who was alleged by a clerk of the Finlen Hotel here to have threatened to blow up street cars if attempts were made to resume service today.

Despite the fact that additional union organizations in Butte have either endorsed the strike of the two miners' organizations, Butte Metal Miners' Union (independent) and the Metal Mine Workers' Industrial Union, No. 800 (I. W. W.), who are striking in protest against the recent cut in wages of $1 a day, more men appeared to have gone to work at the mines today, according to observations of policemen guarding approaches to the mines.

Three men, all foreigners, were arrested during the morning on charges of obstructing men from going to their work. The arrests were made by members of the police force, it not being necessary to call upon the military forces.

ENGINEERS THREATEN TO STRIKE IN SYMPATHY

Butte was again threatened with additions to the strike of metal miners today, when at an early hour the Engineers' Union voted to take a referendum vote next Saturday to decide upon the question of joining the strike in sympathy with the miners. The request for a sympathetic walkout came from the Butte Metal Miners' Union (independent) and the Metal Mine Workers' Industrial Union, No. 800 (I. W. W.), who went on a strike last Friday in protest against a reduction in wages of $1 a day.

A and E Companies, 44th United States Infantry (regulars), under command of Major George Halloran, arrived at 11:15 o'clock from Fort Lawton, Wash. The men will join other units of the same regiment stationed here on strike duty. Major Halloran made no announcement upon his arrival, except to say that the two companies had been sent at the request of Major A. M. Jones, who has been in command of other units of the same regiment since Sunday morning.

LABOR UNREST CAUSES ORDER HALTING SHIPS

$24,000,000 in Construction Work Stops Here on Word From Washington; Brotherton Says He Gave Warning

"Retaliation to Be Expected," Says Mediator; Thirteen Big Vessels Are Affected; Six of Them of 12,000-Ton Size

Strike conditions and the danger of Eastbay shipbuilders being unable to complete vessels on scheduled time are the reasons assigned by R. H. Brotherton, special examiner and mediator in the San Francisco bay district for the War Labor Board, for the holding up by the Emergency Fleet Corporation of approximately $24,493,000 in ship construction contracts here. In commenting upon the action taken last night by the Fleet Corporation officials, Brotherton said:

"I can only point to the statement issued three weeks ago by me warning the labor leaders that if such labor difficulties and strikes which were then looming up became a fact, the cancellation of shipbuilding in the yards in this district affected by such strikes would unquestionably follow. It is very difficult, however, to state positively that labor troubles are the sole reason for the cancellations or that strikes are the only cause.

"RETALIATION ONLY TO BE EXPECTED"

"The war is over. The government has contracts for more vessels than it actually needs. It stands to reason that when one of the covenants of a contract entered into between the shipworkers and the Macy Board is broken, the Emergency Fleet Corporation should retaliate and rid itself of contracts in affected districts."

When asked if he believed that these cancelled contracts would be superseded by those of vessels of other and larger types, Brotherton said:

"I don't know. That is a matter for Washington to determine, but it is hardly probable."

Brotherton, accompanied by Dr. L. C. Marshall, member of the Federal Wage Mediation Board, will leave for Seattle tonight to survey and review the strike situation there. It is intimated that wholesale cancellations in the northern yards will shortly follow his arrival.

MILLIONS INVOLVED IN CANCELLATIONS

The order of the Emergency Fleet Corporation suspends work on six 12,000-ton vessels at the Alameda plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation and cancels contracts for seven 9400-ton vessels at the plant of the Moore Shipbuilding and Dock Company.

The contracts held up at the Alameda Bethlehem plant approximate $13,320,000 in value, while those cancelled at the Moore plant have an approximate value of $11,173,000. These contracts, together with the six contracts for 5500-ton vessels cancelled with the Hanlon Drydock and Shipbuilding Company several weeks ago, indicate a loss to the Eastbay shipbuilding industry of $30,598,000.

In the case of the Hanlon contracts the reason assigned for cancellation is the decision of the Emergency Fleet Corporation to discontinue the building of vessels of from 5500 to 8400 tons and instead to construct ships of larger tonnage, preferably craft of from 9400 to 12,000 tons and upward.

FORTY-SEVEN SHIPS MAY BE INVOLVED.

The order issued by the Emergency Fleet Corporation last night brings the possible total loss of steel shipbuilding contracts in California yards to approximately $35,000,000, represented by forty-seven ships as follows:

Alameda plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, six; Moore Shipbuilding and Dock company, seven; Hanlon Drydock and Shipbuilding Company, six; Schawbacher Company, San Francisco, four; Los Angeles Shipbuilding Company, ten; Long Beach Shipbuilding Company, six; Southwestern Shipbuilding Company, San Diego, six.

Relief of the situation insofar as it applies to vessels of 9400 tons and upward is believed to rest upon the return to work of the striking shipyard employees. It is also deemed probable that no contracts for larger vessels to take the place of the contracts for building ships of less tonnage will be awarded on this coast until labor conditions are more favorable.

At the regular weekly meeting of the Boilermakers' Union last night the strike situation, in its application to the striking helpers and also to the possible walkout of the eleven boilermakers' unions affiliated with the Pacific Coast District Council of Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders, was discussed at some length, but no definite action was taken. Both matters will come up for further discussion at the ses-

Laborites Planned to Seize Industries, Declares Mayor

SOVIETS BEHIND IT

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 13.—Seattle's general strike of 70,000 laborers was an attempt at a revolution. The plan was to start the revolt here and have it spread to other cities.

These statements were made in an exclusive statement to the United Press today by Ole Hanson, mayor of Seattle. He said the strike bred no disorders becausse every precaution had been taken to preserve order.

The strikers, he said, "saw determined men, ready with rifles and machine guns manned by an American 'ace' and his company.

"They came. They saw. And fear conquered."

By OLE HANSON
Mayor of Seattle.

(Copyright 1919 by the United Press)

The so-called "sympathetic strike" in Seattle was an attempt at revolution. That there was no violence does not alter the fact, though the anarchists who fomented it are using that as an argument to deny their revolutionary intent to the men who blindly followed them and who are today beginning to understand how dangerously they were misled.

There was no violence because every precaution had been taken against it. Strikers came in droves to the police station. The saw determined men, ready, with rifles and machine guns manned by an American "ace" and his company.

They came, they saw. And fear conquered.

The intent, openly and covertly announced, was for the overthrow of the industrial system; here first, then everywhere.

SOVIET GOVERNMENT SYSTEM IS OBJECT.

No Russian city could have been more assiduously plied with soviet propaganda than was Seattle just prior to and during the tie-up.

After the strike had been called and the radicals were beginning to show their colors frankly, the proposal to take over all private and municipal industry was actually put to a vote in strike councils and missed adoption by a narrow margin only. This but led to redoubled efforts by the bolsheviki. The strikers, through newspaper notices, declared that: The public is advised to go home and stay at home after eight at night, we will police the city; we will supply such food as we think necessary, and nothing can operate except on our permission.

The owner of a taxicab company was told that he might run cabs for sick and emergency cases, provided he gave the sovietists half the proceeds.

EACH UNION TO RUN ITS OWN INDUSTRY.

Their plans exactly followed those of the Russian revolutionists.

Each union was to operate its own industry.

"Labor," said the strikers' official organ, "will not shut down industries. Labor will re-open under the management of the appropriate trades such industries as are needed to preserve the public health and peace.

"If the strike continues, labor may feel led to open more and more industries under its own management."

It was not a strike. Not simply a protest. It was a threat. A challenge. A revolutionary dictum.

ACTUAL PROGRAM TO TAKE OVER OPERATIONS

"Since the products and industries of the world are ours by right, since through their proper organization we can manage both more efficiently and with justice to all—and—we're ready, let's win!"

If the mass of labor in this affair believed it was not being swept toward overthrow of established government, it is because they didn't apply plain logic to the situation and don't comprehend what overthrow of government consists of.

True, there were no flashing guns, no bombs, no killings.

Revolution, I repeat, doesn't need violence.

The general strike, as practiced in Seattle, is of itself the weapon of revolution, all the more dangerous because quiet.

MUST SUSPEND EVERYTHING TO SUCCEED.

To succeed, it must suspend everything. Stop the entire life stream of a community. And to do that means danger, disease, death. It means stopping by the violence of intimidation every governmental agency for the protection and preservation of life as will as liberty.

And that is all there is to revolt—no matter how achieved.

Thousands of those supporting the strike didn't understand this until they saw what a monster, what a Frankenstein, they were expected to create.

When they did comprehend, the revolt died.

ARIZONA MINES CLOSE 6 MONTHS TO BALK STRIKE

BY UNITED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

JEROME, Ariz., Feb. 13.—Talk of wholesale deportation of alleged radical agitators from the Jerome mining district was heard here today.

It followed the arrest of seven men connected with the copper miners' strike late yesterday by agents of the Department of Justice. They are being held for possible deportation as undesirable citizens.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

JEROME, Ariz., Feb. 13. — The copper mines of the Jerome district closed down this morning for a period, the managers said, of from six to eight months, following troubles which started last Monday, when the owners announced a wage cut of 75 cents a day. Six thousand miners and other workers with a tributary population estimated at 18,000 more are affected.

No disorders have been reported so far, but twenty-five men of the Third United States Infantry, under Lieutenant John Sellers, are patrolling the streets with bayonets fixed and guarding the approaches to the mines.

This morning marked the expiration of the ultimatum issued to the men by the United Verde and United Verde Extension, the two largest properties in the district, that if a sufficient force was not on hand today to operate the mines they would close down indefinitely, or until the copper market improved. This was done.

Last night union leaders, at a big mass meeting, urged the men to go back to work and observe the union ruling that no strike would be declared and work would be continued under protest until the arrival of Federal Mediator Hywell Davies, now on his way here.

The United Verde management informed the unions that if 250 underground miners reported this morning the mine would remain open. Only 182 men came on duty, the great majority being machinists and engineers, with a bare sprinkling of underground workers.

The shutdown in the Jerome district is practically complete. A few of the smaller properties are hoping to resume when the present trouble blows over, but the managers of the large companies assert they will abide by their promise to keep closed at least for six months.

The present trouble developed on Monday morning with the 75-cent wage cut. The unions decided not to strike, but to have the men work under protest until the Federal mediator could arrive. Mass meetings were called, the police said, by I. W. W. agitators and a general strike was declared, despite the union decision. Then followed the arrest of street speakers and alleged traffic obstructors until, up to this morning, forty-two men had been lodged in jail.

U. S. READY TO RESUME WAR IF NECESSARY

If Germany Fails to Fulfill the Armistice Terms America Will Once More Take Up Arms, Declares President

Council After Long Debate, Agrees on New Pact With Teutons, Which Marshal Foch Carries to Treves

PARIS, Feb. 13.—The United States, under the society of nations plan, as it has been drawn, will maintain an army of not less than 500,000 men, which, after authorization of such action by the United States Senate, could be used wherever necessary, according to a Havas Agency announcement today regarding newly adopted features of the plan.

BY UNITED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

PARIS, Feb. 13.—The Matin forecasts today that the armistice will be prolonged indefinitely, that hostilities will be commenced on short notice in the event the enemy shows bad faith in carrying out the conditions and that a dead line will be drawn beyond which German troops will be forbidden to move toward Poland.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

PARIS, Feb. 13.—(Havas)—Non-execution by Germany of the terms of the armistice, President Wilson is understood to have declared in conversation yesterday, would be an incident of such nature as to justify the resumption of war.

It is said that the President asserted he would not hesitate in that case to order the American army to take up arms again.

On the other hand, it was said that President Wilson regards resumption of hostilities as a grave eventuality to which he would agree only on the most absolutely essential considerations and not for any secondary motive.

The supreme war council, after two protracted sessions reached complete agreement on the new terms of the armistice. It was decided that the armistice with Germany will be renewed on February 17 for a brief period, with the allies reserving the right to suspend it at any time in the event of Germany's failure to carry out new clauses or those which have hitherto not been executed. It is stated the terms will provide that the Germans must cease hostilities against the Poles and maintain their forces within fixed limits.

DISARMAMENT OF HUNS PROPOSED.

During the brief period of the renewed armistice a special commission will draft the conditions of an armistice which will last until the signing of the peace treaty. These conditions, which the supreme war council is reported to have approved in a rough form yesterday, have in view, it was stated, the demobilization of the German army and the disarmament of the enemy under the supervision of the allies. These terms, it is understood, will be communicated to Germany so that the national assembly at Weimar will have time to discuss them until the provisional armistice expires.

Premier Clemenceau made an impressive speech at yesterday's sitting of the council, showing the necessity of taking all desirable precautions against Germany.

At the afternoon sitting President Wilson is said to have taken the same viewpoint, affirming that all the allies were agreed on that point and that differences which cropped up during previous discussions bore on the most suitable methods of obtaining the necessary guarantees.

The sessions brought together a notable array of military and civilian officers, including besides President Wilson and representatives of the great powers, two French marshals, Foch and Petain; Field Marshal Haig of Great Britain; General Diad of Italy and Generals Pershing and Bliss of the United States.

The presence of these officials probably indicates that economic and financial, as well as military features will be incorporated in the new terms.

FRANCE ASSURED ADEQUATE SAFEGUARDS.

At the same time the presence of Marshals Foch and Petain and other French military authorities leads to the belief that the terms will give France adequate safeguards against Germany being able to resume warfare.

The commission on the society of nations resumed its sessions at 10:30 o'clock this morning, with a full attendance of the members to receive the report of the drafting committee. It was hoped to reach a final adjustment at today's meeting. If this hope is realized it may be possible to submit the plan to a plenary session of the peace conference on Friday.

The Acme of Lens Production

The history of optical lens production is a story of indefatigable effort by the world's scientists to evolve a lens embodying efficiency and practicability at a minimum cost to the public.

Success first came with the advent of the flat lens with which our fathers had to be content. The next achievement produced the toric or curved lens—a vast improvement, but one of form only, as like the flat lens the toric would not give accurate vision toward the margin of the lens.

COURT HALTS DEPORTATION OF RADICALS

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Writs of habeas corpus, sought by a group of radicals in an effort to prevent deportation of forty-nine of the fifty-four aliens brought to Ellis Island from the west, were issued last night by Federal Judge Knox. The writs are returnable today.

Miss Caroline Lowe, who has been defending radicals in Chicago, was selected to conduct this case at a meeting which was attended by Scott Nearing, John Reed, Rev. John Haynes Holmes and Rev. Norman Thomas.

Seymour Stedman, counsel for Nearing at his trial on a charge of obstructing the selective service act, also was present.

After the meeting Stedman said he believed that "if the government would open the door and allow people to return to Russia there would be a larger exodus than most people imagine."

Thomas asserted those at the meeting felt that it was a "mistaken theory of democratic government" that permitted the secretary of labor to "pass sentence of deportation against people for expressing their opinions."

Miss Lowe, it was learned, visited the commissioner of immigration here yesterday and asked permission to see the prisoners, but was refused on the ground that she held no credentials as counsel for any of them.

The writs, which were granted by Judge Knox as a matter of routine, provided for argument on their return without the appearance in court of those on whose behalf it was issued.

TACOMA, Feb. 13.—Six foreigners, whose names were not given out, but whose revolutionary actions have resulted in their arrest, are being held in the county jail as federal prisoners awaiting deportation, it became known today.

The men have all been quietly taken into custody in Tacoma in the past few days by United States secret service operatives and their arrest and confinement accounts in part for the disappearance of several well-known radicals whose influence was used to bring on a general strike in Tacoma and Seattle.

None of those arrested is a citizen, it was said today by Immigration Inspector Alexander S. Fulton, who stated the men would be deported.

Government operatives have been quietly at work in every part of the Northwest in the past few weeks rounding up those who advance plans and theories for seizing plants and industries and organizing a government patterned after that of the bolsheviki.

QUESTIONNAIRES TO TAKE ENTIRE BUILDING SPACE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—What is to be done with the ten million of questionnaires that were filled out by the men who registered when Uncle Sam called for an exact survey of his manpower?

It was learned today that the question of what to do with them has been causing officials in the office of the adjutant general sleepless nights and it has practically been decided that they shall have a building of their own at Washington barracks. It will require a building with 270,000 square feet to care for this intimate history of America's men between the ages of 18 and 36. The documents still are in the hands of the local boards.

In the building that will be appropriated for their use, the questionnaires, in which is revealed the most intimate family and financial secrets, will be filed away so they can be reached if called for, but they will not be available to the casually curious—only treasury department officials, who may want to check up on income tax returns and others properly authorized, will ever get a peep at them.

HARD-PRESSED ALLIES SAVED BY U. S. TROOPS

ARCHANGEL, Feb. 13.—(By The Associated Press)—American reinforcements, marching over thirty miles of forest trail, reached the hard-pressed British and Russians in the region of Sredmakrenga yesterday. The result was that the Bolshevik, who had been launching strong attacks in this region, retired to the southward, apparently abandoning their offensive movement.

The Bolsheviki evidently feared that they would be cut off in the rear and withdrew before the Americans reached Sredmakrenga. Conditions on other sectors of the Northern Russian front were unchanged today.

BY UNITED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Withdrawal of the allied-American forces from northern Russia and Siberia will be the first question before the proposed conference between representatives of the associated powers and the Russian factions at Prinkipos, diplomats here understood today. It was predicted that the Omsk and Archangel governments would be last minute participants in the conference.

STRIKE HEAD SAYS A. F. L. MUST STEP UP

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 13.—Declaring that the American Federation of Labor will "have to step up a little" and will have to "be reconstructed," Ben Nauman, chairman of the executive committee of the general strike committee, made an informal report to delegates here today.

He spoke in part as follows:

"We were out seven days," he began. "There were 60,000 of us on strike, and there wasn't even a fist fight. Credit for the good order was due to the fact that organized labor knows how to behave itself, and the fact that we had a police force of our own which used nothing but commonsense.

"Trouble in the strike was due to the intrusion of the mayor. He made several promises, and did not keep any of them."

Nauman said that the mayor came up to the meeting of the committee and promised that if the committee would permit the lighting department to run and the water department, he wouldn't attempt to run the street cars. That was agreed to, and the mayor broke his promise without any hesitation.

"Ole attempted to call off the strike at noon on Friday and said that if we didn't do it, he would declare martial law. We didn't declare it off, and Ole didn't declare martial law. Then he said that unless we declared the strike off on Saturday morning, he'd declare martial law. Finally, he made many of the members of the committee so mad we couldn't any of us declare it off ourselves.

"We did something in this strike which has never been done before by the A. F. of L. We pulled off a general strike with craft unions, with iron clad contracts which had to be broken, and with a constitution which had to be ignored.

"I believe that out of this strike is going to come one of the best labor movements the world has ever seen. This strike has shown that the American Federation of Labor has got to step up a little, and as for the other fellow (referring to the I. W. W.) he is so far ahead he'll have to step back a little. The American Federation of Labor will have to be reconstructed and when they do it I believe they'll be glad to have the assistance of Seattle."

sion tomorrow evening and hope is held out by the conservatives that the strikers will vote to return to work February 17.

WOLFF ENDORSED AFTER DISCUSSION.

The meeting last night was attended by approximately 4000 of the 6000 members of the union. The session was protracted until well after midnight, and was devoted for the most part, it is stated, to discussion of an editorial which was published in a San Francisco evening paper yesterday attacking statements said to have been made by E. B. Wolff, secretary of the local Boilermakers' Union, at a strike committee meeting of last week which was, according to the editorial, attended by J. H. Walsh, assistant federal wage adjuster and examiner for the Pacific coast.

Several hundred members of the organization who were in attendance at the meeting referred to in the editorial are said to have disclaimed the utterance by Wolff of the statements attributed to him. Following these disclaimers resolutions endorsing Wolff were adopted.

MACHINISTS' UNION WILL MEET TONIGHT.

Tonight the members of the local Machinists' Union will meet in regular session and take up the ultimatum issued yesterday by the employers of what are termed "outside" shops. This ultimatum threatens with dismissal all metal trades workmen on both sides of the bay who insist on taking Saturday afternoons off in what the employers claim to be a violation of federal and local agreements. Officials of the local union state it is not probable the men will recede from their 44-hour-a-week stand.

With the foregoing statement as a rallying cry the Eastbay district was yesterday flooded with handbills calling for a soldiers, sailors and workmen's meeting at a time and place not stipulated. A similar meeting was held last Sunday afternoon in the headquarters of the Boilermakers' Union in the Downtown garage. The union, however, disclaims any connection with the meeting in question aside from renting the hall to its promoters.

M. J. McGuire, president of the San Francisco Metal Trades Council, issued a statement today that the metal trades strikes in Oakland will be ended within a few days.

"I have been empowered by the International organization of the Metal Trades Council to settle the Oakland controversy," he said. "The strikes will be ended very soon."

Sacramento Carmen to Take Strike Vote

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 13.—Members of the Carmen's Union employed as conductors and motormen on the Sacramento lines of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company Street Railway system will take a strike vote next Wednesday unless the company officials agree in the meantime to arbitrate the employees' demands for increased pay.

This announcement was made today by Robert W. Titherington, chairman of the executive committee of the union. He said if the carmen voted to strike ample notice would be given to city officials to permit them to take action to provide jitney service or to take steps to provide other means of transportation for the public.

NEGRO IS SENTENCED.

Henry Lancaster, a negro, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment in the county jail and fined $500, after being found guilty of a statutory offense by Police Judge George Samuels this morning.

STORM CUTS DENVER OFF FROM EAST

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 13.—The worst prostration of wire communication into Denver from the east in years had practically cut off this city today from the great news events in Europe.

One government wire and a "test" line over which the American Telephone and Telegraph Company was making frenzied efforts to restore communications were the only connections between Denver and the east this morning.

Sleet storms last night in Nebraska and Kansas carried down all wires of the Bell Company, the Western Union and the Postal Telegraph.

The general breakdowns occurred eighty-seven miles east of North Platte, Neb., and between Kinsley and Stafford, Kas. These two storm areas are in the principal wire zones east of Denver. Formerly when one failed the other was generally available, but the loss of both avenues cut Denver off completely.

The great snowstorm now sweeping the entire Middle West is the same as the one which swept California in the earlier part of the week according to the United States weather bureau in San Francisco. The storm, which increased in violence after drenching the state, covers a large area, reaching east to Minnesota, south to New Orleans and to the western foothills of the Rocky mountains.

EDITORIAL

Do you realize what an important factor "service" is as applied to a successful retail business?

No matter whether you purchase a 10c cake of soap or a $125.00 camera you rightfully expect prompt, accurate, careful, considerate service.

At every one of your many, many visits to your druggist, for example, you require and deserve in addition to good goods, good service.

It has been the constant aim of this store for over 40 years to give not only the best merchandise procurable and to sell it at right prices, but to render SERVICE as well.

During the war it was sometimes difficult to procure merchandise and had it not been for our friendly relations with some of the biggest supply houses and manufacturers in the country we might not have been able to fill your orders as well as we did.

However, in spite of many vexing problems (even in spite of an unavoidable shortage of help during some periods) this store and its employees at all times at least tried their best to render "service."

It may be a long time before "conditions return to normal," in fact, we will probably never again see the old pre-war conditions, but no matter what the difficulties may be you will always find this store doing its best to give you good merchandise and GOOD SERVICE.

DON'T MISS YOUR CHANCES TO PHOTOGRAPH

How often do you think of and use your kodak? Every day that passes without taking advantage of your chances to photograph is an opportunity lost.

How much would you give for 100 pictures of the things that interested you twenty years ago? You ought to keep a complete set of pictures of the activities of all of your children, almost from the day they are born. One of our customers made an exceedingly interesting series of photographs with a kodak of their little girl. On Monday she was taken doing the family washing; on Tuesday she was ironing; on Wednesday she was sewing; on Thursday she went calling; on Friday she went shopping; on Saturday she did the cooking for the Sunday dinner, and on Sunday she went to church. All of these pictures were pasted in an album and today form one of the real treasures of this little girl's parents.

AND NOW FOR THE LITTLE GREEN BUGS

Spray Your Roses Early

As soon as the rains are over, and the sun comes out the little green bugs on the rose bushes will make their appearance, and it is up to you to kill them off in their infancy if you don't want them to get the best of you.

"EVEREADY" FLASH LIGHTS FROM 85¢ UP

We Have All Kinds—Big and Little

We probably sell more Eveready flash lights than any other store in Oakland. The consequence is that we can afford to carry a very large assortment. We have these flash lights in every known size and shape, from the little round ones that fit into the vest pocket like a fountain pen to the big lanterns that carry two ordinary dry cells. We also carry all kinds of batteries to fit these flash lights. Every automobilist should have at least two or three on hand at all times; one in the pocket of his machine; one in a handy place in the basement and the third in his home ready for any emergency. Eveready flash lights can be bought for from 85c up.

NOW IS THE TIME—To Look Out for That Complexion of Yours!

This is the kind of weather that is hard on every one's complexion, especially when you go automobiling.

One of the best ways to protect your face against sunburn, chap and tan, is to use Bowman's Benzoin Cream. This preparation has been used by many of our customers for a long time with wonderful satisfaction. It is not only a protection to the skin, but has medicinal properties which are very healthful to the complexion. 25c and 50c a bottle.

ATTRACTIVE AND INEXPENSIVE WRITING PAPER

Where do you buy your stationery?

We have an exceedingly interesting line of moderately priced correspondence paper, including Crane's Highland linen, which is probably the best grade of inexpensive writing paper made in America. This paper comes in all desirable shades and in all of the new shapes; we also have correspondence cards with envelopes to match. You will be agreeably surprised to find how far your money goes in our stationery department in spite of the high cost of paper.

HOW ABOUT A GOOD POCKET KNIFE?

Get One That Holds Its Edge

When you buy a knife you want one that will not only cut but one that will stay sharp—one that will hold its temper and yours—

We have all kinds of pocket knives for all kinds of people—Some of these knives are almost like a piece of jewelry, finished to the finest degree—

Then we have the plain, sturdy, "practical" knives with blades of the finest steel procurable.

Most of our Knives are either "Keen-Kutter" or Jordan steel — Better knives than these are not made, to the best of our knowledge.

MORE RAINS ARE COMING

Are you in need of a good umbrella?

In buying umbrellas it is well to go to a reliable store, because it is not always safe to choose an umbrella entirely by its looks.

We purchase our stocks from the most successful and reliable manufacturers of umbrellas in America.

At the present time we have a good variety of silk umbrellas for ladies and a splendid line of men's umbrellas at all prices and with all kinds of handles. We also have a good stock of school umbrellas in small sizes for the little folks and in larger sizes for their bigger brothers and sisters. All at moderate prices.

Damages in the amount of $25,000 are demanded in a suit instituted today by Mrs. Bessie Hyman against the Traction company for alleged personal injuries, resulting from an accident in October, 1918, on a San Pablo avenue street car. The complaint alleges that the injuries to the plaintiff were so severe as to incapacitate her from performing her duties at home. She has three daughters.

Complaint Is Made Against Muddy Water

Protests made to Commissioner W. H. Edwards led to his instituting in the city council this morning efforts to induce the Peoples Water Co. to purify its water supply of sediment lately in evidence. Commissioner Edwards insisted that the muddiness of the water was caused by a direct diversion of Lake Chabot water into the city mains. Commissioner Edwards' complaint was referred to the commissioner of public health and safety.

Relieve Your Indigestion With A Laxative

Dyspeptics know that indigestion is accompanied by constipation, and that until the bowels can be regulated so they will act freely and naturally every day at a stated time, swallowing dyspepsia tablets is of little use.

A great and growing number of sufferers from this trouble find immediate and then permanent relief by the use of a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin sold by druggists under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. The laxative herbs act on the bowels and the pepsin and extracts on the digestive tract, forming an exceptionally effective laxative-tonic.

It is a combination that has been found wonderfully helpful in indigestion, constipation, biliousness, headaches, bad breath, belching and gas on the stomach. A small dose is all that is required.

The druggist will refund your money if it fails to do as promised.

PRICE AS ALWAYS

In spite of greatly increased laboratory costs due to the War, by sacrificing profits and absorbing war taxes we have maintained the price at which this family laxative has been sold by druggists for the past 76 years. Two sizes—50c and $1.00.

SAW IN SOCK AND LINGERIE BRING ARREST

"The Rough Road," a new book by William J. Locke, may be the road to very rough times for William Murray, held in the city prison on a vagrancy charge pending the investigation of the origin of a suitcase full of silk clothing and the book mentioned, the presence of a steel saw in the suspect's sock, and the proximity of a kit of burglar's tools.

Murray, arrested by Detectives Tom Wood and Tom Gallagher, at Seventh and Broadway, is being held on suspicion. He says someone gave him a check on a checking station at the Southern Pacific depot for the suitcase. At the checking station it is declared that the case was never checked there.

Murray is being held under the vagrancy law while the detectives are investigating. They want to find the owner of the suspected stolen property, that they may ascertain how it came into the prisoner's possession. In his suitcase were found a pair of women's satin slippers, labeled "The Bootery", a Japanese pink silk petticoat, a one-piece dress bearing the label of Newman-Magnin Company of San Francisco, a skirt apron with laundry marks partly obliterated, and a label of the A. G. Spalding company on it, a silk scarf, a pair of silk covered corsets and saw was found in his sock, and other tools on his person.

He was ordered held indefinitelyy on the vagrancy allegation, while Detective Gallagher investigating the various articles, tracing them through their labels.

"If any woman recognizes this property as hers," he says, "through the description, and will call on the captain of inspectors and identify it, it will be returned to her, with thanks from all of us except Murray."

Senate's Action Is Scored by Johnson

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The American government's "supineness and cowardice" is risking the lives of 5000 American soldiers in Russia without hope of benefiting any cause, Senator Hiram Johnson, California, declared to the Senate today. Johnson charged the Senate with "camouflaging by an attack on bolshevism" its fear to act on his resolution for speedy return of American troops from Russia.

MR. FAMILY MAN:

Why Spend So Much Money on Shoes?

Here is what Tracy Munson of Joplin, Missouri, says of Neolin Soles: "Judging from my own experience, they wear four times longer than other soles and have the additional advantage of being waterproof and slip-proof."

Why continue to wear extravagant old-fashioned soles when you can get these money-saving, long-wearing soles on new shoes in any style you like for any member of the family? Good shoe stores everywhere carry them.

And don't throw away your old shoes. Have them re-bottomed with Neolin Soles and enjoy the comfort of a re-soled shoe which is not stiff or clumsy. Neolin Soles are a discovery of Science, and are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels—guaranteed to outwear all other heels.

Drug Using Is Greatly on Increase
Decoto Would Make Offense Felony

Oakland's drug addicts and drug vendors are increasing rapidly, but Alameda county's prosecution of drug users and vendors does not fall below par. To this attest District Attorney Ezra Decoto as well as Dr. H. B. Meader of the State Board of Pharmacy. Their exposition of the Eastbay drug violation prosecution as a model of efficiency follows censure delivered to less diligent prosecutors at a meeting of the governor's efficiency and economy commission.

"Everyone knows," the district attorney says, "that Oakland is full of hop-heads and that their number is increasing. I do not know where the stuff comes from, nor is it within my province to police the city against its sale nor have I the force with which to do so. After drug vendors are twice convicted and again arrested their cases come under the district attorney's jurisdiction, but such instances rarely occur."

PROSECUTION AIDED.

Dr. Meader offers similar testimony, beside furnishing the most complete alibi for the local prosecutor against the commission's general charges. From an experience gained in numerous prosecutions of the drug evil, Dr. Meader said today.

"It is quite true that the State Board of Pharmacy has received constant and energetic assistance from the Alameda county district attorney's office. We have nothing here of which to complain. It seems impossible to keep noxious drugs out; the profits to be made by their sale are so considerable that the temptation to violate the law is very great. One difficulty we have had to face was the lax probationary system in vogue with references to these cases. Were the sale of drugs made a felony in the first instance and probation made more difficult to secure, efforts to arrest the evil would be more often crowned with success."

CO-OPERATION GIVEN.

District Attorney Decoto explained further that attorneys for the State Board of Pharmacy, charged especially with the suppression of the illicit use of drugs, have always had the co-operation of his office.

"We have offered over and over again to try their cases, to let them try them or to join with them, and the district attorney's forces have always been available to the Pharmacy Board to the extent of our capacity in the uncovering of illegal practices," said Decoto.

The district attorney explains that the selling of drugs is a misdemeanor, becoming a felony only on the third offense. An misdemeanor are matters handled by the police and the city prosecuting attorney the prosecution of drug users and sellers infrequently comes to the attention of the district attorney's office, he says.

"If the Efficiency Commission, the State Pharmacy Board of any one else want to enforce the law against the increasing use of drugs, and it should be done, they should cause the law to be amended making it a felony to sell the stuff, instead of allowing it to remain a misdemeanor. That is the corrective measure to be employed. The amendment should be had at once."

DRUG USERS INCREASE

In dry districts of California, it was declared at yesterday's hearing, the use of drugs is increasing, and prosecutions for the offense have been steadily on the rise, as pointed out by Louis Zeh, secretary for the State Board of Pharmacy. In the past nine years in San Francisco, Zeh said, prosecutions of drug traffickers have decreased from 771 in 1909 to 54 in 1918. While in Los Angeles, he said, the number of prosecutions have increased from 176 in 1909 to 362 cases last year. He said the increased traffic in drugs in Los Angeles became noticeable two years ago following the closing of the saloons, while in other dry districts the conditions are quite as bad and growing worse.

The charge was made by Attorney General Webb that in some counties district attorneys have shown a considerable indisposition to prosecute. He said:

"They show reluctance after the Board of Medical Examiners, for instance, has proceeded against some rather prominent man in their community, to go ahead. He may be the best druggist, the best doctor in the town. The boys didn't like to prosecute them. They suggest that the boards have their own attorneys, and why not leave it to them?"

The entire discussion went to the question as to whether or not the legal work of the twenty-one commissions of the State that have attorneys either on full or part time arrangements should not be consolidated in a legal division under the organization of the Attorney General's office.

TOWNER TELLS OF Y. M. C. A. HEROES

European conditions in their great variety and perplexity at the end of the great war were discussed by Rev. William Keeny Towner, who spent more than a year as a Y. M. C. A. secretary at the battle front in France, in a talk at the luncheon of the Rotary Club in the Hotel Oakland today. After telling why the American army was sent, he said:

"It was a rare privilege that comes to but few men in generations to be 'over there,' sharing the privations and tedium of camp life, the hardship and hazard of advanced fighting forces. We were a part of the finest army the world ever saw, sent out by the greatest nation in the world's history, to defend and advance those unfolding ideas of freedom, righteousness and fraternity which hold the hope of the whole world for all the future ages. This privilege was fully appreciated, and appraised at its full worth by the Young Men's Christian Association. Its secretaries generally grasped the full meaning of their calling. We did not underestimate your investment of funds, nor undervalue your confidence, and we did make a sincere and in the main an effective effort to discharge our trust.

"You gave us your money and your faith and said: 'Go over with our heroic troops, build them large, commodious and well-furnished buildings, keep them light, airy, warm, clean and as homelike as you can. Give them clean and wholesome entertainments, recreations, lectures, cinemas, afford them a wholesome American environment in which to spend their leisure hours; keep them contented, cheerful, tempered, fit for the task to which we send them.'

"You did not expect your money to go for smokes and sweets to be gratuitously distributed. That would have been a cheap and easy task. The canteen was an incident used as an introduction to a real and essential service. The Y. M. C. A. had a super-human program to which it could only bring a human organization, with many imperfections and flaws. But the whole organization looked the difficulty, withal insurmountable, in the face and said with all sincerity: 'Such as I have I give thee. Almighty giver send thou thy lightning back.'

"Let me tell you of Charley Goodsell, pastor of the Baptist Church of Olympia, Washington, who drove his 'Y' truck up to the quarry on Madeline Field under direct observation, machine gun, rifle and shrapnel fire, loaded in seven wounded American soldiers and drove out. He was followed in and out by five Y. M. C. A. cannonettes. Let me speak of 'Old Man' Dix, a lineal descendant from War Governor, John A. Dix of New York, who gave his blood in transfusion to save a wounded Sammy at Fleury hospital, and who nearly died from influenza afterwards because he had depleted his own powers of resistance. May I mention also Fred Graves of Fresno, who stood by his truck for five straight days and nights during the Argonne Forest drive —eating and sleeping at his wheel. Let me pause also to recall 'Cooper,' the heroic and handsome rector from New England who, badly gassed and returning to the field hospital for treatment carrying his stricken comrade 'Y' man, was hailed by an ammunition truck driver who had lost his unit. Cooper knew every inch of this front. Here was his opportunity. He laid his dying friend beside the road, got aboard the truck, piloted the lad to his position, got out and died. We could not all get gassed, or wounded, or die, but we could be there to serve to our utmost the splendid men of our unrivaled army. That was the spirit of the 'Y' in France."

Wife Says Husband Flirted With Cook

Mrs. Laura J. Hansen complains in her divorce suit filed today that her husband, Nis Hansen, indulged in intoxicating liquors to such an extent that he could not do the cooking for their Pleasanton hotel, and she was obliged to hire a woman cook. Thereafter he flirted with the cook so much that she quit, the complaint says.

Mrs. Leafie C. Courtney accuses Charles E. Courtney of nagging and other forms of cruelty. She says she had to go out nursing to support herself and that he called up the homes where she worked and caused her to lose her positions.

The complaint of Lillian M. Pelker against Samuel Pelker is on the secret file.

VICE TRIAL OF KOLICH IS BEGUN

The trial of John Kolich, owner of the Senate Bar, 1751 West Seventh street, also lessee of the rooming house above the saloon, who was indicted as the keeper of a disorderly house, was begun before Federal Judge M. T. Dooling and jury today.

Kolish was arrested December 7 last following a raid made by Sergeant Joseph Condit of the army intelligence bureau and Oakland Police Officer Frank Anderson and Policewoman Alma Mortimer. Two women, Theresa Diebold and Agnes Miller, were charged with violating the Federal social evil proclamation.

According to the testimony of Sergeant Condit, following the arrest of the women on the night of the raid, thirteen men went up the back stairs from Henry street, all making the same request: "I want to see a girl." At this time, according to the testimony of Condit and Anderson, the Diebold woman attempted to bribe them, raising the price gradually from $25 to $50 to obtain their release. In the confusion which followed, Kolich came upstairs from the saloon and was asked whose place it was. He replied, "It is mine. I have a seven-year lease on it."

The defense of Kolich, conducted by Attorney W. H. Hines, will include the calling of two Oakland police officers, John Robinson, 2525 Grove street, and George Doolan, 1226 Terrace, as witnesses for his clients. On the stand Kolich made general denial that he had knowledge of the conditions which existed in the rooms occupied by the Diebold and Miller women, saying that though he had a room on the same floor, "I never saw anything wrong, and I have lived there for three years. I sub-let the rooming house to Mrs. Diebold for $50 a month."

Attorney Hines indicated over objections made by Special War Attorney James E. Colston, that he will seek to prove that Kolich sub-let the apartment and that the women were roughly treated by the officers on the night of the raid, and doors broken in were occupied by decent, respectable working men. The women have not been tried as yet and the case will go to the jury late this afternoon.

ENLARGEMENT OF PARK IS OPPOSED

Chances for Sequoia national park in the Sierras becoming the Greater Sequoia national park through the addition of 1235 adjacent acres were materially weakened today by an adverse decision of the House public lands committee at Washington. The enlargement of the park has been supported by the Sequoia club of this state, many California chambers of commerce and individuals interested in the protection of the state's scenic assets.

A continued controversy between the Department of the Interior and the Department of Agriculture over the boundaries of the proposed addition is stated in today's Washington advices as the basis for the committee's action. The committee of Ed. the Senate provision that the park be renamed for Theodore Roosevelt.

The lands which it was proposed to add to the present Sequoia park contain some of the most massive, beautiful and varied scenery of the state. Its eastern boundary lies along the crest of the Sierra to the west of Bishop, approximating the Inyo county border. Several of the highest peaks in the United States are included within the proposed addition. It has been pending at Washington for some time, supported by Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane, Stephen Mather, superintendent of national parks, and others.

New Oil Strike Is Cause of Excitement

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13.—San Fernando valley is in the throes of a little oil excitement today as the result of Standard Oil Company drillers striking oil there late yesterday. Many leases were made during the day—all on the basis of a royalty and bonus.

HANSON IS PRAISED BY JOHN W. HILL

DENVER, Feb. 13.—Mayor Ole Hanson of Seattle was commended for his ultimatum to the I. W. W. during the recent general strike in the Northwestern city by Dr. John Wesley Hill, chancellor of Lincoln Memorial University, who delivered the principal address at a Lincoln Day banquet of the Lincoln Club last night.

"Mayor Hanson has declared that his city shall be no recruiting ground for criminal refugees who have come here to spread sedition and anarchy," he said, and urged that every undesirable alien be "put to sea in rock ballasted ships with leaden sails."

Dr. Hill was bitter in his condemnation of the I. W. W. and the Bolshevik movement and urged eternal vigilance against the dangers which he said these organizations were sure to bring if given a free hand.

THREE ARRAIGNED IN MURDER CASE

John Ponich, Sam Basevich and Jelka Obradovich, accused jointly by the police of the murder of Weimer Duganzica, who was killed several days ago in the Obradovich home in Elmhurst after a quarrel over a wine bill, were arraigned before Police Judge Smith today on charges of murder. Their police court examination has been set for March 1.

While Mrs. Obradovich says she fired the fatal shot, and Iso Matich, who says to the complaints as cousin of the dead man, says he saw her do so, the police are not certain of the truth of her story, and have had all three involved in the quarrel held.

The witnesses say the three quarreled with the dead man over a wine bill, and he was killed in the fight.

TIP OF WOMAN LEADS TO ARREST

Caught through the work of the same woman detective, who, eight years ago, apprehended the famous Hargens shoplifting band in Oakland eight years ago, Harry Pettijean, accused shoplifter, is in the Oakland city prison, accused of stealing a bolt of silk from the store of Whitthorne & Swan at Eleventh and Washington streets. The man was seen by the woman house detective of the firm, according to her story to inspectors Tom Wood and Tom Gallagher, leaving the place with the silk.

The house detective, whose name the police are keeping secret at the request of the woman herself, is, according to Gallagher, the same detective who, working for another firm "tipped" the police to Peter, Henry and Mrs. Annie Hargens, arrested eight years ago following a series of sensational shoplifting episodes.

Pettijean is held for investigation and grand larceny will be alleged in the hold him. The silk, according to the complaint to be sworn to tonight to detectives, was found in his possession.

George W. Prescott Dies Suddenly

George W. Prescott, a resident of Alameda county since 1850, died this morning at his home, 421 Moss avenue, following a sudden heart attack. He was 81 years old and for a long period has served on the Alameda county juries, being well known about the court house. Prescott is survived by a widow, Mrs. Emma M. Prescott and eight children.

The funeral will take place on Saturday at 2 p. m. from the undertaking chapel at 2055 Telegraph avenue.

Ex-Convict Denies Causing Man's Death

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—Denial of accusations that he caused the death of Richard John McNeill was made today by Leonard Madden, ex-convict held on suspicion by the police. McNeill fell from a street car at Tenth and Market streets yesterday, his head striking the pavement and causing his death. While the police allege that Madden struck McNeill, the ex-convict says that McNeill was thrown off the car by the conductor for disorderly conduct.

Madden is over 50 and has spent most of his life in prison. Less than a fortnight ago he completed a three-year term in Folsom on a larceny charge. In denying the accusation Madden said, "In my career of crime I have always specialized in housebreaking."

TWINS FIGURE IN DIVORCE SUIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—Burt and Nat Kendall, nine-year-old twins of Frederick H. Kendall, cashier of the D. O. Mills Estate, and Mrs. Carmelita Kendall, are to be the pawns in a divorce court contest, it was learned today with the filing of the first papers in what promises to be a bitterly contested Superior Court trial.

Attorney John L. McNab has filed a divorce action for Kendall, forestalling, it is said, contemplated action by his wife. Both sides will seek the custody of the two children.

Mrs. Kendall, daughter of the late millionaire, Nathaniel Brittan, had, her attorneys say, planned a suit alleging cruelty against Kendall when his suit, alleging that she had cursed him and deserted him in 1917, was brought into court.

Both parents want the children, and want them both, any attempt at separating them to be opposed by both sides, it was said by the attorneys. Mrs. Kendall is making her home at San Carlos, while Kendall is in San Francisco, where his officers are. Jerome White, Mrs. Kendall's attorney, says there will be no property dispute involved, this issues to be settled out of court. Mrs. Kendall says she will keep the children who are now in the custody of their father. Mrs. Kendall is noted as a darling autoist and is prominent in local and southern society.

STEVE BRODIE IS VICTOR OVER C. COLUMBUS

His support of Christopher Columbus in the argument that the discoverer of America took a greater chance than did Steve Brodie, who jumped off the Brooklyn bridge, was the indirect cause of a lacerated wound on the forehead of John McGinnis, taken from the "drunk" cell in the Sixth street prison to the receiving hospital last night.

McGinnis and James Colville were recovering from a too strenuous celebration of some minor cause of joy in the "drunk" cell of the prison but the cooling process had not yet got to the point where they wanted peace and quiet. Colville contended that Steve Brodie had taken the greatest chance in the world's history. McGinnis supported Christopher Columbus for the honor.

"It was some jump that bird Brodie took," said Colville.

"Yes, but if the world had proved to be flat it would have some jump that Christopher would have had to take," contended McGinnis.

"How could anybody jump off the earth, considering the laws of gravity?" Colville came back.

That was too much for McGinnis. Words were inadequate but Colville landed the first blow, according to the jailer, and McGinnis was taken to the hospital for treatment.

PROF. SAM HUME TELLS ART PLANS

The Council of Inter-Allied Arts of California, Bernard Maybeck, chairman, met yesterday at Tait's for luncheon, when Professor Sam Hume made the leading talk upon the aims and plans of the Music and Drama Committee of the University of California, outlining the constructive work already accomplished, and about to be developed, marking a renaissance in the arts on the Pacific Coast, with its heart in the University—a live renaissance, human, creative, art that is of and by and from the people. In his talk he referred to the first creative art form put force in California as the Peace Canticle of Witter Bynner, the poet, now on the faculty of University of California, and the arrangement of another for Easter.

The Artists' Ball, its underlying purpose of bridging the gulf between the people and art expression, was the theme of a general discussion, led by John Barry, Lee Randolph, Bernard Maybeck, Witter Bynner, Potter Garnett and Laura Bride Powers. Plans for the ball were discussed by the painters and sculptors of the colony, who are managing the affairs, as do their confreres of Paris, where real artists' balls are the high lights of the year.

A number of smart set women went over to the luncheon, members of the Court of Jewels and other leading stunts, among them being Mrs. William Thornton White, Mrs. Percy Murdock, Mrs. Walton Norwood Moore, Mrs. Harold Havens, Mrs. Everett Brown.

LASIES TO LECTURE.

Commandant Lasies, deputy of Paris and member of the military mission to Siberia, will lecture in French tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at Alumnae hall, Mills College. The speaker will be introduced by the consul general of France. All interested are welcome.

BIG FOUR TO TAKE HAND IN ORIENT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—Excess ambition on the part of Japan in China is to be curbed by the United States, Great Britain, France and Italy, according to Sir William Meyer, who has served as financial secretary of India for the last thirty-seven years. He arrived here yesterday from Yokahama on the Pacific Mail liner Venezuela. He will spend a few weeks in this city.

The four great nations, according to the visitor, who has been investigating affairs in China and Japan for a month, are destined ultimately to act as the directorate of the league of nations and control the affairs of the world. Sir William insists that the present attitude of Japan toward China is due to the fact that the United States and the allies have been working out a solution of the European situation, but this does not indicate, he says, that the Mikado's country can dominate the entire Chinese and Siberian situation from the powers.

He suggests that the allies, who are also deeply interested in the Far East because of its commercial possibilities, do not propose to have the control of the world's greatest potential market pass into the hands of Japan without protest.

Meyer says England has for some time been preparing for the present emergency by sending a considerable fleet of warships to Chinese waters, and that France and Italy can be depended upon to enter into some arrangement for the protection of American and European commercial interests.

What is Castoria

CASTORIA is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhœa; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. SUITORS PURSUE THIS RICH GIRL

Even the ocean, a fiery volcano and a bulldog can't keep fortune-hunters away from a pretty girl with seventy millions! So says Alice Antoinette de Lamar, fair heiress to seventy millions, 23 years old and pretty. She fled to New York to escape ardent swans whom she heard loved her money more than herself, and sought solitude in Honolulu. Arriving there incognito, she lived in peace for a week. Then the rath of her identity got out and more ardent swains began to get busy. They followed her even to the brink of the crater of Kilauea, the "Fiery Mountain."

So now she's coming back again—a poor little rich girl who can't escape the men. She has booked an early passage for the coast, and may try Oakland in search for a place where no men bother rich unmarried girls who are pretty. She's so sick of men she says!

Miss de Lamar is the daughter of the late Captain J. R. de Lamar, who made a fortune in Colorado mining. She owns a country house at Pembroke, Long Island, from which fortune hunters long since have driven her; stock in many big firms, and several millions in cold cash.

Local friends say she'ss be here soon, but won't tell when—that might attract more men. Maybe—just maybe—she'll be safe in California!

Civil War Women Pay Lincoln Tribute

The Girl and Women Workers of the Civil War observed Lincoln Day with a program at Memorial Hall yesterday afternoon. Among those participating were a number of women who had known Lincoln personally and who spoke of their recollections of him.

The Kings Daughters' Home was the scene of a Lincoln Day celebration yesterday afternoon. Mrs. E. Flynn entertained with piano selection, and Rev. Charles S. Price spoke on the life of Lincoln. Mr. Price also played and sang Scotch ballads. Piano and violin numbers were given by the Misses Helen Martin and Luella and Genevieve Cody.

BETTY JORDAN, INTERLOCUTOR

And Professional Beauty, Likes Dekltone.

Betty Jordan, the queen of female minstrelsy, writes to Mons Doriot that "she has never before hearing of Doriot Dekltone believed it possible to find a preparation for street use that would be indetectable and at the same time give the complexion that finished, velvety, transparent look that is so necessary to real facial beauty." There are hundreds of bleaches and enamels on the market, some of which are positively vicious; nearly all of them can be detected at a glance; it remained for Mons Doriot, the Parisian parfumeur, to perfect one that acts instantly and works for the permanent improvement of the skin and complexion. A great many ladies do not realize until too late that it is always best to preserve a good complexion when they have one. A French proverb says: "Neglect your complexion and your friends will neglect you." If you have allowed your skin to become flabby, lifeless, sallow, or rough and dry, go to Osgood's, 12th and Washington streets, today and ask for the Doriot representatives; they can tell you just what you should do and how to use Doriot Dekltone to improve your skin wonderfully in a few minutes. Dekltone is absolutely harmless as it does not contain any injurious chemicals and it works instantly: no waiting weeks or months for results.—Advertisement.

Proctor Home Adds Piedmont Show Place

With the coming of spring inspiring to fresh trousseaux, with the earth covering itself with new verdure and flowers peeping in everywhere, what wonder is it that in the human heart is born a great desire to leave behind all things that have been and in the world's resurrection, to seek out an adobe as fresh and new as the wardrobe and grass themselves. If ever a new environment is longed for it is in the spring when all the earth seems strange. It is but a few of the chosen who can gratify this wish, but in that favored number this season are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hunt Proctor. The new Proctor residence is completed. The decorations have created a marvelous thing of beauty and one more show place is added to the Piedmont mansions which are making the rim of hills overlooking the bay famous. The Proctors are taking immediate possession of the splendid residence. With the young matron's love for sharing with her friends, it is well within reason to suppose that the new adobe will be opened for some brilliant functions later in the season. For many months the family has occupied the attractive place of Mrs. Frank Lampson Brown in Vernon Heights and adjoining that of Mrs. Brown's daughter, Mrs. William Thornton White.

Miss Elizabeth Adams was among the bevy of girls who yesterday was asked to meet Mrs. Harvey Brown of New York, a bride of a few months, who is spending the late season in California. Miss Lucy Hanchett was the hostess, claiming the dozen or so guests at the Woman's Athletic Club, where so many of the smart affairs are being staged. Miss Hanchett and Mrs. Brown were schoolmates in one of the exclusive finishing seminaries on the Atlantic coast. Those who were included in her invitation to greet the young matron were debutantes of the past two seasons in which number Miss Hanchett and Miss Adams are included.

BERKELEY GIRL LEADS DANCE WITH PERSHING.

It would not take a feminine straw ballot to cover General John Pershing with confusion and to proclaim him America's most popular war hero. Wait until he comes home, and the proclamation will be made. But in the meantime it is a California girl who carried off the honors of the ball at Coblenz where General Pershing himself was a guest, by being invited to lead the merry measure with the gallant soldier. The brilliant ball was given in honor of the occupation of Coblenz by the Americans. Miss Elizabeth Witter was fortunate enough to find herself in her war work at that point, and Miss Witter loving the dance as well as her foreign mission, donned her best gown and went to the ball. It was there that she met General Pershing and of course, Pershing was to lead the dance. What more lovely partner could he desire than the charming Berkeley girl? At any rate that is what happened. Certain it is, that General Pershing has a peculiar friendship for California and the people by the Pacific, where the most tragic incidents in his life were experienced and when a warm-hearted sympathy was given him. Miss Witter has seen the war from an unusual angle, being one of the first of the American women to volunteer for overseas work. She has been invaluable to the allied cause and never faltered even in the most tremendous days when tragedy covered the world.

It is tomorrow night that Isaac F. Marcosson, familiar of Lloyd George, Clemenceau, General Foch, General Pershing, General Haig, Bonar Law and numerous other men whose names are international, will crowd the ivory hall room of Hotel Oakland with students of the war, lovers of literature and disciples of the great. For Marcosson, the "Transatlantic Commuter," with ten overseas tour to his credit during the period of the war, will tell something of what he knows—and he knows a lot. To Joseph R. Knowland has been given the honor of presenting the distinguished writer and lecturer to the Oakland audience. Among those who have been particularly interested in the notable occasion are J. R. Knowland, H. C. Capwell, Dr George C Pardee, Fred M. Hunter, Beverly L. Hodgehead and a long list of prominent men and women.

FETES GIVEN FOR RUTH KELSEY, BRIDE-ELECT.

Miss Ruth Kelsey is having her full share of festivities as a bride-elect, the days preceding the definite making of the wedding plans crowded with compliments which are proclaiming her perhaps the most feted girl of the year. A luncheon with bridge to follow is the pleasure inspired by Miss Kelsey, which Miss Helen Ingram and Miss Anita Ingram are planning for Monday afternoon of the coming week. It is a congenial group of friends which the sisters have included their guest list.

Miss Helen Leete is reaping the reward of her year's hard service in Washington, D. C., where she engaged in active war work, in the round of festivity which that congenial coterie of girls with which she is identified has arranged in her honor. Miss Katherine Gelderman will be a Saturday hostess in Miss Leete's honor, asking a group of Delta Gamma girls to share the hospitality of her Piedmont home. For once cards will be taboo for the intimates have an overpowering desire to talk and tell each other all that has happened during the months of the long separation. Over their thimbles and teacups confidences will be exchanged by Miss Carol Eberts, Miss Mabel Moller, Miss Mary Lipman, Mrs. Charles S. Dodge, Mrs. Wyman Taylor and a number of others.

☼ ☼ ☼

Announcement is made of the marriage of Leonard A. Button and Miss Naomi Harvey, the wedding taking place on Saturday last at the residence of Mr. and Mrs A. E. Flagg in East Oakland. On the return from their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs Button will take possession of an attractive new home in Richmond which has been prepared to receive them. Rev. George W. Phillips read the marriage ceremony in the presence of a little group of intimates. The bride wore a handsome robe of pale blue crepe de chine with overdress of gold embroidered net decorated in pearls. She carried an armful of Cecil Breuner roses. A pretty feature of the service was the singing of the Lohengrin Wedding March by a quartet. Button is connected with the Standard Oil Company at Richmond. Mrs. Button formerly resided in San Diego.

☼ ☼ ☼

The marriage of Miss Esther Peterson and Harry Emeldi was solemnized on Tuesday. After a brief honeymoon the young couple will make their home with the bride's mother. Mrs. Selma Peterson. Emeldi is the son of Mr and Mrs. L. Emeldi.

Note Leads to Arrest for Holdup

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—Information contained in an anonymous note received by the police led to the arrest last night of Cleaver Isnard, 840 Hayes street, who is said to have confessed holding up Gilbert Van Wormer Friday afternoon at Grove and Steiner streets.

Van Wormer, a real estate collector, suspected Charles Grey of the holdup. Grey was arrested When the note was received the police arrested Isnard. Both are being held for investigation.

Girl Escapes After Battle of Hour

BOULDER, Colo., Feb. 13.—After a battle lasting more than an hour, Miss Leda Fye last night escaped unclad from an unidentified assailant. The attack took place when Miss Fye was on her way home from a sorority meeting. The girl, who is prominent in athletics at the University of Colorado, fought her assailant to a standstill, but lost all her clothing in the battle.

MRS. FRANK HUNT PROCTOR, whose beautiful new residence, of which she is taking immediate possession, will be one of the show places in Piedmont.

MOVING TANKS TO OPERATE CAFES

Civilians will be given an opportunity to eat their meals in a military atmosphere as soon as the Yank-Tanks, which are being built by Jo Conners, Oakland resident and former Arizona newspaper man, are completed. These tanks, patterned after the Britannica, only larger, will be used as moving restaurants in the California oilfields.

Discharged service men will man the tanks and instead of machine guns fireless cookers and percolators will be used. The tanks will be supplied from a central point, which will be a restaurant, delicatessen, bakery and grocery store and cigar stand in one. Instead of a regulation ammunition wagon a tin Lizzie truck will carry the food and other supplies to the tanks. By using fireless cookers it will be possible to man the tanks with disabled soldiers without cooking experience, as all work except making the coffee and frying a sandwich or ham an' will be done by a chef at the main supply station.

Former Lieutenant Walter Burgess, recruiting officer in the San Francisco district, will have charge of recruiting the men. A medical examination will be required, but the qualifications will be radically different from those required for entrance into the army. If a man is able to pass a physical examination which would admit him to the army he will also be able to handle a more strenuous job, and will not be eligible for service on the tanks. The minimum pay will be $60 a month and board. The tanks will be ready in a few days and there are still openings for several men. Former Lieutenant Burgess resides at 2601 Grant street, Berkeley.

University Mothers' Club To Give Tea

By GEORGIA G. BORDWELL.

A Valentine Tea on Friday, February 14, will mark the beginning of a new season of work for the University Mothers' Club. This club—like all other clubs—has devoted its entire time of late to local health conditions. Previous to the epidemic it gave most of its time to the care of the boys in khaki, doing many of the little personal things for the comfort of the boys that the army was unable to do.

This tea has been planned as a get-together party to promote social intercourse among the members and to imbibe from one another the enthusiasm which will put the club on a normal working basis once more. It meets on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month. From now on an eminent speaker will be asked each meeting to present to the members some topic of current interest. Mrs. K. G. Easton, president, invites all mothers of University students to be the guests of the club on Friday. The tea will be held at the home of Mrs. Carey Allan Tusch, 2212 Union street, Berkeley, from 3 to 5 p. m.

EAST END CIVIC CENTER RESUMES MEETINGS.

The East End Civic Center having suspended all meetings during the epidemic and the holidays, resumed activities Tuesday afternoon at a meeting at Lockwood School. Mrs C. V. Slattery, president, appointed the following committees

Membership—Mrs. M. Boyle, chairman, Mrs. Edna Clark, Mrs. Pearl Hooper.

Refreshments—Mrs. A. Burds, Mrs. Lucy Barker.

Program—Mrs. A. Busch, Mrs. C. Franck.

Mrs. E. Clark, who resides in Stonehurst, informed the center of the deplorable condition of the school in her district, and asked the co-operation of the center in an attempt to improve it.

The center has reserved two tables for the legislative luncheon next Saturday. The absence of Senator Phelan from Washington at the time of the suffrage vote was discussed—discussed to such effect that if Senator Phelan's re-election rests with the East End Civic Center—he might as well put his senatorial toga away in moth balls.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, February 25. There will be a speaker on Americanization and refreshments will be served. Everybody is welcome.

LUNCHEON FOR MILLS CLUB IS CANCELLED.

The luncheon which had been planned for this month by Miss Mary E. Nicholl, president of the Mills Club of Alameda county, in honor of the executive board and the former presidents will not take place, owing to the death of Mrs. Walter Weir, wife of the nephew of Miss Nicholl.

This is the second sorrow that has come to Miss Nicholl this year; the recent death of a favorite niece, Mrs. Ralph Merritt, caused overwhelming grief in which the Mills Club shared, as both young women had often been guests on various occasions and had made a host of friends among the club members.

The next meeting of the club will be held at Olney Hall, Mills College Campus, March 6. The hostesses will be Mrs. Clarence Wetmore and Miss Janet Haight.

HILL CLUB PRESENTS CHARMING PROGRAM.

In spite of the downpour on Monday twenty members of the Hill Club braved the elements to attend the meeting of the club.

Mrs. Mattie Wanzer, hostess, received the club at the home of her daughter, Mrs Van Britton. The following program, which was attractive enough in itself, took on an added charm within the hospitable home while it stormed outside.

Travelogue on Paris, Miss Alice Shinn; piano solos, (a) Egyptian Dance, (b) "On the Wings of Song," by Mrs. Coxon; reading, (a) "English Lady and Little Boy in Tram Car," (b) "Jane Jones," by Mrs. Lillian Slemmons; piano solo, Spanish Caprice; reading, (a) "Mrs. Casey and Her Neighbors," (b) "Ma and the Aunts"; piano solo (a) "Doll's Dance" (b) "In the Hall of the Mountain King."

A social tea ohur followed the program. The next meeting will be held on Monday, February 17, at the home of Mrs. Richard H. Gray, 730 Kingston avenue.

CLOTHES DRIVE FOR BELGIUM GIVES PROMISE.

The committee in charge of the last drive for clothes for Belgium is gratified at the response of the women of Oakland—for it is the women who ransack the wardrobe—both their own and their husbands'—and see that the clothes are sent to headquarters. Mrs. Francis Musser, in charge, emphasizes the fact that the telephone number at headquarters is Lakeside 4721, and that clothes which cannot be delivered will be called for.

There is only one condition regarding the clothes sent—they must be clean; the committee states that this seems to be well understood, as some very fine warm garments have been donated for the men, the women, and the children of Belgium.

SPEAKERS ANNOUNCED FOR LEGISLATIVE LUNCHEON.

Distinguished speakers—all three—have accepted the invitation of Oakland Center, California Civic League, to speak Saturday at the Legislative luncheon.

Judge Warren Olney will discuss the Industrial Home for Women, Miss Gail Laughlin, the community property bill, and Dr. Edwin Snyder, commissioner of vocational education, will present convincing arguments for the proposed increase in the elementary school money.

Reservations may still be had at the office of the Public Welfare League, Dalziel building.

TEACHERS WILL ENTERTAIN MOTHERS.

The teachers of Frick school will, on the afternoon of February 14, entertain the members of the Parent Teacher Association. Mrs. J. George Short, member of the Board of Education, and Mrs. Edward M. Jones, president of Oakland Federation, will be guests of honor. There will be a musical program and refreshments.

The ceremony of presentation of the Capwell War Savings Banner to the winning school has been postponed until tomorrow at 1 p. m.

Cleveland School won the banner away from Vocational High this month. Stamps purchased by the children average $3.08 per capita. Mrs. E. M. Jones, president of Oakland Federation, will present the banner. It is the second time Cleveland has won it.

FOOD WILL PREVENT DISEASE

Food is always a better preventive of disease than serums, toxins or other drugs—but be sure the food is pure, clean, nourishing and easily digested.

Shredded Wheat

is the most thoroughly cooked cereal in the world. it is the whole wheat boiled in steam, drawn into filmy, porous shreds and then baked crisp and brown in coal ovens. Epidemics of disease may be traced to under-nourishment. Keep yourself fit by eating foods that fortify you against disease. Serve Shredded Wheat with hot milk or cream and fruits.

MADE AT OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA.

Daily Magazine Page of the Oakland Tribune

From the TRIBUNE TOWER

Dave Perkins engaged a stenographer. She was a good one, too. But her age was an office puzzle. She might have been 25 and she might have been 35. Anyway, she was "some chicken."

One quiet day the wires got to working and suddenly Perkins remembered that in a previous need he had engaged this same stenographer. He looked up her records. Five years ago she had been 28. He gave her a registration blank. She was no longer 28. She was 21. Golden curls, ruby lips, sport clothes, you know.

However, in righteous wrath, she was brought before the bar of masculine justice. She did not hang her head.

"Suppose I had told the truth," she charged, "would I have got the job? Not with men liking chickens.' I've learned to be a 'chicken' and a youthful one, and you couldn't tell the difference."

And Perkins is wondering how much more youthful that good stenographer may become. Anyway, he won't ask another stenographer her age.

STAATS DOESN'T LIKE HIS NEW JOB NOW!

Redmond C. Staats, new supervisor, isn't so sure he likes his job now—he's got a mild attack of writers' cramp.

When he appeared at his first meeting he found on his desk a pile, nearly a foot high, of vouchers, claims, bills and orders to be signed, these having accumulated for several days. Industriously he signed his name. When half through the pile he paused for breath.

"Gee," he remarked, "if the supervisors are paid for their clerical work they're underpaid." He's going to get a rubber signature stamp, like the older and wiser supervisors before he comes to the next meeting.

ONE YEAR AGO.

And, already, western front is meaning, again, that part of the house which faces the sun.

And, again, the "western front" may mean the crust, the make-up, or the get-up that is ours on the coast.

Gold was discovered in Australia sixty-eight years ago yesterday.

BEDTIME STORY

(By HOWARD R. GARIS)

Once upon a time, when Uncle Wiggily Longears, the bunny rabbit gentleman, was hopping past the house where Mrs. Twistytail, the pig lady, lived, he saw her come out on the front stoop and fan herself with her apron.

"My! That is certainly a queer thing to do on a cold day like this," thought Uncle Wiggily. "I wonder why Mrs. Twistytail is doing that. Guess I'll ask her."

So the bunny went over to where the pig lady stood out in the cold and blustery winter air, fanning herself with her apron, and he called:

"What is the matter, Mrs. Twistytail? has anything happened?"

"Yes," was the answer, "there has. I wish you'd come in and see if you can do anything with those two boys of mine—Curly and Floppy. They each have a little cold in their ears, so I didn't let them go out to play snowballs or slide down hill. And all day long they have been fretting and sputtering around, until I'm so flustered I don't know what I'm doing!"

"You're fanning yourself with your apron," said Uncle Wiggily with a smile. "That's what made me come over."

"Dear me! Was I doing that?" grunted Mrs. Twistytail. "Well, it's no wonder! I'm so kerflummoxed!"

"I'll come in and speak to the piggie boys," said Uncle Wiggily, and, when he saw what a nice lot of toys Curly and Floppy had to play with, even if they did have to stay in the house, the bunny rabbit said:

"Why, I'm ashamed of you boys! You ought to be happy, and not fuss and make your mother all flustered. Why, here's Curly's tin fife. You can blow such jolly tunes on it as never was!"

And the bunny rabbit tooted such a happy little jolly-go-lucky song that Curly and Floppy couldn't help laughing.

"I know lots of little animal children that haven't any toys at all," said Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, do you?" asked Curly. "Then please take one of them my tin fife. I'll feel better than ever if I give away something like that."

"So will I," said Floppy. "Here are a lot of tin soldiers, Uncle Wiggily. I got more than I need for Christmas. Take them to some poor little squirrel boy."

"I will," promised the bunny. "Thank you very much, little piggie boys, for being so kind and thinking of others. I'll put the tin fife and the tin soldiers in my fur overcoat pocket and give them to the first little lonesome boy I meet."

Then, after Uncle Wiggily had stayed a little longer in the Twistytail home, he started back for his hollow stump bungalow, wondering on the way to whom he could give the tin fife and soldiers.

And, all of a sudden, as Uncle Wiggily was hopping along through the woods, out popped the bad old Pipsisewah, worse than ever.

"Sousel Sousel I must have pickled sousel off your ears!" cried the Pipsisewah to Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, please don't bite sousel off my ears!" begged the rabbit gentleman.

"Yes, I shall!" howled the Pip, as I call him for short.

"Will you let me go, and not bite sousel off my ears if I play you a tune on a tin fife?" asked Uncle Wiggily, as he thought of the one in his pocket.

"I don't know. Play a tune and I'll see," said the Pipsisewah, considering like.

So Uncle Wiggily took out the fife and he played as nice a tune as he knew how.

"Nope!" cried the Pipsisewah. "I'll not let you go for that! Sousel I need and sousel I will have. I'm going to bite it off your ears, tooting tin fife or not. Here I come for sousel"

"Oh, you do, eh? Well, we'll see about that!" cried a new voice. "Halt! Company form! 'Tenshion! Fix bayonets! Aim guns! Shoot the Pipsisewah!" and out of Uncle Wiggily's pocket jumped Floppy's tin soldiers. They had suddenly sprung into life by the turned in hue on the snow, as they leaped from the bunny's pocket, and aimed their guns straight at the Pipsisewah just like real soldiers.

"Oh, I'll be good! I'll be good!" cried the Pip. "I won't take any sousel from Uncle Wiggily! Don't shoot me!" And away he ran as fast as he could go. He was afraid of the tin soldiers.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed their captain. "Forward, march! Into Uncle Wiggily's pocket!" Then they all jumped back again, and snuggled down, and the bunny took them, and the tin fife, to a poor little squirrel boy who liked them very much. So this teaches us that soldiers are very good, and if the rice pudding doesn't wake up in the middle of the night and bite a raisin, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Mr. Pine.

Three-Minute Journeys

Where Villages Have One Guest-Chamber Which Sometimes Is Shade of a Tree

In the country we call "the Holy Land" there is much poverty and many hardships of life, despite the very low cost of living and the equable climate. But there exists among the people, even those who are very poor, a spirit of hospitality that must be satisfied. To fulfill this spirit is sometimes difficult, but the villages peopled by poor farmers solve their problem by having a guest chamber in common.

Each village has an upper room to which the men of the village repair in the evening or spend all day when they have nothing else with which to busy or to amuse themselves. They are very sociable and they love to gossip about the latest happenings. As there are no newspapers to be had they gather their information from visitors to the village. This is another reason for that guest chamber.

All the village combines to hire a servant to attend the guest chamber. But there is no food in store. So the guests must be fed and made happy the villagers take turns supplying the necessary dinner. To apportion the expense among the villagers justly the guest chamber attendant has three wooden bows on which are strung the names of all the men of the village. The name first in order is that of the man whose turn is next.

The reason for three bows and three sets of names is because the sort of meal served a guest depends upon his station in life. If a common man happens along fried eggs, bread and olives will do for him. A more important person receives a pair of roast chickens. A sheik or a large company of men are regaled with a lamb or a kid. To make the costs of these different kinds fall equally upon all in turn there are those three bows—one to represent each class of meal, which each villager provides in his turn. When a man fulfills his obligation the paper bearing his name is torn off and cast away. When all the slips are gone a new set is supplied and all the names written again.

The appearance of a guest in a village is the signal for the young men to run and help the guests dismount and care for their animals in the stable which is below the guest chamber. Others hasten to spread mats and rugs on the floor and mattresses around the walls. Many of the older men of the village now appear and join the company. They make things pleasant throughout dinner and sometimes remain with the guests as company during the night. With the dawn the guests usually go on their way again.

In poorer villages or in summer in most towns the guest chamber is the shade of a large tree, which is much pleasanter than the stifling hot upper room.

When a man is traveling with his family he doesn't go to the guest chamber, for no women are entertained there. He waits around the streets until some man invites him to spend the night with his family. This is the same custom today that existed hundreds of years ago, and is to be found recorded in the story of the Levite of old in the 19th to the 21st verses of the 19th chapter of Judges.

THE SHOULDER STRAP RETURNS

Silver Ribbon Straps Are Used on This Rose Taffeta Gown

Straps of Black Are the Distinctive Touch on This Black and Gold Gown

The Very Newest Evening Gowns Are Now Sleeveless Once More

BY ANNETTE BRADSHAW.

The passing of the sleeve is noticed in evening gowns which have been designed since the "Dawn of Peace."

These gowns are designed without sleeves and with shoulder straps, usually jeweled, or made of silver or gold ribbon.

A picturesque example of the ribbon shoulder strap is found in the model of rose taffeta with straps of silver ribbon. The bodice consists of a snug-fitting, rather long-waisted basque, that outlines the curve of the figure in easy folds. This basque runs snugly around the figure, reaching quite to the arms, so as to give a square decolletage.

The narrow underskirt of this gown is made of rose taffeta.

A surplice bodice of charmeuse is bloused over a snug camisole of black and gold brocade. Several folds of cloth of gold surmount this brocade, and outline the square net.

The graceful skirt of black charmeuse is suspended from a yoke of black and gold brocade. The line of this skirt is very lovely. One side of the front overlaps the other. The goods is cut on the bias in the front.

Kitchen Economies

by Isobel Brands of the Applecroft Experiment Station

In a restaurant the other day I saw a man order a portion of baked fish. It looked delicious when served, faintly brown, tender and juicy. And I almost rose to protest when I heard him demand some catsup, and then literally drench the fish in waves and waves of tomato catsup. I'm fairly sure that by the time the fish had absorbed the catsup that there wasn't much of a fish flavor left in it. The man might just as well have ordered toast and tomatoes or rice and catsup for all that he got out of that fish dish.

The extravagant use of seasonings at table is a typical American habit. Who hasn't seen men in public dining places automatically reach for the salt and pepper and liberally season a dish even before they had tasted it?

We have the habit, too, of adding all kinds of liquid seasonings to food at the table. I have seen the flavor of good beef or vegetable soups destroyed by a liberal dose of catsup, Worcestershire or some other sauce dashed into it at table by one who loved hot seasoning not wisely but too well. Beans, meats, vegetables, soups are all chronically spoiled at table by some one who has the table seasoning habit.

USE SEASONINGS DELICATELY.

There are several objections to this practice which are quite obvious. The natural flavor of the dish is invariably spoiled by the too liberal addition of flavorings. Moreover, seasonings are supposed to be added during the cooking process.

If seasonings are cooked with the food a very little will go a long way. We know that a too-liberal use of seasonings is absolutely unwholesome—especially the hot ones. Also they are expensive, and as elaborate or unusual seasonings are more or less of a luxury we can very easily make the sacrifice of dispensing with fancy seasonings at table, and, incidentally, thereby help our digestions considerably.

The best and most wholesome seasoning is the natural flavor of the food itself. When you buy vegetables or meat you make your preference usually because of your preference for a particular flavor. If we use correct cooking methods the flavor of the food develops during cooking, and we should try to preserve that flavor up to the time of serving. Seasonings should be made very carfully, and should be delicate—never pronounced. If you can taste the seasoning sauce or dry seasoning in a food more than you can taste the flavor of the food itself you've overseasoned it.

NATURAL FLAVOR BEST.

The Chinese are probably the most skillful of all foreign cooks in the handling of seasoning. All their seasonings are exceedingly strong, and so only an infinitesimal quantity is used in flavoring foods. One never notices the flavor or sauce that surrounds the Chinese dishes—the flavor of the natural food in the dish predominates.

For example, soy sauce is used in almost all Chinese dishes. This sauce, as we all know, comes from the soya bean, and in itself is very strong both in native flavor and in a certain bitter quality. Sprinkled over food at table in the way we usually flavor foods at table it would spoil any dish. But only a little bit of it isused, and that during the cooking process. It adds a richness and pleasant quality to the dish, but the flavor is imperceptible.

The proper time to season food is during the process of cooking. If foods are delicately seasned during cooking, it will help to reduce the habit of over-seasoning at table.

The French, who are considered among the best as well as the most economical cooks, practice their art of seasoning when they cook. True, they compound delicious sauces, but what seasoning is done is done in the kitchen. The consensus of opinion is that the right time to season food is when the food is being prepared for the table, not at the table.

The total cost of food so seasoned is less than that of food seasoned once just before eating. Economy, then, as well as the deliciousness of food, demands in many a home the breaking of old habits and the forming of correct new ones.

Nut Croquettes.

1 cupful of dry breadcrumbs.
Cream sauce.

Mix the nuts and breadcrumbs and add enough cream sauce to make the mixture easy to handle, and form into croquettes. Dip in beaten egg and crumbs and fry in deep fat.

Adele Garrison's New REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

"Who is this?" Robert Saverin asked the question a trifle sharply. He was standing by the mantel in the living room after Katie had cleared away the luncheon we had enjoyed by the fire, and had just picked up a photograph of Lillian Underwood which she had given me once when I begged her for it.

It was a photograph of Lillian as she appeared before her hair had turned gray from grief and worry, and she resorted to rouge and hair dye at Harry Underwood's behest. It showed hair, and her beautiful, clear-cut features as they had appeared in the days that were past.

"Entertain for me!" he said slowly.

When I had first caught sight of it I had felt that here was the real Lillian Underwood, for I had always detested the mask of rouge she had formerly worn. And when she gave me the photograph I kept it always in the place of honor on the mantel.

"That is Mrs. Underwood, my dearest friend," I returned quietly, but my heart was beating wildly with excitement. Lillian had told me of her early romantic adoration for this man who had given her the chance to pursue her art studies, and who, according to her account, hardly knew she existed save as a recipient of his kindness. But his question made me wonder if he might not have admired his little protege in that long ago time.

He studied the picture.

"What was her name before her marriage?" he asked at last.

"Lillian Gale," I replied, and was gratified to see a sudden flush mount to his forehead.

"Lillian Gale!" he repeated slowly, almost dreamily, and then after a moment's pause, "I though I recognized the face, although it is older, more serious than that of the girl I knew years ago."

He studied the picture carefully, then looked up abruptly.

"You say she is a friend of yours? Then I shall have the pleasure of seeing her once more?"

"Oh, yes," I returned, and I could not keep a tremor of excitement out of my voice, "She's coming out here tomorrow, and has asked us if she may entertain for you while you are here."

Into his eyes there flashed the gleam of some strong emotion. His voice was tense as he repeated my words.

"Entertain fore me!" he said slowly. "Surely, she does not remember me after all these years?"

I saw that the man was sincere in his modesty. His voice held real astonishment that his little protege should have kept him in her memory. But I read more than surprise in his voice. Genuine pleasure and something deeper, yet more elusive, echoed in his tones.

"Indeed, she remembers you very well," I said warmly, and I did not feel that I was betraying any confidence of Lillian's in making the assertion. "I have often heard her speak of your kindness to her when she was struggling to become an artist. She says it was your help and encouragement alone that enabled her to realize her ambitions."

Robert Savarin's face is as transparent as that of a child. At my words there crept into it a slow flush, suffusing its paleness.

"And she remembered that all these years!" he said.

I could hardly hear the words they were uttered in so low a tone. I realized that the exclamation was not addressed to me, but to his own inner consciousness, and I waited until he should emerge from the dreamy reverie into which my words had sent him.

When he did come back to himself his words startled me.

"She did realize her ambition then?" he asked.

For a moment I looked at him in amazement. Was it possible that Lillian's long series of professional triumphs, which had made her famous as an illustrator and a coiner of advertising jingles meant nothing to him—that he held the view that work such as hers was only "pot boiling?"

And then the truth flashed upon me. He knew nothing of her triumphs, had never heard of them. His marital tragedy which had dealt the final crushing blow to his delicate nervous organization, already strained by years of struggle with a world slow to comprehend his genius, had occurred before Lillian returned from Paris. And all the years since then had been as one day to Robert Saverin, hidden from the sight of men in his sister's far mhome in the Catskill mountains.

"I don't think she has realized her ambitions," I said slowly. "If you know her you will understand that she could never do that. But she is famous the country over as an illustrator and writer of advertising jingles."

He looked at me for a moment as if trying to take in the full meaning of my words. Then—

"The dear, plucky child!" he said, and his words were like a caress in their tenderness.

I fairly held my breath while Robert Savarin studied the picture face of Lillian Underwood which he held in his hand. I had told him of the wonderful success she had had in her work, and of the gratitude which was hers to the man who had long ago helped her to realize her ambitions. He had replied with a tender exclamation, "the dear, plucky child!" and the caressing intonation with which he pronounced the words had startled me with its suggestion of long hidden romance.

Could it be that this man so cruelly buffeted by fate had once been attracted by the friend I loved so dearly. I knew that Lillian, with characteristic self-deprecation, believed that the gifted artist who had aided her early ambitions had no thought of her other than as one of the recipients of his many kindly acts. I had shrewdly imagined that the consciousness of this indifference had added to the hurt she experienced in putting away from her the girlish romantic adoration she had felt for the artist in that long ago time.

I don't know exactly what I expected to hear from Robert Savarin's lips when he should have finally finished his inspection of my friend's picture—perhaps an impulsive little confidence concerning his own feeling. But he put back the photograph without comment and, seating himself by the fire, fell into a brown study which I did not venture to break.

When at last he spoke it was with an earnestness that startled me.

"Who is this Mr. Underwood? Does he make her happy?"

"Happy!" The scornful exclamation broke from me without my realizing it. And I didn't know whether to be sorry or glad I had spoken when I saw the look which flashed into the eyes of the man before me. I felt vaguely as if I were rousing from slumber something which would not be easy to put to sleep again.

"If You Don't Wish—"

But there was one point which I decided in an instant—I would not shield Harry Underwood. The truth might be dangerous to the peace of mind of Robert Savarin, but the truth I meant to tell.

The artist himself aided my decision by the words with which he greeted my involuntary exclamation.

"I can see that he has failed to make her life happy," he said slowly. "Would you be breaking any confidence in telling me a little about it? I have a very grave reason for asking."

I waited a long minute before answering, for I was debating how much or how little of Lillian's life story I should relate to the man waiting so eagerly for any particulars concerning her. If Lillian's affairs had not been made the subject of so much unfortunate publicity I should not, of course, have felt free to give Robert Savarin any confidence concerning her. But I knew that when he reentered his old world of art and artists it would only be a question of story, not in the loving light in which I could tell it, but tinged with all the breezy cynicism of the studios.

He broke abruptly into my meditations.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

No Place to Go

The happiest nights
I ever know
Are those when I've
No place to go,
And the missus says
When the day is through:
"Tonight we haven't
A thing to do."

Oh, the joy of it,
And the peace untold
Of sitting 'round
In my slippers old,
With my pipe and book
In my easy chair,
Knowing I needn't
Go anywhere.

Needn't hurry
My evening meal
Nor force the smiles
That I do not feel,
But can grab a book
From a near-by shelf,
And drop all sham
And be myself.

Oh, the charm of it
And the comfort rare;
Nothing on earth
With it can compare;
And I'm sorry for him
Who doesn't know
The joy of having

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded, or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.—Advertisement.

WORSE THAN DEADLY POISON GAS

Kidney disease is no respector of persons. It attacks young and old alike. In most cases the victim is warned of the approaching danger. Nature fights back. Headache, indigestion, insomnia, lame back, lumbago, sciatica, rheumatism, pain in the loins and lower abdomen, difficulty in urinating, all are indication of trouble brewing in your kidneys.

When such symptoms appear you will almost certainly find quick relief in GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules.

This famous old remedy has stood the test for two hundred years in helping mankind to fight off disease.

It is imported direct from the home laboratories in Holland, where it has helped to develop the Dutch into one of the sturdiest and healthiest races in the world, and it may be had at almost every drug store. Your money promptly refunded if it does not relieve you. Be sure to get the genuine GOLD MEDAL Brand. In sealed packages, three sizes.

DUAL FAVORITES IN OPERA PLEASE

By ROY HARRISON DANFORTH.

The perennially opera-hungry bay section would almost willingly accept poor operatic fodder as a rule, but has to do nothing so sacrificial as that in the presence of the San Carlo Company this week at the Curran Theater. Last evening's presentation of the inseparable "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "I Pagliacci," while admitting some slight straying from its better moments, was typical of the comfortable and enjoyable season Fortune Gallo's group is providing.

The dual offering served to present at least three of the company's best artists, including Elizabeth Amsden, new to coast opera-goers, and Manuel Salazar and Angelo Antola, whom they have heard and liked in the past. It just so happens that these are worth distinguishing from the rest of last night's singers because they were so easily head and shoulders atop their companions.

MISS AMSDEN AS SANTUZZA.

Miss Amsden was the Santuzza in "Cavalleria," a part which, if it is not the most satisfactory in the operatic repertoire to a soprano, at least gives her a long enough opportunity for dramatic and vocal expression. Of this chance Miss Amsden took tight hold. Her voice is pleasing throughout its registers, but especially in the intense and sonorous, if not always clear, upper tones, while her histrionism was ever impressive.

Miss Amsden's support included Stella de Mette as Lola, Romeo Boscacci as Turiddu, Alice Homer as Mama Lucia and Rudolfo Fornari as Alfio.

Salazar and Antola split quite evenly the Pagliacci honors; Antola being recalled for a repetition of a nobly sung prologue and Salazar receiving so riotous applause for his "Vesti la Giubba" as to make dodging its repetition out of the question.

MASTER OF EXPRESSION.

Both are lovely voices. Antola's baritone is deep, rotund and warm with a tremendous mezzo voce. He is, moreover, a master in the expressive use of his voice, able to adapt it at every turn to the peculiar impositions of the operatic technique. His prologue was as artistically acted as it was sung. Salazar's compass is satisfactory, his force and expression impressive attributes and his fine tone and emphasis constantly in service. His art seems very considerably to have broadened since, fresh from South America several years ago, his Pinkerton and other characters were already enjoyable in the old Idora Park opera.

Sofia Charlebois, who appeared as Nedda, was a most pleasing person upon whom to look as well as, in many passages, to hear. Middle tones of considerable purity and strength were likable and failed to suffer by the too constant tremolo that seduced her higher notes from a similar beauty. Her playing and appearance—behold a miracle!—composed a Nedda really worth Pagliacci's fighting about.

UNIQUE AUTOS GREATLY ADMIRED

The display of Packard cars is a big attraction at the show. Earl C. Anthony, Incorporated, have designed several unique cars and placed them on exhibit.

There is a two-passenger Packard that appeals to those who want an exclusive car, smooth-running, and is easily handled. The greatest feature after the display of the Packard models is the Liberty motor built in the Packard plant.

An expert is on hand to explain the features of this aeroplane power plant and there is always a crowd around the exhibit.

"We have tried this year to make our exhibit of Packard and Reo cars appeal to the lawyers of automobiles and not to the cranks who merely want to see something out of the ordinary in the show," says Earle C. Anthony, head of the firm, who is in San Francisco for the week.

"We have not piled our space full of cars without regard for their beauty. We have made the exhibit as pleasing as possible and there is enough room left so that the visitor can see the lines of the car without craning his or her neck.

"The Reo display includes most of the Reo models and several have already been sold as a direct result of the show."

ISAAC F. MARCOSSON SPEAKS AT HOTEL.

No living American writer is so well equipped to speak of the vast problems of peace and reconstruction as Isaac F. Marcosson, whose lecture on "The War—And After" at the Hotel Oakland ballroom Friday evening, February 14, is arousing so much interest. Although he saw all six allied armies in the field—a very rare experience—he made at the same time a remarkable study of economic conditions which took him to every neutral country in Europe and to all the belligerent lands except the far east. He was the first man to predict "The War After the War" and is the author of the well known book of that title.

Marcosson's knowledge of business conditions gained at first hand during his almost ceaseless war time traveling is of supreme value and importance to the United States as she faces the task of readjustment. Just as he met all the allied generals and premiers, so has he had much contact with all the great European leaders of capital and commerce.

Marcosson's acquaintance with big business in the United States is no less complete. For years he has been, as readers of the Saturday Evening Post know, the most brilliant interpreter of the romance of trade and finance. His writings about Wall street won him the confidence of men like Harriman, Archbold and Ryan.

"I WANT TO FORGET" IS BROADWAY FEATURE.

Evelyn Nesbit will appear on the Broadway screen today and tomorrow in the William Fox production, "I Want to Forget," a drama with a marital background, intrigue and resultant thrills. On the same program will be seen Tom Mix in "A Roman Cowboy," a comedy-drama equally divided by suspense and laughs. Other attractions, incidental to the two big screen features, are on the bill.

"I Want to Forget," shows Evelyn Nesbit in the role of a social butterfly, whom war redeems. At the call of war she throws aside her frocks and jewels and enters the secret section until the end.

In the cast of "I Want to Forget" is Russell Thaw, the star's little son. The production as a whole is up to the standard demanded by the producer, William Fox. Tom Mix in "A Roman Cowboy," has another of his thrilling and amusing roles and the portrayal will win him a host of additional admirers.

This Program will be seen for the last time tomorrow. Saturday, William Russell will be seen in "Hobbs in a Hurry" and "Fatty" Arbuckle will amuse in a comedy. Additional attractionstractions on the same program include a war review showing recent events on the west front.

Sunday Tom Mix will reappear in "Treat 'Em Rough" and an all-star comedy production, "Wild Oats" will be shown on the same bill.

Plays & Players

T. & D. OFFERS NOTABLE PROGRAM.

Another program of double features is being presented at the Oakland T. & D. on the Wednesday to Saturday schedule. Priscilla Dean in "The Wildcat of Paris" is at her best. The other photoplay at the T. & D. discloses Gail Kane and an all star cast in a gripping story, entitled "When Men Betray." It brings forth the eternal question "when a man proves untrue should his wife emulate his example by sinning also?" It is a picture that has a particular appeal to women.

Clarence Reynolds in observance of Lincoln's birthday, is rendering Victor Herbert's "Fantasie of American Airs," on the mammoth organ. The army and navy trio of singers, young patriots recently discharged from the service, is a splendid singing act and literally stop the performance every afternoon and evening. Marcelli's orchestra gives a delightful concert nightly.

Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Signor Marcelli and his 65 instrumentalists will offer the third of the T. & D.'s grand orchestra concerts at regular T. & D. prices. Following is the program arranged by Manager Perry and Marcelli: Organ number by Clarence Reynolds; selection from the "Fra Diavolo" (Ober); "Love's Dream After the Ball" (Czibulka); two movements from the ballet, "Sylvia" (Delibes) and "March Slav" (Tschaikowsky) by Marcelli and his concert orchestra.

"THE DUMMY" PROVES MECCA FOR PLAY-GOERS.

"The Dummy" is proving to be at the Fulton playhouse all claimed for it—a wonderfully vivid play full of surprises and fun, and with all the pep in it that makes theater crowds sit to the last moment in keen suspense.

"The Dummy" is a boy detective, taken on by the Babbing detective agency in New York. Paul Harvey is Mr. Babbing. He takes Master Connie Fredericks, who is known in the play as "the dummy," because he pretends to be deaf and dumb, while "planted" in the headquarters of a gang of kidnapers and with that lad as a "plant," the big detective unravels a complex knot and foils the kidnapers aforesaid.

There are enough stars in that Fulton organization to make any play look good, for when Paul Harvey and Will Lloyd and Frank Darien and Eleanor Parker and Frank Wallace and High Knox and Merle Stanton and Lucile Webster sparkle in a play there is certain to be plenty of sparkle.

The two tiny kids in the play—Connie Fredericks and Carrie Ellsworth—absorb a big share of the spotlight honors, and the actors seemed pleased to have it so, while the crowds is "tickled to death."

MUSICAL COMEDY IS SEEN AT MACDONOUGH.

"Caught in a Harem," a side-splitting farce comedy set to rattling good music is the initial selection of the Earl Caldwell musical comedy players for their indefinite engagement at the Macdonough theater under the management of John J. MacArthur, proprietor of Ye Liberty playhouse, and Al Graff. The opening piece is said to be one of the most fetchable musical comedies written in many years and has never been seen in Oakland.

The Caldwell players have never played Oakland as an organization, having come direct from the east, but many members in the cast are well known to local theater-goers. Edward Wright, former star the Keystone players, will be chief comedian with the players and Jack Sheehan, formerly of Ye Liberty players, will attend to the character comedy roles. Anna Clark, who was starred with Kolb and Dill in character parts for many seasons, will play feminine characters.

For prima donna roles, Earl Caldwell, manager of the company, has chosen Eunice Gilman, who has been starred in a host of road attractions during the past few years. Marjory Shaw will have the ingenue roles.

In addition to producing the numbers and directing the dance offerings of the California girls, twelve in number, Caldwell will portray juvenile roles.

FRENCH ARMY AND TO PLAY IN OAKLAND.

The French army band veterans, hero musicians under Captain Fernand Poilan, will visit this city on Thursday, February 27, and will appear for one concert at the Oakland Civic Auditorium. They are now making an extended tour of America to further strengthen the "entente cordiale" of France and America.

Most of the band members have been actively engaged at the front in many battles. Most of them wear the chevrons of the wounded. More than half of them march with sore hearts, remembering interned families, children taken from them, imprisonment, agony, struggle. Now they are here on leave of absence to play for us our own Star-Spangled Banner, and their Marseillaise.

"Sombre at Meuse," which is the French Poilu's battle song as he goes into action, will be played. They come from the front to America to play in behalf of their wounded comrades in France, their foyer du soldat. For the past two years they have proved their worth in the trenches, as they proved it as artists long ago when they won first prizes—every man of them—at the Paris Conservatoire.

ORPHEUM PREPARES FOR "WHITE COUPONS."

"White Coupons," the latest creation of the celebrated actress and producer, Emily Ann Wellman, a new style of play startling in its originality and in the sensational manner of handling, vies for headline honors next week at the Oakland Orpheum with Rae Samuels, "The Blue Streak of Vaudeville."

With these two great star features comes a standard bill of Orpheum attractions, including John Robinson's military elephants; ten tons of acute animal intelligence in the most remarkable spectacle ever put on a vaudeville stage, the famous "Four Harmony Kings," Hector, the calculating canine; the Ramsdells and Deyo, and the noted Lunette sisters in a Parisian novelty.

Emily Ann Wellmann, priestess of the unusual in drama, has outdone all her former creations in "White Coupons," a dramatic tale of Broadway and the white lights, and a surprise featuring Barnett Greenwood, the celebrated American actor. Of Rae Samuels little need be said, as she is known throughout America as one of the greatest vaudeville comediennes "Big Time" has ever offered.

This week sees Victor Herbert's spectacular and musical offering, "The Only Girl." Its scintinating music is being whistled on the streets; one hears of its galaxies of pretty girls, its refreshingly original lines and songs, as the first Herbert vaudeville comic opera. Marguerite Farrell, "The Kelly Girl," with her impersonations and songs, ranging from a French soubrette to an American girl, is charming, and Lee Kohlmar and his company in "Two Sweethearts," is there. Cleveland Bronner's $10,000 spectacle, "Dream Fantasies," and the rest of a star bill are pleasing.

HAROLD LOCKWOOD OFFERED AT AMERICAN.

Harold Lockwood in "The Great Romance," a story of stirring adventure in a strange land, and May Allison in "In for Thirty Days," a delightful comedy drama of decidedly original plot, are the film features now being presented at the American theater.

"The Great Romance" is an imaginative tale dealing with the exciting and unusual adventures which befell a young American who suddenly found himself the heir to a small European throne and, incidentally, a world of trouble.

Harold Lockwood as the ruler of the turbulant monarchy gives an immensely pleasing and thoroughly artistic performance and every member of his supporting cast has been happily chosen. The play is swift in action and absorbingly interesting from start to finish. "In For Thirty Days" tells the inexplicable tale of a young millionaire who was "pinched" by a country cop for speeding through a slow rural village, tried and convicted in a country court and sentenced to work 30 days as a kitchen mechanic in the home of a young man of wealth and social prominence.

The present program will be the offering at the American the remainder of this week.

BILL HART IN KINEMA OFFERING.

Tired of canned harmony in Arizona, big Bill Hart hits the trail for New York and the brilliant cabarets in "Branding Broadway," at the Kinema this week.

Papa could manage railroads but he couldn't handle his high stepping son, so Bill Hart takes the job. Dress clothes don't look well with a sombrero, but Hart's old punch comes in handy on the great white way.

Sonny wanted to marry a kitchen queen, and writes love letters while big Bill wears a hard shirt, and it takes the husky westerner through a wild chase to recover the notes. He hog-ties everything in sight.

On the same program, "Perfectly Fiendish Flanagan," a Montgomery Flagg comedy satire on "The Hart of the Dreadful West," as shown with a Caumont Weekly, Burton Holmes travelogue, and the latest news topics.

PANTAGES THEATER OFFERS BIG BILL.

Crowded houses this week at Pantages, attest to the popularity of the bill, which has a varied list of attractions, the place of honor on the program going to Porter J. White, who, in a thrilling one act playlet, covers himself with glory. In "The Visitor," which revolves around a man suspected of murder, there is an abundance of drama, and White's abilities as an actor are given full scope.

At every performance Neal Abel, called "The man with the mobile face," brings down the house with his immitable darkey stories which he tells in delightful fashion.

Many local people will remember the model for the figures for the Panama-Pacific exposition, the beautiful Miss Mabel Perry, who gives one of the most attractive acts on the week's program, "The Calendar Girl."

Belle Oliver supplies comedy with her funny songs and her cheerful way of putting them over, and first class music is offered by "The Celestial Duo," a native Filipino, who is a gifted musician, and an Italian. More comedy is shown in Hill's Comedy Circus, where exhibitions are given of the intelligence of a rare collection of monkeys, dogs, mules and ponies, who do some side-splitting tricks and antics.

"COUNTRY COUSIN" TO COME TO LIBERTY.

"The Country Cousin" coming to Ye Liberty playhouse for a two days run with a special matinee, starting Monday evening, is a smart satire on New York society and not a rural play as the name might indicate. Alexandra Carlisle, who portrays the leading title role, is among the most beautiful and foremost actresses of the English-speaking stage and is as popular in her native England as she is in this country, where she has played for the past nine years.

The authors of the play, Booth Tarkington and Julian Street, have devised a most striking contrast of types in "The Country Cousin" and at the same time have unfolded a delightful story teeming with romance and with several dramatic climaxes. The play is the one which, during its long run at the Gaiety theater in New York, was so highly endorsed by the late Colonal Roosevelt and which later resulted in an enthusiastic letter of approval from President Wilson to Miss Carlisle.

Miss Carlisle is under the management of Klaw and Erlanger and George C. Taylor. The play will open on Monday evening and will close on Tuesday evening. There will be a special matinee on Tuesday afternoon. Supporting Miss Carlisle in "The Country Cousin" is a strong and capable company, the same that appeared in the New York production, including Alfred Lunt, Genevieve Tobin, Grace Hampton, Julia Stuart, Helen Holcomb, Jack Crosby, Phil Heege and others.

JACK BARRYMORE STAR AT FRANKLIN.

Jack Barrymore is in love with the prettiest girl in the world, but he takes a chance on the veiled lady in "Here Comes the Bride," at the Franklin, Wednesday until Saturday.

Would he marry a South American heiress for $100,000? He'd marry a South American armadillo for that amount. But he felt like dropping dead when the wedding march is played and the veiled lady takes his hand.

He wants the money and he wants the girl. Jack Barrymore solves the problem.

On the same program is a Vitagraph comedy. "Traps and Tangles," a Paramount Pictograph and a scenic.

MOTOR TRUCK'S VALUE IS PROVED

"The war proved the motor truck to be an essential—as indispensible to commercial life as the telephone.

"The question, is the motor truck essential to my business, no longer exists; the question now is, what truck is most essential to my buisness?"

This statement is made by A. J. Kleimeyer, Oakland manager of the Pierce-Arrow Pacific Sales Company.

"Intelligent and careful buyers have found in the Pierce-Arrow truck the answer to this question," continued Kleimeyer. "The Pierce-Arrow truck is more than a haulage machine. It is a means for economical transportation.

"Pierce trucks are used in about 150 lines of business, and we have at hand actual instances in practically each of these lines to prove many times over the truth of these statements," said the dealer.

Clubs East of Lake Merritt Are United

A meeting of citizens representing most of the improvement clubs and civic bodies of East Oakland, Dimond, Fruitvale, Fitchburg and Elmhurst was held last night at Lakeside hall, 609 East Twelfth street and plans were made for the organization of one central body to handle all civic matters pertaining to the welfare of that section.

Heretofore each improvement club worked separately for the interest of its own locality and little was accomplished, hence it was decided to combine forces and work for the betterment of the whole community east of Lake Merritt.

It was decided to call the club the "Eastern District Association," and its membership will be open to all residents of the district.

Frank H. Garcia acted as chairman and E. A. Goggin, secretary. At the next meeting election of officers will take place. Among those mentioned for president of the association are J. R. Miller, Judge William J. Hayes, Dan Hanlon and Grant D. Miller.

LABOR TEMPLE, PULPIT SUBJECT

George C. Davis, chairman of the Labor Temple Association, is to address the people of Oakland on labor temple subjects and labor matters in general from the pulpits of Eastbay churches, beginning next Sunday evening, when he will speak in the Fruitvale Christian church. The following Sunday night he will speak in the Plymouth Congregational church here. Other dates are to be arranged, extending through the months of February and March.

The invitation to address the various congregations was extended to Davis at the conclusion of an address made by him before the Ministers' Union of Alameda county last Tuesday afternoon. At that time Davis explained the aims and objects sought by the temple association and requested the co-operation of the ministers in carrying out its building plans.

The clergymen by resolution expressed their appreciation of the address, and referred the proposition to the committee on civic affairs. The report of the committee will be announced at a special meeting of the Ministers' Union to be held Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. building.

Labor temple affairs were discussed at the last meeting of the Central Labor Council, following an address by Davis, and Secretary W. A. Spooner was instructed to issue a call to all unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and the council to meet Sunday, March 9, in the labor headquarters at Eleventh and Washington streets for further consideration of the project. At that time seventy-five representatives are to be chosen, not more than four from any one union, as a committee on labor temple affairs. Out of the personnel of this committee a committee of fifteen is to be selected, not more than two members from any one union, to be known as a board of decision. This board is to be empowered to start proceedings toward securing a labor temple.

Gas Range and Kitchen Heater

This new two-in-one creation is a triumph of stove making, for it combines all the advantages of the gas range and all the conveniences of the kitchen heater in a single unit.

The heater burns wood or coal, which may be ignited by a gas kindling flame. Or it burns gas alone if you prefer. Hot water coils may be installed, which will insure a constant hot water supply while your kitchen is being made warm and comfortable. This range has a six-hole cooking top—two holes for the heater—four holes for gas—made of rust resisting iron, with a perfectly proportioned, efficient quick-baking oven. Enameled oven doors, splashers and drip pans complete the beauty of this ideal combination. Your dealer has it.

PARR LEASE IS DELAYED; HOT TALK OCCURS

Stormy discussion that ended in acrid exchanges between Commissioners W. H. Edwards and Fred Soderberg and Mayor John L. Davie raged today at the meeting of the city council, over the proposed changes in the Parr McCormick lease, designed to abandon portions of the land for shipbuilding and use them for terminal and other facilities. The matter was finally laid over a week, that Soderberg may confer with committes from the Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' Exchange, to which he alleged the Parr McCormick company had misrepresented their applications.

"Small business," stormed the mayor. "Business men come in with a business proposition and then there's a lot of quibbling and foolishness that drives business away. And I understand that Soderberg said he'd run the Parr McCormick company out of business."

"That is not true, you were misinformed," said Soderberg.

"I don't want to hold discussions with you," retorted Davie. "You have arrested development as far as reasoning is concerned. I don't want to get in any foolish arguments."

"We have spent $10,000 a year checking the water front"—Logan Soderberg.

"Aha! That's a hot one," said the mayor. "That's some money. You talk like San Leandro. Great stuff."

DELAY IS FAVORED.

Commissioner P. J. Jackson interposed to state that he would not vote on any changes in the Parr McCormick lease until the Chamber of Commerce committee, represented at the meeting today by W. D. Cole, has passed on it with Edwards. He suggested a week's delay for this purpose.

"Better make it two weeks," suggested Edwards.

"Yes, sure. The old thirty days' delay stuff again!" said the Mayor. "A week's enough."

"You and I perhaps do not reason these things the same," said Edwards.

"Well, I hope no one has ever accused me of reasoning like you," answered the mayor.

After further similar discussion the matter was laid over a week for the chamber reports.

The application of the Parr McCormick organization is for permission under their lease to abandon a portion of "Parcel No. 2," the northern half of their leasehold, as shipbuilding property, and lease it out as supplemental to a terminal site. The question before the council was as to whether this was desirable. The company holds that it would directly aid terminal facilities. The Chamber representatives, headed by Walter D. Cole, said that the chamber was broadly in favor of a comprehensive plan for terminal development rather than leasing in small units for varied types of development, but that he was not prepared to go into the details of the present lease proposal save to suggest that the main desideratum was the fastest terminal development possible on the western water front.

SUGGEST DETAILED PLANS

The Merchants' Exchange, represented by Wilbur Walker, suggested detailed plans and a comprehensive scheme of general development as the end to be attained.

"Do you definitely recommend the granting of permission to make these changes in the lease?" asked Soderberg of Cole.

"We deal only with the broad question of transferring the shipbuilding permit into terminal facilities permits," said Cole.

"The whole matter has been misrepresented to the Chamber of Commerce by the Parr McCormick people," said Soderberg. "What they want is permission to use the rear part of their shipbuilding grant for speculation, as they are doing with the land to the south of this 900 foot site set aside for shipbuilding."

Representatives of the leasing company said that the first $200,000 had been already spent.

"Other cities on the coast," commented Davie, "Pay bonus and give land to big industries and projects like this. And look at us! We quibble and fuss! Want to wait years again before you get a labor? Here we are getting big developments that isn't costing us anything and getting rent into the bargain, while Seattle is laying down good money for less! It's small business—small business!"

GETS $5 FINE FOR SELLING ROTTEN EGGS

"How can you adulterate an egg?"

This is the question propounded in Police Judge Mortimer Smith's court, today by N. Brophy, owner of a free market stall, who was held on a state pure food charge of selling mislabeled and adulterated eggs."

"The eggs were rotten—the analysis shows that—therefore they were adulterated," explained Prosecuting Attorney Fred Donahue.

"Well, I didn't do it!" said the prisoner.

"But you labeled and sold them," said the prosecutor.

"Well—the wholesaler sold them to me for fresh eggs and I paid fresh egg prices," said Brophy. "Don't I get any protection?"

"You don't," opined Judge Smith. "You get a $5 fine. It's hard enough for poor people to pay the high prices they charge for eggs anyhow without getting them rotten into the bargain."

"Better sue your wholesaler—then you'll get protection next time," said the judge. "Or make sure by not buying bargain eggs to sell."

Sugar Bowl Thrown at Woman in Cafe

The police are searching today for a woman who threw a sugar bowl at Mrs. Helen Lewis, 376 Ninth street, while she was sitting in a downtown cafe last night.

Mrs. Lewis, who was treated at the Emergency hospital last night for a badly lacerated nose, told the police that while she was in the cafe a strange woman, sitting at a table nearby, picked up a sugar bowl and threw it at her for no apparent reason. Mrs. Lewis was taken to the emergency hospital by the police, who were notified. During the excitement created by the incident the woman who threw the sugar bowl disappeared.

COUNTY UNABLE TO 'FIRE' WORKER

Refusal on the part of Miss Julia Meyers, assisting purchasing agent for Alameda county, to comply with the demand for her resignation caused more or less consternation among the supervisors today. In fact the principal subject of discussion at today's meeting was the situation thus presented. No decision was reached, and if Miss Meyers is to be "fired" it will not be until Monday.

Miss Meyers is an appointee of former Supervisor Joseph Kelley. It was said when her resignation was demanded that the men who demanded it were acting in the spirit of economy. Supervisors Hamilton, Mullins and Staats constitute the combination that has set about the cutting down of forces in various departments of the county business, and the probabilities are that if Miss Meyers is discharged it will be their votes that determine such action.

Miss Meyers declined to discuss the situation, preferring to let her refusal to accede to the request to resign speak for itself. The supervisors also made no public announcement of their opinion of the situation that confronts them.

Although further curtailments in the county's payroll are announced by Chairman J. F. Mullin of the Board of Supervisors for Monday, the board made no progress in the discussion today. The session of the board as a committee of the whole was consumed in discussion of hospital matters with Harrison H. Robinson and County Architect H. H. Meyers.

The meeting continued for only a short time and was behind closed doors. It was understood that Robinson made recommendations to facilitate the management of the County Hospital pending the construction of the new county institution.

Bids for the excavation and retaining walls at the new hospital will be advertised for next Monday, according to decision made today. The work will cost $75,000 and is estimated to require three months to complete.

Mistake Is Made in Naming Patrolman

Patrolman O. L. White, instead of Patrolman E. C. Summers, is the man "Jimmy" Rohan, prize fight promoter, has preferred charges against in connection with his arrest on a charge of fighting Tuesday night, when he said the policeman struck him. Rohan, when he made the charges yesterday, did not know the name of the officer who struck him, but gave Chief Nedderman a description. Through an error Summers' name had been reported as the arresting officer.

Summers explained that he was home in bed at the time the arrest was made, and inspection of the detail showed that White was the man on the beat. Summers' name was taken from the charges and White's substituted.

The case of Rohan was postponed to February 15 by Police Judge George Samuels this morning. Rohan, according to Patrolman White, ran away after being arrested, but was caught after a 150-yard sprint. Rohan did not appear in court, being represented by Attorney William B. Smith.

Federal Charge Ends With Reprimand

The federal charge against W. J. White, Oakland realty man, 129 Hamilton avenue, was dismissed in San Francisco by U. S. Commissioner Francis Krull today following a charge made by Postal Inspector William McHenry and Carrier H. G. Whitehead, of an assault by White upon the carrier who was on duty at the time. After hearing evidence that the assault grew out of a quarrel which followed the biting of Whitehead by a bulldog, the property of the real estate man, White was reprimanded by the court and given two weeks within which to dispose or make away with the animal.

White was assessed damages to the extent of $15 as the result of a suit brought in justice court by Whitehead.

Prisoner's $50 Suit Disappears in Jail

How could a $50 suit of clothes escape from the city prison, especially the many-colored raiment that was worn into the jail by Manuel Garcia, arrested on a charge of stealing an automobile belonging to Myron Harris, deputy district attorney?

That is the question that is bothering the police and Garcia—mostly Garcia, who had to appear in court this morning in a pair of borrowed overalls.

When Garcia was taken to the city prison he was dressed like the tower of jewels on a gala day, according to the police. His $50 suit was turned over to the jailer so that it would not get soiled while he was awaiting trial. When he asked for it this morning he was told that it could not be found.

Seven Gas Claims Found Too High

Seven claims for power and gas used by the city, and made by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, were rejected before the city council today by City Auditor Fred Le Ballister, on the ground that part of the claims were for current used in the fiscal year of 1917-18, when the rates were less than in the present fiscal year.

"I have instructed the company to return corrections of these claims, which they will do," he reported, "and we will save that money." The sum involved was $392.

Free use of the Auditorium was granted the Labor Temple committee for February 22, the organization planning a celebration and building fund rally for that date.

McAdoo Declines to Join Labor Parade

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13.—William Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury and railroad director, has declined the invitation to lead the big labor parade to be held in Los Angeles on Washington's birthday. Mr. McAdoo explained he came to Southern California solely to rest.

Social Agencies to Urge Health Center

There will be an organization meeting this evening, in the blue room, mezzanine floor, Hotel Oakland, of representatives from all the health and social agencies of Oakland, which are vitally interested in the establishment of a public health center. Miss Annie Florence Brown, who has been devoting months of study to the problem of public health, has called this meeting in order to get the project under way without further delay.

Welfare League to Meet Next Week

The Public Welfare League will hold its annual meeting and election of officers at the Y. W. C. A. building next Thursday night, when a banquet will follow the business of the evening.

Marcosson Will Lecture on War, After Problems

ISAAC F. MARCOSSON

The lecture tomorrow night at the Hotel Oakland of Isaac F. Marcosson, war correspondent, writer and public speaker, promises to be heard by an audience that taxes the capacity of the ball room of that hostelry. Marcosson's familiarity with European affairs, gained in a number of continental trips of which the last has but now been concluded, added to his literary and oratorical ability have already been reported in the west.

Marcosson's theme is to be "The War and After," and he is to give special attention to problems of the reconstruction. The Russian situation, upon which he already has written a book besides many contributions to the Saturday Evening Post and other periodicals, will be an additional theme.

Bolshevism, whether in Russia or America, is a particular aversion of Marcosson which he will not only discuss but regarding which he will offer considerable new data. He has studied Bolshevism not only at its original, but sources along the Neva. He was particularly impressed with the similarity between the Seattle disturbance and Russian events, he declares.

Joseph R. Knowland is to be chairman of Marcosson's local meeting. Its arrangements are being made by a committee which also includes W. W. Chapin, H. C. Capwell, Charles S. Greene, Beverly L. Hodghead, John H. Britton, Charles E. Dunscomb, Warren Gregory, Fred M. Hunter, Dr. George C. Pardee and other Eastbay men.

THIEVES POSE AS POLICE IN ROBBING STORE

An entirely new method of burglary is today being investigated by the police. Two men who said they were police detectives called at the Japanese store, 2426 Telegraph avenue, at 10 o'clock this morning and, showing a star, told the proprietor that they had come to search the place for property that had been stolen at a nearby home. They made a thorough search of the place, opening drawers and looking into every nook and corner. After they left the store $11 in cash and a gold ring were found to be missing. The police were notified and detectives are searching for the men on the meager description that "that one was tall and the other short."

Sues for Recovery of $8 Building Fee

War's efects on the building business were brought into the city council today when W. G. Thornally, a contractor, asked the refund of an $8 building permit fee, on the ground that shutting down on materials during the war made his permit useless. Several other contractors say they will file similar claims if Thornally's is passed. The matter was referred to the city attorney.

L. Moms, who was refused a bail refund by the city council on the ground that he had neglected to ascertain when his hearing on a disturbing the peace charge was to be held, today appealed the decision before the council. City Attorney Hagan reported that the council could not refund his money.

D. W. Griffith's Dramatic Triumph at Kinema Next

If you had just one wish—what would you ask for if the gods decreed that the one thing wanted you could have? You'd want the greatest thing in line of course. But just what is it?

David Wark Griffith considered love, money, power, health and everything that might mean the greatest thing to any number of persons, and then he chose what seemed the greatest to the majority and used that as the theme of this tremendous photoplay.

Lillian Gish and Robert Harron who have played together in Griffith productions are the stars of this film play, supported by a cast of exceptional talent.

A special prologue and tableaux vivants are being arranged for the production. Prices will be 15, 25 and 40 cents.—Advertisement.

OAKLAND MAN IS IN AUTO THEFTS

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13.—Three men were arrested here today, charged with auto thefts in central and southern California. They are:

J. J. McElroy, 22, 314 Glen Park, Oakland.

Virgil May, 22, 3270 Twenty-second street, San Francisco.

Frank Statena, 19, 818 Twenty-seventh street, Sacramento.

Police detectives said the three men confessed they met in Sacramento and stole an automobile in which they went to Bakersfield. On leaving Bakersfield for Los Angeles they were forced to abandon the car three miles from Bakersfield, and "beat their way" to this city.

On arrival here, police say, the trio stole the automobile of P. G. Stevens of Pasadena and in it visited San Bernardino, Highlands and Pasadena.

Detectives said they admitted robbing a garage at Highland of gasoline and accessories.

Mrs. King Still Faces Check Charge

Trial of Mrs. Hazel Vallejo Syler King on a charge of having passed a worthless check on Alexander Kline, a San Francisco jeweler, was postponed today until Saturday by Justice Matthew Brady. Kline asserted the check has not been made good and reiterated his intention to prosecute.

Big Bear Feed Is Promised Elks Now They Are Hunting the Bear

When one has three apples to divide among five persons—make apple sauce. That's the old adage that is the axiomatic C ridic knot of theorem at arithmetic; but—

If one has one bear cub that weighs perhaps seven pounds and isn't as big as a fair sized dog, and wants to give a bear feed for 1000 hungry members of a lodge of Elks (already invited for the feed before the dimensions of the bear were learned) what then?

Soup?

Sausage

Or will the 1000 guests have to be content with a smell instead of a taste? Even 1000 smells might use up that diminutive bear!

All of which is puzzling William Maynard of the Alameda Lodge of Elks. The bear feed has been scheduled. Maynard invited the whole lodge to eat bear steak with him when notified that a bear was on its way for him. But when the bear arrived in a cracker box it was found to be a very, very tiny cub. And the whole lodge is clamoring for bear meat. It's enough to make a bear cub turn over on the platter!

"Grind it up and make sandwiches of it," was the advice of William Higby, secretary of the lodge. But mathematical calculation showed that this wouldn't do the trick.

"Make bear consomme," suggested another.

Maynard heard that Mayor John Davie, in his early career as a butcher, knew how to make liver sausage without liver—and wanted to know if the same formula wouldn't make bear sausage without bear. But the mayor said he never had such a formula—he didn't run that kind of a butcher shop.

Maynard in the meantime is still wondering and pondering on the problem of feeding the Elks with his bear—and has come to the conclusion that it can't be done. At least, he's explaining to the lodge that his friend in Eureka, who sent the bear, "put up a job" on him. He's sent for another bear.

Gonzales Is Cited in Cafe Vice Case

The first of the cafe citations scheduled by Commissioner F. F. Morse was placed before the council today, when Jose Gonzales was cited to appear to defend his license next month. Gonzales is charged in reports to Morse by the police of vilioating the laws governing the conduct of saloons in Oakland and of violating the Federal vice laws. Captain Thorvald Brown and Mrs. Pauline Bird, former policewoman, will be the main witnesses.

Monday, Morse says, he will present citations for the other cafes mentioned in Federal and police charges.

$4,000,000 Paid for Catalina Island

PASADENA, Feb. 13.—William Wrigley Jr., chewing gum magnate, has practically closed negotiations for the purchase of a majority interest in Santa Catalina island, he announced here today. The price is reported to be in excess of $4,000,000. The Banning family, present owners of the island—including the big Catalina sheep ranch and the Banning line steamers, as well as the famed resort—are selling to Wrigley.

WOUNDED MEN WELCOMED HERE

Thirty-eight wounded men and fifty-eight members of the Twentieth Engineers, one of the most famous engineering regiments in the world, arrived at the Oakland mole today and were given a hot breakfast by the members of Oakland chapter of the Red Cross at the hut at the mole. In the engineering outfit were a number of Oakland lads, among them Clarence Johnson of Claremont, Ralph Bacon and E. Koster. All o fthem were glad to be at home, but also were glad to have had their chance in France. The work of the Twentieth was mostly in the Bordeaux region.

This afternoon there was another detachment of casuals and wounded who were given a reception at the Red Cross hut, and were refreshed from their journey by home-cooked viands and "regular" coffee. Of those who arrived this morning fifty-nine came from Newport News, nine from Fort Sill and the rest fom Houston, Tex.

Hair Puller Guilty; Free on Probation

Mrs. Helen Corbett, 517 Chester street, was today placed on probation for six months by Police Judge Samuels, who found her guilty of a charge of battery preferred by Miss Mamie Cordoza, 1429 Morton street, Alameda.

Miss Cordoza complained that when she went to the Chestnut street house to visit Mrs. A. Lundquist, who occupies an apartment there, Mrs. Corbett forcibly ejected her, striking her and pulling her hair.

HERE IS REAL NEWS FOR MEN

Hello, What's this? It looks as if the war is over. Isn't it dandy to see prices going down instead of up, and here is some real good news. In fact it makes a fellow feel like old times are returning.

Cherry's men's store is giving a 10 per cent reduction on all suits and an even greater reduction on overcoats. And best of all, the same liberal credit terms may be had—a small payment down and the balance in easy weekly, semi-monthly or monthly payments, just as suits the convenience.

Better go down tomorrow and see the wonderful values they are offering.

CHILD GETS SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

"California Syrup of Figs" Can't Harm Children and They Love It.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign the little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Advertisement.

SAYS HOT WATER WASHES POISONS FROM THE LIVER

To feel as fine as the proverbial fiddle, we must keep the liver washed clean, almost every morning, to prevent its sponge-like pores from clogging with indigestible material, sour bile and poisonous toxins, says a noted physician.

If you get headaches, it's your liver. If you catch cold easily, it's your liver. If you wake up with a bad taste, furred tongue, nasty breath or stomach becomes rancid, it's your liver. Sallow skin, muddy complexion, watery eyes all denote liver uncleanliness. Your liver is the most important, also the most abused and neglected organ of the body. Few know its function or how to release the dammed-up body waste, bile and toxins.

Every man and woman, sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to wash from the liver and bowels the previous day's undigestible material, the poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Limestone phosphate is inexpensive; any pharmacist will sell you a quarter pound, which is sufficient for a demonstration of how hot water and limestone phosphate cleans, stimulates and freshens the liver, keeping you feeling fit day in and day out.—Advertisement.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES.

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmint (Double strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and ½ little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the Eustachian tubes is reduced. Parmint used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.—Advertisement.

Old Gold, Jewelry and Household Articles of Any Kind Are Asked For

The Red Cross Shop, Dr. Wilder Dwight manager, is making a special appeal this week for old gold, jewelry and household articles of any kind. This is out of courtesy to the commission for relief in Northern France and Belgium, which is making its last drive this week for clothes for the men, women and children of those stricken countries.

A large revenue is derived by the Red Cross from old clothes which are sent into the shop—but this week the manager states that the Red Cross desires to aid the commission and will not ask for clothes.

Mrs. James Dunn and her assistants took charge of the sales department yesterday. Owing to the holiday the usual number of helpers were otherwise engaged, so that yesterday's work fell heavily upon a few. Her assistants were Mrs Harry Knowles, Mrs. Franklin Noah Dewey and Mrs. William Schrock.

Mrs. Harry Knowles was in charge today, and tomorrow Mrs. Charles Youngberg will direct the workers.

SERVICE MEN'S LEAGUE FORMED

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Feb. 13.—With a charter membership of nearly 100 discharged soldiers, sailors and marines, the Kern County Service Men's Association, whose object is to help the soldiers get lands for homes with state and government aid, and to help service men get employment, was organized here last night. A committee of five members was appointed to appear before the state land settlement commission of the California state legislature on February 24 and present the claims of petition of the members for "soldiers' homestead privilege to unoccupied, idle, undeveloped and unreclaimed lands in Kern county, which we are advised are in private control, and we respectfully seek the privilege of selecting a body of land as nearly as may be in compact area and in sufficient area to enable allotment of sixty acres to each applicant, the price and terms to be fixed by the state on a basis that will enable, with intelligent and industrious application, the acquisition of title within a reasonable time and a substantial livelihood from the beginning."

Charles M. Abro, navy man, was elected president, and Durard Bunnell, soldier, secretary-treasurer.

This is said to be the first organization of soldiers and sailors in the world war to ask the cooperation of the state and federal governments in securing lands for homes. The association plans to work on the basis of land settlement proposed by Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, and Dr. Elwood Mead, the state land settlement official, according to a statement by Charles M. Abro, president of the Service Men's Association.

WORK WANTED BY SCHOOLBOYS

An appeal to householders or employers able to use boys in grammar or high schools, for part time work, has been issued by C. N. Shane of the school vocational advisory department, in behalf of a number of youths, many back from army or navy service, who are seeking to work their way through school.

"We have boys," said Shane, "who desire to do chores, who can do work of many kinds, and who, as a rule, ask only room and board for part time work that will permit them to finish their education. I have one boy, 17 years old, just out of the navy, who wants to educate himself. We want some one to give him a part time job, half a day's work, to get him through high school. I think the community owes him that."

Employers desiring to aid boys working their way through school can be placed in touch with the prospects by applying for information at Shane's office, room 1105, eleventh floor of the city hall, or by telephoning Lakeside 4290, local 12.

Tells How to Stop a Bad Cough

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with croup and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This recipe makes a pint of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds.

There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Why Druggists Recommend Swamp-Root

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine.

It is a physician's prescription.

Swamp-Root is a strengthening medicine. It helps the kidneys, liver and bladder do the work nature intended they should do.

Swamp-Root has stood the test of years. It is sold by all druggists on its merit and it should help you. No other kidney medicine has so many friends.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention The Oakland Daily Tribune.—Advertisement.

'CHILD BRIDE' IS TWICE MARRIED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—Elements of mystery were injected today into the romance of Margaret Morris-Whittier, alleged child-bride, whose marriage to Vivian Whittier, proprietor of a hotel at 824 Eddy street, her mother is seeking to annul on the ground that the girl is only 13 years old. At the same time it is revealed that the girl has a previous matrimonial experience. She had been married to a sailor from whom she is now legally separated.

That the girl is 19, and not 13 as Mrs. Morris says; that Mrs. Morris is not her mother; that the girl's real name is Violet Don Miguel, the name under which she was married and that for some hidden reason Mrs. Morris compels the girl to dress in short clothes so as to appear as a child—these are the statements made by the husband today. He has announced his intention of fighting the suit of Mrs. Morris and has engaged an attorney. Whittier says his wife had fully informed him of her previous marriage to a sailor and a consequent annullment of the marriage.

In the meantime Mrs. Morris and the girl-wife have disappeared from their former residence, 1499 Post street. A letter, addressed to Judge Van Nostrand, who married the Whittiers, and purporting to be the confession of the girl-wife, was found there yesterday. It says that Whittier had forced the girl to marry him under a hypnotic spell. Whittier declares the letter was written by Mrs. Morris.

SHIP PROGRAM TO BE PRESENTED

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 13.—Representatives of the shipworkers from Maine to the Great Lakes and the Gulf will present to Vice-President Marshall at a conference in Washington Friday a program upon which, it is said, organized labor has agreed as far as it relates to the shipbuilding industry. This program is embodied in resolutions adopted today at a convention here of the shipbuilding federation of the Atlantic Coast Great Lakes and Gulf, attended by 75 delegates, representing various allied crafts and trades in industry.

The program plans to cancel immediately pending $62,000,000 in contracts with Chinese yards and the $100,000,000 contracts with Japanese yards and build the proposed vessels in American plants and make the great navy and merchant marine as already planned and to make both second to none in the owrld.

Hanrahan Is Chosen President of 'Wets'

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—Following its decision to work in unity with associations of hotel men and others interested in the liquor industry, the California Wet Federation has completed its convention with the election of officers. P. N. Hanrahan of Oakland was elected president; Theodore Gier, treasurer, and D. Knabbe of Oakland, trustee.

Other officers were elected as follows: Vice-president, Peter Delaney of Eureka; secretary, Frank G. Roney of San Francisco; marshal, A. A. Horton of San Francisco; inside guard, August West of Fort Bragg; outside guard, Walter Cianelli of Richmond. Trustees, Theodore Lunsted, Ernest Bohlen and V. L. Orengo of San Francisco, F. Frey of San Rafael, Fred Gunther of Bakersfield, F. E. Gray of Oxnard.

Search Is Asked for Soldier's Wife

Mrs. Mildred Farnham, 26 years old, wife of a soldier in France, has failed to return to her home in Walnut Creek after paying a visit to friends in the Eastbay district, and her family has asked the Oakland police to search for her.

The disappearance of the woman was reported to the police by a naval officer of Mare Island, a friend of the family. He reported that Mrs. Farnham telephoned him Tuesday night that she was on her way home. Her failure to arrive at Walnut Creek yesterday, he said, had alarmed her relatives.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a small bottle of Danderine at any drug store for a few cents, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After several applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.—Advertisement.

Hair Often Ruined by Washing With Soap

Soap should be used very carefully if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months—Advertisement.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

KEEP THE CHILDREN WELL

FRANCE TO FREE LIEUT. GANDINEAU

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13. — Advices are momentarily expected from Washington that will rescind the bonds of Lieutenant Felix Gaudineau of the French army and make him, so far as the United States is concerned, a free man. Unofficial word is that the order for his release is nearly through its course of the federal offices.

Gaudineau was in Germany when the war broke out and escaped by promising never to fight against that country, a promise which he expected to be able to keep because tuberculosis had invalidated him for military service. Unfortunately for him he wrote an article in which he disputed the statement of Foreign Minister Pinchon in the early days of the conflict that France was well prepared for war.

This article, written in Italy, Lieutenant Gaudineau denies having been disloyal. From it, however, he dates his difficulties, which included, after he had removed to the United States in search of health, a demand from France that this country deliver him. What the charge against him was the lieutenant denies knowing, but admits that he feared execution if taken back to France either as a spy, a deserter or a traitor.

That France has, however, relinquished her claim to him, appears in the Washington information at hand. He had been out of custody on $500 bonds, living in San Francisco for the past year.

LINCOLN AND ROOSEVELT AND WILSON PRAISED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Lincoln, Roosevelt and Wilson were glorified by Senator Lewis of Illinois, on the Senate floor yesterday afternoon, apropos of Lincoln's birthday.

"From the United States," he said, "came the example that lifted men to action and inspired nations to immortal deeds.

"The emancipation of the blacks by Lincoln to equality of liberty; the call of Roosevelt for integrity of character in public office, and the cry of Wilson for the end of tyranny and the freedom of mankind, is but the prayer of Lincoln voiced by the patriots of the American people.

"All now march as the conquering crusader over the world gathering converts of kings and slaves—until all the word rejoices in the saving grace God has given mankind, through the words of Lincoln, Roosevelt and Wilson—all speaking the creed of Christ, doing the work of God in the regeneration of man to liberty and brotherhood, in the undying deeds of the imperishable Lincoln."

Woman Takes Change as 'Joke'; Keeps It

H. Brand, a guest of the St. M. hotel, enjoys a good joke, but he fails to appreciate the humor of a strange woman he met in a downtown cafe last night, according to the story he told the police.

Brand was lonely and beguiled by the bright lights and the music he strolled into a downtown cafe. He was attracted by the friendly smile of a pretty woman sitting at a nearby table. He asked her to join him, which she did. After refreshment, for which a $5 bill was given the waiter in payment, the strange woman "jokingly" picked up the change and refused to give it to him.

Brand, who did not quite appreciate the joke, reported the matter to the police, but in the meantime the woman had disappeared.

A GERMAN CREATION.

Constant misrepresentations about the Bolsheviki tend to misunderstanding. There may be some danger that the origin and the headquarters of the Bolsheviki will be temporarily forgotten, and that during such a lapse harmful mistakes will be made.

Let it be remembered, therefore, that the Bolsheviki was born in Germany. It is the creature of such earnest, and we may assume honest, doctrinaires as Marx and Liebknecht. Originally it was not very dangerous. But the Prussian military staff put its criminal scientists to work on it and so developed it that it became a menace to social order and government. Designed in its finished state to serve exclusively the plans of the German high command, it was stripped of morals and all humane impulses. In this form it was set upon the first revolutionary government of Russia to destroy that government and render the Russian people helpless for opposition to the German army.

The thing was supplied with German gold and directed in its early days of activity by German minds. It succeeded, for it put Russia out of the war. It must not be forgotten that the Bolshevik is of German origin and a Hun by instinct and practice. It is still working for Germany and as a destroying element.

When journalists and officials talk of causes of Bolshevism in this country and of removing the "creative causes of Bolshevism" they are pleading Germany's case. They would save the Hun of this last atrocity. But they will not succeed either in culminating the American people or in placing one little spot of whitewash on the Potsdam gang.

The federal government has adopted, though tardily, the right policy in deporting these alien enemies. No punishment could be more painful to them or more reassuring to Americans. They will have no chance to pose as martyrs here and in their home country martyrdom is cheap—among their victims.

A SAINTLY HOHENZOLLERN!

Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm of Germany has talked again. And as usual the interviewer probably experienced difficulty in keeping a straight face. The son of the German kaiser makes four contributions to human knowledge.

According to his story, the late King Edward of England was responsible for the war; the crown prince was himself opposed to the war and urged peace when the holocaust was only two months old; he would like to visit America, where, he says, he has friends, and the German people are angry.

The first two statements collaborate with each other. They are designed to represent the chinless son of the Hohenzollern autocrat as a saintly person wearing white wings and playing a harp. With characteristic, though unconscious, exposition of kultur, he elects as scapegoat a man who was dead four years when the war started. Friedrich Wilhelm sticks to the theory that dead men tell no tales, a thought the German army put into action with shocking brutality when it invaded Belgium. Knowing nothing of personal honor and scorning considerations of international honor, he is witless enough to imagine his version of conversations with the late King Edward would be seriously considered by honest men.

So, having told a suffering world who it was who caused the war, it is easy for this deserter from his own army to disclaim any belligerent sentiments. He was always for peace and the innocent policy of commercial development and expansion!

As to his friends in America, the crown prince may be nearer the truth. There are some here who would confess the charge, but they had to show, and still must show, greater mental capacity than the crown prince is capable of in order to keep out of prison.

That the German people are mad there can be no doubt. But their anger and chagrin will be vastly increased when it filters through their understanding that they must pay for the infamies committed by Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm. When they are taxed to pay for the furniture, the table silver, the church service, the household linen and clothing which the crown prince stole and sent to his family or bestowed upon his mistresses their temper may be past composure. Then a friend in America will be welcome indeed to this most miserable example of manhood history has ever mentioned.

THE RESPONSIBILITIES.

"Each nation entering into the agreement for the constitution of the society of nations should be moved by the determination to be willing to renounce its traditional aloofness from other peoples, and willing to employ the national strength outside its own country, both in time of peace as well as under the pressure of war."
—Premier Clemenceau of France.

The Allied peoples of the world will in time appreciate the debt they owe to Premier Clemenceau for frank statements of the practical considerations of all questions of state. Nothing pleases the French prime minister more than to tear off masks of deceit and timidity and dreamy speculations. That is the secret of his success in holding the popular affection of his country, of his ability to reinvigorate the French spirit at the period of the conflict when it was lowest and in gravest danger of utter collapse.

Clemenceau has never deceived the people of France. His retirement from participation in the government years ago was due to the fact that he told the truth too often and too plainly. And when the French people needed a man who could recognize the truth and unfold it they turned to Clemenceau.

Now when the world is wondering what the new society, or league as it was until recently called, of nations will mean to the several national groups of peoples, Clemenceau speaks of the thing that causes the most uneasiness and conjecture—the responsibilities under the new order.

He may be wrong in placing too much emphasis on the point, but when every other statesman of the Ally nations who is occupying an official position in connection with the organization of the society of nations is singing low on the responsibilities and exhibiting a willingness to let the people think they will have nothing but peace pie henceforth, the sharp reminder of the Frenchman is very welcome. It was needed and it should be seriously meditated.

IMPROVEMENT IN FORM.

The German people have now made some progress toward the establishment of a representative government. They have held elections which were apparently "free" in every sense of the word, wherein the privilege of suffrage was available to all citizens of responsible age of both sexes, for the election of delegates to a constitutional convention. These delegates have met and adopted a constitution for the government of what was once the German empire. They have elected a provisional president. They have named other important officials and prescribed other organs of popular government.

So far the situation appears to be fair in form. As to the character of the new Germany little can be said with confidence. Friedrich Ebert, the new president, assumed the governmental responsibilities of the Hohenzollern monarchy when the head of that regime, Kaiser Wilhelm, deserted the government and army and fled to a foreign country. His official conduct has not been very reassuring with reference to the adversaries of Germany in the war. He has undertaken the hopeless task of setting up an alibi for Germany's responsibility in the war, preferring to "bluff it through" to a candid and honest course. This is a sign of inferior moral caliber, but to all appearances is typical of the German collective mind.

But while the new German government does not deserve to be trusted much further than the Potsdam gang was trustworthy, it can be said that improvement has been indicated. The situation is notably better than it was when, in early November, Prince Maximilian of Baden had the stupid insolence formally to assure the United States that a democratic regime already had been established in Germany. The provisional government which President Ebert heads proved adequate to control the backfire of Bolshevism its predecessors perpetrated upon Russia. It is capable of some braggadocio and of attempting to cheat the armistice conditions.

The main thing necessary to the regeneration of the German nation—a new moral conscience—is still lacking. While the substance is rotten or unknown it would be unwise to take courage over change of forms.

A NEGLECTED SUBJECT.

Governor-General Harrison's roseate account of Philippine conditions to reporters who met him on his arrival here via the Panama canal had been substantiated in advance by the news from the islands. He testifies to the fine loyalty of the natives. We know that they enthusiastically passed their Liberty Loan quotas; that they offered to build a destroyer and submarine; that they clamored to fight, and trained a division at Camp Funston, Manila. We also know that, as he says, the islands have been prosperous.

In certain way our Philippine dependency is becoming a most progressive democracy. It bought a $4,000,000 railway in 1917, which Mr. Harrison reports very successful; its Government Bank has assisted in economic progress; free education is within the reach of every child; a war-time curb on liquor has been reported effective; and the governor-general has recently recommended woman suffrage.

Of the dark forebodings of ruin to the work in sanitation, infant welfare, and the control of epidemics current when the "Filipinization" of the insular government was hastened by Mr. Harrison, so little has been heard recently that there is reason to believe that they were exaggerated.—New York Post.

NOTES and COMMENT

An Oakland expert in such things has found that the snake helps out the wheat raiser. Which is interesting, though not mitigating. The human disesteem of reptiles still stands.

* * *

"Sack of tobacco buys an iron cross." It was supposed that prices would come down after the war, but this indicates that they are keeping up. A sack of good tobacco is too much for this commodity.

* * *

"Officials doubt story of shooting of Villa." It does not require an official to be dubious in this direction. Any good healthy imagination will be able to come to the conclusion that this is only another of the regular rumors that are started with the laudable purpose to inspire hope, but which are without base.

* * *

We think and speak of the Turks with more or less contumely, but they are beating the other central powers to action on some of the atrocities committed in their name and which horrified the world. Trial of officials who were primarily guilty has begun at Constantinople. Kelmal Bey is the first one up.

As it has been put, the Regents are debating whether they should select as the new university president a great scholar who is something of an administrator, or a great administrator who is something of a scholar. It is a sort of epigrammatic quandary.

A novelty in strikes is that proposed at Chicago. Strikers are to go out for one day, April 1. It doesn't appear that it is intended for a regular April 1 function, unless it is expected to show Seattle the Chicago sense of humor.

"Hungary asks inquiry into the war." This is from a new angle. It is not that hackneyed query as to who is responsible, but a sort of by-inquiry as to who kept the Hungarians in so long after the jig was up. It seems to be a proper question.

It was foreseen that the governor would find it a job of dimensions to correct the state's expensive habits. There are some prayers going up that he will succeed, but more fears expressed that he will fail.

The state committee of readjustment, which has succeeded to many of the activities of the state council of defense, calls attention to irresponsible efforts for the relief of discharged soldiers, and warns the people not to indorse such enterprises, and returned soldiers to look out for them. SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

Journalistic Amenities — Fresno Republican's brief: "The Sacramento Bee calls on God to help the University of California if its professor of law should ever teach aspiring shoots of jurisprudence 'such idiocy' as that propounded in the Republican—that if the Constitution of the United States should ever be amended so as to establish a monarchy, with Charlie McClatchy as emperor, the supreme court would have no authority to set aside that amendment. In that case, God's keep is already needed, not merely by the University of California, but by every other law school, and for that matter, by every law office and by every court in the country."

Weather language from the Stockton Record: "Spring is sitting rather hard in the lap of winter these freezy mornings, so that the old man doesn't seem to have a chance to take his hat and get out."

A man south of Tehachapi has sued the telephone company for $100,000 damages. It seems he kept count of every connection he didn't make, of every time he didn't get central, and he fixed the damages for each annoyance. It all runs into a pretty bill and will represent quite a lot of money when the damaged party collects it.—Bakersfield Californian.

By good losership and good scoutship "Bill" Taft has survived the period when it was popular to refer to him as "a big piece of cheese."—Chico Enterprise.

Senator Duncan proposes to tax all citizens who fail to vote. Something should be done with indifferent citizens who neglect to vote. Indifference in this matter is inexcusable in a democracy. The man who neglects to discharge this important duty is the slacker of peace times. He is a poor patriot and a poor citizen.—Woodland Mail.

Let no one dismiss lightly the project of securing a slice of the next state highway bond issue for the construction of the national highway from Barstow to Needles, thus carrying it to the Arizona line. Supervisor Riley and Senator King have been named as two members of a delegation to attend a statewide conference to be held in San Francisco soon to formulate plans to be recommended to the legislature, looking to another state highway bond issue in 1920.—San Bernardino Sun.

BUT HIS SOUL GOES MARCHING ON

CARE OF WAR CRIPPLES

Repair of the soldiers disabled in the war, and their restoration to self-support, is the scared duty now confronting the allied nations, according to John Galsworthy, writing in the current issue of the "American Journal of Care for Cripples."

It is a graphic picture of the task drawn by Mr. Galsworthy. "The Angel of Peace," watching the slow folding back of this darkness, will look on an earth of cripples. The field of the world is strewn with half-living men. That loveliness which is the creation of the aesthetic human spirit; that flowering of directed energy which we know as civilization; that manifold and mutual service which we call progress—all stand multilated and faltering. As though, on a pilgrimage to the dreamed-of Mecca, water had failed, and by the wayside countless muffled forms sat waiting for rain, so will the long road of mankind look tomorrow.

"In every township and village of our countries stricken heroes of the war will dwell for the next half century. The figure of Youth must go one-footed, one-armed, blind of an eye, lesioned and stunned, in the home where it once danced. The half of a generation can never again step into the sunlight of full health and the priceless freedom of unharmed limbs.

"So comes the sacred work. For what Youth has done, for what it will yet do before the long gale blows away over sea and sky, shall not Youth be praised forever? Can there be limit to the effort of gratitude? Niggardliness and delay in restoring all of life that can be given back is sin against the human spirit, a smear on the face of honor.

"Love of country, which, like some little secret lamp, glows in every heart, hardly to be seen of our eyes when the world is at peace—love of the old, close things, the sights, sounds, scents we have known from birth; loyal to our fathers' deeds and our fathers' hopes; the clutch and kiss of Motherland—this love sent our soldiers and sailors forth to the long endurance, to the doing of such deeds, and the bearing of so great and evil pain as can never be told. The countries for which they have dared and suffered have now to play their part.

"I have seen those countries—nearly all—and something from each of special charm and wonders lingers yet in memory. Only the son of his country knows the hidden heart of her, but for the eager stranger other lands have faces and voices which tell him odd truths, show him grave beauties.

"France! The country of the long romance! Who can see France and not love her—the land with the mysterious smile, with the clear thoughts and the gay, unconquerable, self-seeing spirit? France, the eternal type of Mother-country—she surely will not fail her sons who serve and suffer. Italy, whom the gods love, and chose, I think, for the land where Beauty should be embalmed forever, so that man might look on it age after age and drink inspiration—she will not forget to fill again the lives of her wounded children with hope and usefulness. And the Little Country, trodden and ravished—none in the world had quite her teeming energy—she will be last of all to let the stricken go down their days drained of strength and interest.

"And all our own far sister lands, having each her special flower of promise; having, all, the clear eyes and adventuring hearts of the young. To their pride of new race it will seem intolerable that their best and bravest should go starved of help and opportunity. Sooner would an Arab's hospitality fail than the freemasonry of the new worlds neglect their maimed heroes! And India, the wonder-land! She, too, will care for her children.

"And this Britain of ours! Shall the work of restoration fail with us? Unthinkable! The draft will be honored, the debt paid, so far as such a debt can be repaid.

"America, too, I know, new as yet to this conflict and the wreckage thereof. Of that great, warm-hearted nation I prophesy deeds of restoration, most eager, most complete of all."

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

Adaptability to Changes One Real Test of the Truly Sane

BY DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D.
(Johns Hopkins University.)

The frontiers of madness and sanity are not easily perceived by an expert. Of course, "twelve men tried and true," those who compose the average jury, know more than experts. If cunning maniacs camouflage their dementia, as they often do, they may be pronounced sane.

If you visit a hospital for the insane and talk to the patients, you will frequently conclude, as novelists, romancers and dramatists used to do, that some greedy, rapacious relative has bribed some unscrupulous persons to incarcerate the healthy-minded victim, to "get him out of the way."

Many crazy persons can convince you easily that they are sane; paranoics, particularly. Yet these victims of dethroned reason may conceal and nurse murderous delusions, which often result in crimes of violence. Indeed, without the elaborate series of tests known to the psychologist, an ordinary, inexperienced, illogical person with a healthy mind, but erroneous judgment, may be mistaken for an insane one.

One of the differences between a sane person and an insane one is the ability to recognize existence, physical reality and facts from sentiments, sympathies, wishes, hopes, hates and fancied ideas.

Another distinction is this: A sane man adjusts himself to unpleasant facts and changing circumstances. An insane one is not adaptable and usually lives in a make-believe world of his own beliefs and hopes.

The degree of sanity and good judgment of any individual is about equal to his swiftness and success in altering his thoughts and actions to meet the changes always at work around and about him.

Mistaken judgments differ from real lunacy in that they are not permanent or wholly unadjustable. The insane persist in their maladjustment and in their inability to fit into their environment. A crazy person thinks and does something in a wrong way, and does not appreciate it. The mistake is a lack of adaptation to the real existence.

A sane person may make a mistake and persist obstinately at it for various lengths of time. In the end or at however great the cost, he will finally understand it was an error.

There are brooding, quiet, inactive, melancholic dements who perform no acts that can be interpreted as absurd. Paranoics, paretics, alcoholic dements and other types of insanity may have such representations.

It becomes the delicate task then to fathom their unsound thoughts in order to know their true status and to be prepared against the day such a false mind bursts forth into action that may do much harm to others.

Until every person knows the difference between a fact and a circumstance; between themselves and the real existence outside of the self; between an actual event and a supposition, a wish, a suspected deed or a fanciful idea, the border lines of sanity and insanity will remain a mystery.

FOUGHT DUEL FROM MOTOR CARS.

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Two men, both wealthy sheep owners, who are said to have had a dispute over their flocks, met the other day on the desert soil of Glendale, Ariz. As they drove toward each other in motor cars they exchanged volleys of shots. One of them, Frank Hoctor of Springerville, Ariz., fell seriously wounded, and the other, J. D. Newman of Flagstaff, Ariz., placed Hoctor in his car and carried him to Glendale, where he gave himself up to the police. He is being held in Phoenix, although no warrant has been issued against him.

MILLIONS FOR NEW ROADS IN STATE URGED

In the hands of a committee appointed for the purpose the collection of data upon which to base a legislative appeal for a state highways bond issue of $20,000,000 to $50,000,000 commenced today. Senator W. B. Johnson of San Mateo heads the committee, which was named yesterday in San Francisco when representatives from every part of the state, interested in the movement, formed a permanent organization.

Boards of supervisors, automobile associations and others were represented among the 200 delegates who gathered at the San Francisco city hall. Their platform includes a bond election, issuance of $20,000,000 for the completion of roads proposed in the previously voted $18,000,000 and $15,000,000 bond issues and construction of other highways the legislature may find feasible.

FIRST ON LIST.

The delegates will insist that the following roads proposed in other bond issues, be completed, no matter what else is done

Description—	Miles.	Est. Cost.
Barstow to Needles	180	$ 360,000
Oxnard to San Juan Capistrano	78	4,000,000
Barstow to Mojave	75	150,000
Santa Maria to Bakersfield	75	1,000,000
San Francisco to Santa Cruz	60	2,471,600
Rio Vista to Fairfield	24	384,000
Auburn to Verdi	96	1,000,000
Tilkah to Tahoe	186	2,700,000
Crescent City to Oregon	20	400,000
Santa Rosa to Shelliville	21	450,000
Big Pine to Oasis	20	200,000
Placerville to Sportsman	11	100,000
Total		$20,000,000

Other roads recommended were Trinity to Humboldt, Pacheco Pass, El Portal to Mariposa, Visalia to Kings City, Chalmee Pass to San Luis Obispo, San Bernardino to Barstow, Antelope Valley to Los Angeles, San Bernardino to Barstow, Antelope Valley to Los Angeles, San Bernardino to Imperial, the estimated total for these being $13,315,000.

The executive committee is also to consider the following suggestions: Oroville to Willows, Feather River Canyon; Chico to Orland, Eureka to Crescent City, Placerville to Jackson, Tahoe to Lakeport, Alto Station to Belvedere, Anderson Valley; Napa to Lakeport, Marysville to Grass Valley, Auburn to Tahoe, Oroville to Quincy, Pescadero to Big Basin, Los Gatos to Santa Cruz, Oakdale to Yosemite and Salinas to Red Bluff.

Beside appointing the executive committee the organization chose Senator Johnson permanent president and M. D. Darlington of the State Highway Commission and H. R. Basford of the State Automobile Association vice-presidents. The committee includes:

Thomas Maxwell, Napa; Margaret McGovern, Richard Welch, Daniel Murphy, Michael Casey, San Francisco; M. B. Johnson and John McBain, San Mateo; James Harvey, Santa Cruz; Fred Schaefer, Yolo; Henry Barker, Northern Hotelmen's Association: C. A. Cook, Southern Hotelmen's Association; Ed Fletcher, San Diego; John S. Mitchell, California Development Board; E. D. Meek, Oroville; T. F. Flaherty, Riverside; Henry Keller, Jonathan Dodge, Ralph Hamlin, Los Angeles; R. L. Riley, San Bernardino; T. Mackeermilk, Rio Vista; Adolph Mack, San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

The following resolutions were among those adopted:

"Resolved, by this conference, representing the varied interests of the state, that the policy heretofore adopted in relation to the construction of highways by the state be affirmed and commended; also

"Resolved, that we recommend and urge the legislature of the state to propose and submit to the people of the state measures that will be adequate to furnish $20,000,000, by which the state highway system already planned may be completed, together with such additional sums as may be demanded by various localities, to be expended in the extension of such system."

CAMP TO GIVE WHIST PARTY.

ALAMEDA, Feb. 13. — The Liberty Camp of Royal Neighbors of America will give a prize whist party at the M. W. A. hall tonight. The committee in charge consists of Jessie Hartley, Amelia Mohr and Mary Thompson.

U. C. JANITORS MAY THROW DOWN BROOMS

Students at the University of California may be forced to wield brooms and mops instead of undergoing their usual methods of physical culture if a threatened strike of college janitors becomes a fact.

Demands for a wage of $4.50 per day instead of the $100 per month now paid have been made to the university authorities by fifty-two members of a recently organized Janitors' Union on the campus. The men declare unless their demands are acceded to by the first of the week they will quit their jobs.

If the demands of the janitors are refused and a strike occurs university authorities declare students may be given an opportunity to develop their muscles in cleaning campus classrooms instead of their usual "gym" instruction.

RAIN LIFTS WATER TABOO FOR GARDENS

Here's glad news for war gardeners! The taboo on water for irrigation purposes is to be lifted by the State Railroad Commission at once. Long before it will be necessary to sprinkle the onion beds and run water down the furrows of the bean patch the restrictions that last year suddenly converted Eastbay gardens into arid wastes will have been removed.

The promise to this effect came this morning from George H. Wilhelm, general manager of the People's Water Company. The company already has been in communication with the Railroad Commission, which levied the taboo last summer at its request, suggesting that the restrictions be lifted.

"We expect such action will be taken at once by the commission," Wilhelm explained. "There remains no longer any reason for the limitations on water for irrigation or domestic use. This was explained to the commission several days ago by the People's Water company. We have all along wanted the restrictions to remain in effect not a moment longer than necessary and took this step on our own initiative. Removal of the ban is merely a formal step, which the commission is expected to take within the next two or three days."

It is chiefly the precipitation of the past month or two that is to be thanked for the relief. The present storm removed all danger of another water famine by filling the reservoirs and underground natural conduits to overflowing. Following an investigation of the water supply promise, President W. E. Creed of the company made this statement Tuesday:

"The present storm has produced a normal run-off and the filling of Lake Chabot and San Pablo lake is now assured. With these reservoirs filled there will be an abundant water supply certain for several years to come, allowing for even an added increase in population to the normal. Storage in these two big lakes will carry over a period of more than three years of very light rainfall. Underground sources have been increased to the extent of about 9,000,000 gallons a day, and the present rains assure a replenishment of this supply."

Following a water-famine which is absolute for a time in certain sections of East Oakland and Elmhurst and proximate in portions of Oakland, the Railroad Commission ordered the discontinuance last summer of water for garden irrigation and reduced the amount to be used in homes. The order came at a moment when the war gardens were making a specially valiant effort to assist the allies in the conflict and greatly reduced their productiveness. Such reduction is not to recur this year.

FLU HITS ROYALTY.

WELLINGTON, N. Z., Feb. 13 — The Dowager-Queen Takibo of the Tongo isles has died of influenza at Tongatahu.

WHARF TOLLS UNCOLLECTED: LE BALLISTER

That the "revenue" listed in dockage and toll entries on the city's books is in reality no revenue at all, because no collections have been made, the entries thus being deceptive, is the charge of City Auditor Fred Le Ballister, who today in a letter filed with the city council suggested that a more accurate way of handling these items be devised.

According to Le Ballister, various charges of the city wharfinger against companies for dockage and tolls have been listed as assets; no collections have ben made; the entries still being in effect unpaid bills due the city, and no penalty charges have been made. The matter was referred to the city attorney.

Le Ballister's letter follows:

"To the Honorable City Council of the City of Oakland.

"Gentlemen: Under Ordinance 1130 N. S., passed January 19, 1917, providing for the payment by vessels and persons of dockage, tolls and wharfage in the harbor of the City of Oakland, fixing and prescribing the rates of such dockage, tolls and wharfage, providing for the payment and collection of such dockage, tolls and wharfage and prescribing penalties for a violation of the provisions hereof, the wharfinger has made various charges for dockage and tolls against the following firms and corporations:

Southern Pacific Co.	$68,636.61
Hogan Lumber Co.	2,427.65
J. K. Wood Lumber Co.	6,312.65
Pacific Fuel and Bldg. Mat. Co.	2,409.40
Western Pacific Co.	399.40
Hunt-Hatch Co.	38 50
	$80,823.01

"The above figures represent dockage and tolls accrued from January 19, 1917, to January 1, 1919, but do not include the penalties provided for in the above mentioned ordinance.

"To date no collections have been made on these accounts. Your attention is called to this matter because of the seriousness of the situation. These accounts are shown on the books of the city as a revenue, but it is deceptive because the money has not been collected and it cannot be depended upon to meet expenditures.

"Respectfully,

"FRED LE BALLISTER,
"Auditor."

Poison Oak on Bob Cat Blinds Curator

Poison oak, brought from the hills in the pelt of a wildcat, has almost blinded G. E. Rowley, curator of the Oakland museum. Rowley, several days ago, received a wildcat carcass from H. D. Snow, who with a party of hunters is collecting museum specimens. He dressed and mounted the hide, and today became afflicted with a severe case of poisoning, affecting his eyes and practically blinding him for the time being.

He has not been outside the museum for days. Physicians say that the wildcat, roaming the hills, carried the infection in its fur, which Rowley, handling and examining closely, gathered. He will be ill several weeks.

Alameda Man Is on Wounded List

ALAMEDA, Feb. 13. — Herbert T. Bryant of Alameda, reported wounded in action in France, in today's despatches, is a member of Alameda lodge of Moose and was an employee of the Oakland post office. He was sent to Camp Lewis by the Alameda draft board. He was employed in an East Oakland branch of the Oakland postal service, but lived in this city with friends. He is single and 27 years old.

CAPTAIN TRUDGETT.

Being the story of a German sea-raider's fifteen-month career of piracy, pillage and destruction as detailed in its commander's diary and log. Brought to America and translated by Captain Robt. D. Trudgett, Alameda.

CAPTAIN NERGER.

CHAPTER 8.

A New Foe to Fight.

Now we proceeded about Australia and to the south of Tasmania and New Zealand, cruising for several weeks in an effort to pick up coal or grain ships bound for Europe and coal ships for South America, but were unable to get a single one. As we found out later the ship from Australia to South America that we were after was stopped. We steered northward thereafter and then again to the eastward and lay for several days off Cook Straits, but failed to sight a vessel.

The wireless in those days did not bring us much news. On April 7 we heard that the United States had declared war upon Germany. It was important news, as well as that other, that Germany was in revolution. But more interesting still was another message which the British admiralty sent from Sydney to the governor at Pago-Pago, Samoa:

"Do you know whether there is a German raider in your waters?" it queried. "If so, send exact description of her, when she was sighted and where."

The day afterward we picked up the answer, from Apia, Samoa. It was evidently unsatisfactory. This message stated that some suspicious light had been observed outside Apia, but that nothing could be made of it.

On May 14 we caught another message from Sydney, sent to a firm in Apia, stating that the American steamer Winslow would proceed from Sydney to land copra there and that supplies which the firm had ordered previously from Sydney would be sent by her. On May 24 we picked up by wireless this message to Gardiner & Co., Apia:

As the seaplane was unable to pick up anything hereabouts I decided to proceed to Sunday island and lie in wait for this steamer, which most likely would sight that island and which, by the aid of the seaplane scouting, I would be able to get.

I anchored on the southeast side of the island. A few years ago there were people living on the island, but they had all migrated. Sunday island is of wholly volcanic origin, with lava beds and high cliffs, and in places is heavily wooded. We anchored there for six days, cleaning and repairing boilers and the like. A portion of the crew and some of the prisoners as well I permitted to use the boats for fishing. They caught a large quantity of fish, some weighing as much as 75 pounds, and these came as a very welcome change in our mess. Where on the island the few persons had lived who now were all gone were several orange, banana and other fruit trees from which we gathered the whole crop and brought it on board for future consumption. Several of our officers went on a hunting expedition inland. They shot three or four goats and found several large rats, for which the island is noted. At first the weather was very good. We lay in a small bay, surrounded by reefs, always prepared to get under way at a moment's notice in case we were surprised by the enemy.

On the sixth day in the little bay the engineer reported to me that two of our boilers still needed repairing. Not repaired, we would be unable to steam more than six knots an hour.

On that very day, in the afternoon, a large vessel was observed approaching us. It had a wireless apparatus, as we could make out, and it could no doubt make us out as well. It would have a greater speed than ours and might betray us if it got away. So I sent the seaplane after the enemy to drop a message bag on board ordering him to steer for the cruiser and not to send any wireless messages or I would shell him. To show him that we meant business the seaplane dropped a bomb across his bow and he at once did as ordered.

At once we hove up anchor and went to meet the ship, which proved to be the Warina, from Auckland to San Francisco, loaded with hides and coral gum and also with 1150 tons of bunker coal. As it commenced to grow dark and started to blow, we kept to sea all night; anchoring in the morning on the north side of the island, where it was more quiet.

We took the vessel alongside and in two days took out the bunker coal, which was very acceptable, as well as 350 jars of water, 40 live sheep and plenty of provisions, as the vessel had been stored for six months. It would have gone on from San Francisco via the Panama canal, loaded again for England, and as the ship's owners knew that provisions were very scarce in England, they desired enough on board to fetch them home again to New Zealand, where the ship belonged.

The sheep were very welcome, as we had had no fresh meat for some time, to say nothing of the fact that the prisoners were increasing in number all of the time and we had to feed them, too. A part of these new prisoners behaved somewhat stubbornly at first, but after a while they grew submissive and obeyed orders without being punished.

In order to fill up our hold again, where the mines and used coal had been, we took most of the valuable cargo on board. Several times we were forced by the bad weather and rolling seas to stop working until it should grow calm again. One night it blew very strong and the anchor chain strained, so in the morning we took the Warina out to sea to sink. The craft was very hard to sink, even after we had bombed her, and we had finally to send her to the bottom with the cannon.

BUT THERE ARE TWO SIDES TO EVERY STORY

The other side of the story, how the Winslow was taken, will be told exclusively in The TRIBUNE soon by her captain, Robt. D. Trudgett of Alameda.

It is just as absorbing, just as thrilling, just as straight-forward a narrative as this, BUT IT IS AMERICAN THROUGH AND THROUGH.

Read, for instance, this excerpt from Captain Trudgett's tale, as just a taste of the delights in store for readers of The TRIBUNE:

"They put two small bombs on the Winslow and two fifty-pound mines in her hold. They blew the bottom out of the schooner, but she was American-built and would not sink. Then they poured gasoline over her sails and set her afire. The gasoline and the sailcloth burned, but the Winslow would not burn. Then they gave her thirty shells in broadside, but the Winslow's sticks would not fall. The Wolf swung around and raked with nine shells more the battered, scorched and shot-torn wreck. Still the Winslow floated . . . . . ."

Next week this tremendously vital story will begin. None who has read "The Wake of the Wolf" will think of missing this thrilling sequel.

NEXT WEEK EXCLUSIVELY IN THE TRIBUNE

SLAIN WIDOW IS LAST SEEN WITH O'NEILL

Connected by the Portland police with the mysterious murder of Mrs. Lulu Duwell, beautiful young widow formerly of San Francisco and Stockton, Cal., and with the strange disappearance of J. D. Fitzpatrick, her sweetheart, Jack O'Neill, ex-convict of California, is the object of international search today.

O'Neill is believed to have escaped to Canada. Mrs. Duwell's body, the throat cut, was found recently in a Portland hotel. O'Neill is alleged by the police to have been the last man seen with the woman. He and she are said to have gone to her room together late at night. The body was found the next morning.

Jealousy is alleged to be the motive for the crime, the police aver. An old love affair between the two in California was renewed when they met here several weeks ago. Diamonds and other jewels which the young widow owned were untouched, although the police believe O'Neill took with him for his escape a large sum of money which the woman had with her when she met death.

Mrs. Duwell's husband died in Stockton eighteen months ago.

Fitzpatrick had been much in the company of Mrs. Duwell until O'Neill showed up in Portland. On the night Mrs. Duwell was killed Fitzpatrick told his partner he was going to visit her at the hotel. He has not been seen since. However, Mrs. Duwell and O'Neill were seen together on the night of her death.

Students to Appear in "Lady of Shalott"

President Aurelia Henry Reinhardt will read Tennyson's "Lady of Shalott" preceding the presentation of Bendall's cantata, "Lady of Shalott" to be given tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in Lisser Hall on Mills campus. The cantata will be rendered by a chorus from the Music Department of the college under the direction of Mrs. Lauretta V. Sweesy.

The Mills sextette will render a group of songs including "A Flower Romance" by Warner; "Little Papoose", Cadman; "Little Girl with the Turned Up Nose", Clark. The members of the sextette are Wilma Wait, Minnie Rennie, Helen Stewart, Mildred Eareley, Oma Winn, Marie Podrasnic.

A contralto solo will be given by Miss Bernice Tutt. The soloists of the cantata are Minnie Rennie, Ruth Chambers, Lotta Harris, Helen Rich, Emily Reese, Helen Stewart, Willie May Spaulding. Mme. Evelyn Henry Stoppani and Miss Grace Cockroft will be the accompanists.

Accuses Wife of Eloping With Doctor

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—Accusing his wife, Clara, of misconduct with Dr. William F. Patterson, Richard Ireland of 913 West 79th street, Los Angeles, today in the superior court here filed a cross complaint to his wife's suit for divorce on charges of desertion. Ireland accuses his wife of eloping with Patterson in May, 1918, and also alleges that they frequently visited Los Angeles hotels together. Ireland denies that he deserted his wife. He says his home is still open to Mrs. Ireland and asks that her suit for divorce be dismissed.

FIVE NEW PLAYERS ARE SOUGHT FOR OAKS BY DEL HOWARD

Two Infielders, Two Pitchers and a Catcher Are Men He Is After

By EDDIE MURPHY

Maybe by the time our big clock, supported by the illumination tower on the roof, is able to tick off the next twenty-four hours, and Alameda County's latest poultry-raiser who makes his home in Piedmont, near the cemetery, is awakened on the Friday morn by the crow of Mr. Rooster, Elmer Del Howard, manager of the Oakland baseball club, may take the witness stand and clear himself of all the charges that he has been doing nothing for the past month but giving all his attention to his ranch at Paso Robles by building fences and raising eatables.

The boss of the Oakland club hopped off a rattler which brought him from his ranch yesterday, and the first thing that he did was to make a visit to baseball headquarters out on Park avenue and have a long chat with J. Cal Ewing while Herbert McFarlin was there to listen to all the good news that he might punch off on his typewriter for press use.

Del admitted that he was building fences and planting eatables, but at the same time he was using all his efforts to build up a regular ball team for the Oakland fans, and he also grew a few more gray hairs reading all the harsh things the fans had to say about him.

Howard is ready to forgive the baseball fans for all the things that they have been saying about him, while he was out of town and if Del is able to announce this evening that he hopes he will, those ones whom Howard is willing to forgive will probably be wishing that they had waited awhile before making themselves heard. The Oakland manager says that he will give the fans the best bit of news that they have heard since the armistice was signed, and that it will be some sad news to some of the ball players now on the Oakland roster who figured that Del intended to let the Oaks look next season as they do today.

Every infielder, pitcher and catcher will have to fight for his job, says Del, as there will soon be a couple of new infielders, pitchers and catchers to make them do so. Here is just what the Oakland boss had to say last night:

"For the past month while I have been at my Paso Robles ranch, I have spent many hours trying to figure how I could secure some new material with which to strengthen that Oak tree which, to some folks, is badly weathered. I have found out that some old and young branches will have to be plucked from it and other ones substituted. I hope to add some of those new branches tomorrow (meaning today).

"I have sent out many wires to eastern club owners while up at the ranch, and a few days ago I received some encouraging telegrams in reply. The men that I have been after and whom I am sure I will get, are all ones that should make the Oaks look a better club than they are at present, and will make some of the boys hustle for their jobs. Give me a few more days and maybe I can give you a good line on how the Oaks will lineup next season."

LOOKS LIKE OUTFIELDERS ARE SURE OF THEIR JOBS.

From the way that Del spoke, it would seem that he has no intentions in making any changes among the outfielders, he being satisfied with the way it shapes up at present. Maybe Del is willing to let that branch of the Oak tree remain as it is for a while and put the worse looking ones in shape first. When Daddy Rohrer was signed a couple of days ago, it was thought that Howard's worries about the backstop were over, with him also having Homer Mitze and Dan Murray to look over at the training camp, but it does not look so now, and if any of those three men were figuring that they had a sure job with the Oaks, they had the wrong hunch, as Del says they must show better than the new man that is coming.

Just what position the two new infielders are being sought for has not been given out by Howard, he wishing to keep it a secret until he is sure he has landed the men. So keep your eyes cast on the sport pages, Mr. Fan, and you are likely to hear some real good news about what the Oaks might be the coming season.

FRESNO BEING CONSIDERED AS PLACE FOR TRAINING.

Fresno is the latest place to be mentioned as a possible training place for the Oaks this spring. Herbert McFarlin gave out the news last night, that the people of that town have made a proposition to Cal Ewing and Del Howard for them to bring the Oaks to the land of raisins and it looked so good that Fresno has gone down in the books as being among the first places that will be given consideration.

Fresno is a fine place to do training, but a short time ago the news came up from the hot belt, that the ball park there had been done away with, so that the real estate men might get a profit by selling it off in lots. The Fresno Sunmaids, the same gang that gave the Cubs a great deal of worry and maybe a few pointers about playing the national game, are ready to play again and would like to have the Oaks there to provide some arguments with them for the fans. In the meantime, Pop Hardie is traveling over the state trying to locate the place that he thinks best for the Oaks to train at.

Stanford Will Be Strong in Pitcher's Box

Coach Evans Has Some Fine Material Lined Up for This Year's Team

By C. M. JENKS.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 13.—Coach Evans has determined that the Cardinal baseball team shall have some good pitchers. With this in mind he has had the entire squad trying out in the gymnasium in hopes of finding some hidden material. The coach declares that at least 80 per cent of a team is in the pitcher's box and he is determined to have 75 per cent of the 80 good.

Gillis, Newlands, Fairchilds and Tuebner are the most likely candidates for the job of pitcher. Of these four, Gillis and Newlands are showing up the best after two weeks of indoor practice. Newlands has never pitched before, but he has worlds of speed and Coach Evans is teaching him the fine points of heaving a baseball. Gillis pitched for the freshmen nine last year. He has a good arm, but will need considerable training before he can take the box against a strong team.

Fairchilds is handicapped by his size. The little pitcher of last years freshmen team has a lot of stuff on the ball, but lacks speed and endurance. He probably will be used as a relief pitcher. Nothing is known of Tuebner as a pitcher. He played stellar ball for the freshmen last year at first base, but this is his first appearance in the box. Coach Evans is determined to have a southpaw on the Cardinal pitching staff and from present appearances Tuebner is the only available man.

YALE MAN CATCHING.

The catching department is being nicely handled by Eundy, a transfer from Yale. He has played on several navy teams, but has never represented a university on a baseball team and is eligible for the California series.

Lilly, Doe, Davis and Kallum of last year's varsity are back and out for places on this year's nine. They all played fine ball last year and will form the nucleus around which Evans will build the coming team. Crowe and Parker o rthe freshment team last year will also be in suits this season.

The team will start regular practice as soon as the present storm clears up. The battery men have been practicing for two weeks in the gymnasium and are ready to commence real work in the open.

Familiar Scenes at Boxing Shows

By BOB SHAND.

There were no fights at the auditorium last night, but if there had been

There would have been some Shades on the program.

Jim would have stood up instead of sitting down. He says he has been standing at Fourteenth and Broadway for five years and has the habit.

Jim Griffin would NOT have refereed.

Cliff Blankenship and Bridegroom Elinn Bryant would have been there concealed behind two smoke screens.

Kid Eddie Parker would have been jammed up at the ring side. (Note—This goes for both of 'em. One is handsomer than the other but we don't know which.)

POLY ENGINEERS TO PLAY.

Baseball prospects at the Polytechnic College of Engineering has assumed definite proportions with the selection of a list of players for the coming season. The Engineers' Society of the college checked the names of the following for places on the aggregation this year: B. Strickland, third base; Fusumu Miyaki, shortstop; Howard Taft, first baser; H. L. Newman, second base; L. Warner, center field; E. R. Calvin, left field; B. A. Carlyon, catcher; N. A. Whitehouse, pitcher, and H. A. Kelty, right field.

A practice game will be played with Concordia next Saturday as the opening event of the training season.

Auditorium Pin Knockers Lose to Hanlon Shipyards

In the first of a series of three bowling games to be played between the Hanlon Shipyard and Auditorium fives, played at the Auditorium alleys last night, the Hanlons came out the winners. The Auditoriums are blaming the defeat to Maxwell, as they figured he would run to his old form of a few years ago by running up the highest score for the team. Maxwell finished with 253, which is better than two other members of the team did, but he should have done better, say his teammates. Gillette and Jakobs were the high scorers for Hanlons. A return game will be played tomorrow night at the Maryland alleys. Scores:

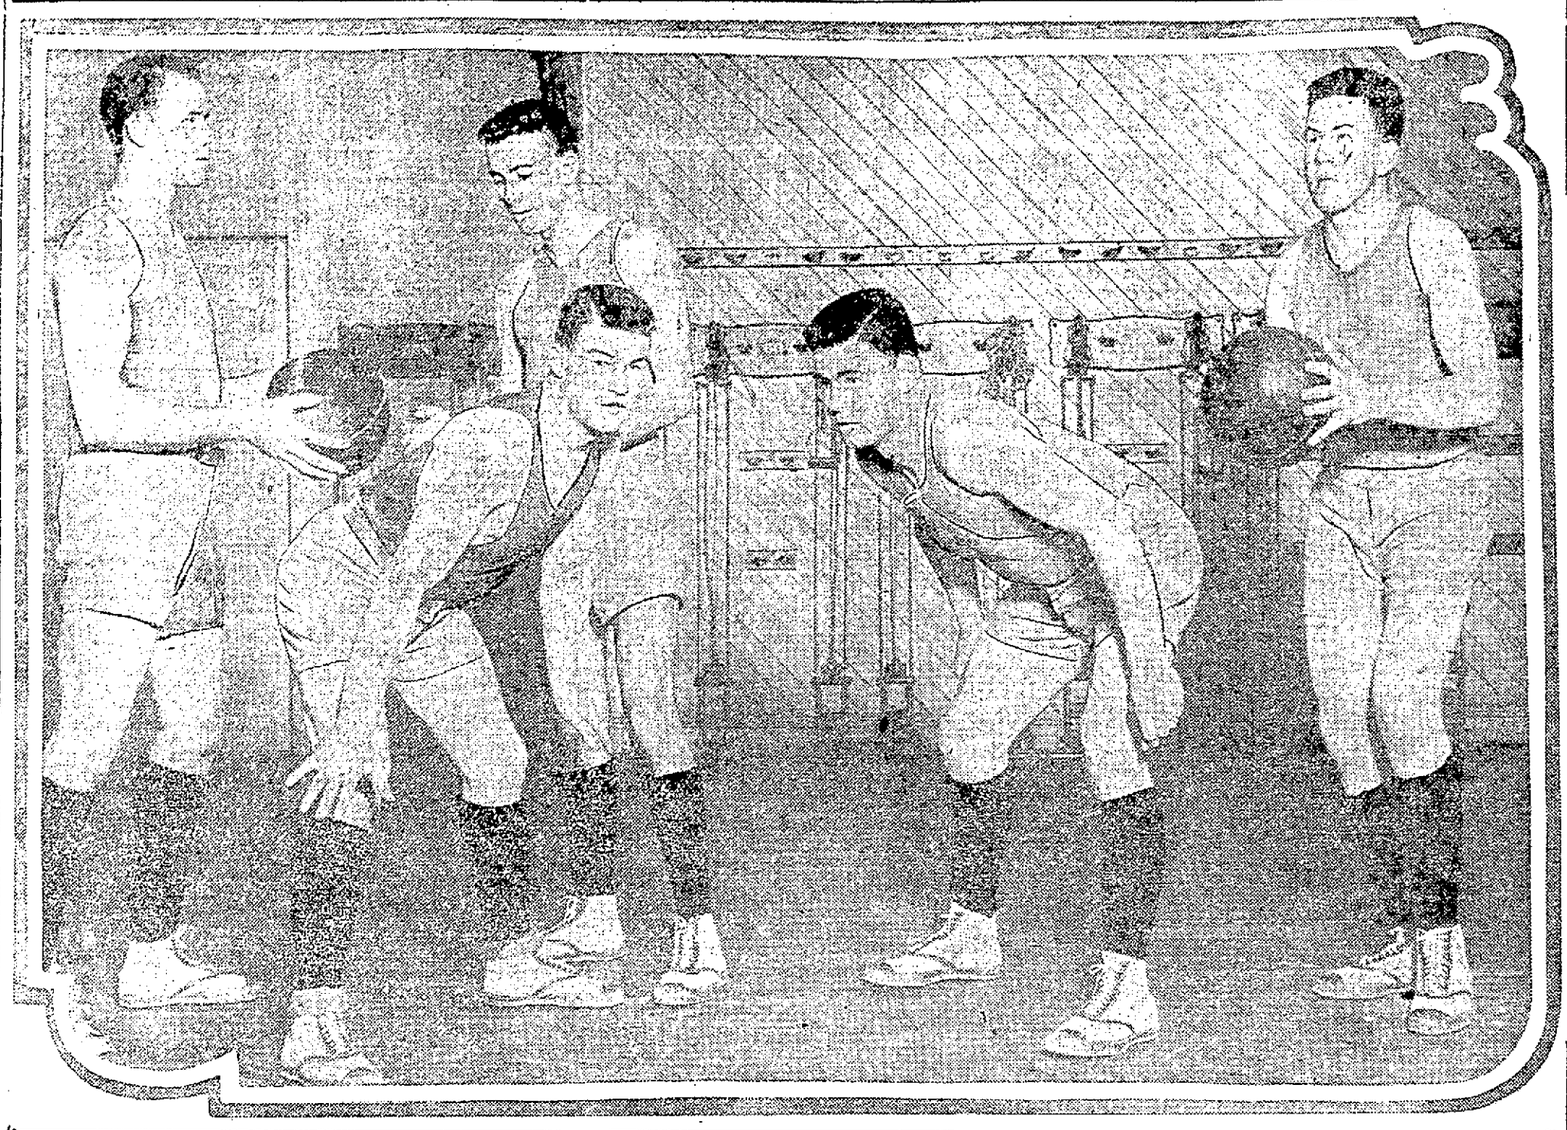
IF IT TAKES WEIGHT AND BRAINS TO DEFEAT STANFORD QUINTET, CALIFORNIA HAS BOTH, SAYS COACH HOLLANDER



The above picture was snapped at Harmon gymnasium on the University of California grounds, where California and Stanford basket-ballers will meet next Saturday night in the first big game of the season, and for which Coach Billy Hollander has the California boys practicing all that they may. It takes only one glance to find out that the California boys are not lacking any of the weight that will be required to give the Cardinals a regular fight. Left to right are: H. T. ANDERSON, center; H. SYMES, forward and guard, who is hopeful of breaking into Saturday's lineup; RUSSELL GREEN, captain and guard; COURT MAJORS, guard, and GOODRICH, forward. Anderson, Green and Majors are certainties for Saturday's lineup, as is Jack Symes, crack forward, who is not pictured, while the fifth man to start is still in doubt.

Sporting Gordash by Bob Shand.

Green and Majors are guards for the University of California basketball team but they are not related to Alameda's mayor.

"U. S. to Exterminate Pests" reads headline and it filled our heart with joy. But when we went into details we were filled with sorrow because it never even mentioned ticket moochers.

We notice where a local politician is going to "run on his record." Most of them run like a record when they get started.

Wetter is the reserve guard on the U. C. basketball squad. He promises to be more popular next July than he is now.

Remember our friend who was building a chicken coop? Last night Friend Wife wanted to darn some socks and looked for the jigger she places inside them. Failing to find it she visited the chicken coop and sure enough they were reposing in a couple of nests acting as "encouragers."

Personally, if we were ever going to raise chickens we would raise ducks. All you need for the quackers is a tub of water. And they don't wake up the neighbors when they donate an egg.

With Japan threatening to knock the chin off China and some of the other nations packing chips on their shoulders that is certainly a great little peace conference they are holding. Some of the diplomats will have no peace of mind until they get a piece of somebody else's territory.

If the Chinks can fight in China like they fight in Chinatown they are going to do a lot of successful gunning.

Jess Willard is getting more generous every day. It is stated on good authority that he gave three cheers for a company of returning heroes the other day.

Martin Killullen wants an "ironclad" contract before he will sign with the Oaks, but J. Cal states that he cannot get one of these things at present on account of the iron-workers' strike.

Jack Fallon has returned from France. Jack says he did not Fallon any Huns but he would have done so had the opportunity offered.

From out of the depths of Yonkers comes advice from Jack Skelly that "every sporting writer and fan should support the honest, daring, enterprising promoter in his efforts to have Willard defend his title." Jack should have waved a kiss to Tex before finishing.

We have our private opinion of anyone who will enable Willard to collect $100,000 after refusing to aid the soldiers in France. However, anything is liable to happen in Yonkers.

Wonder if Benny Leonard will take Jim Griffin along when he starts on his tour of the world? Jim would probably accept the offer unless Ted Lewis needs him in this country.

The next thing they will be doing with Mr. Leonard is to put him in a glass case and charge four bits a look.

If Benny sets away with any more of the "safety-first" stuff the Chicago writer who called California a "sucker state" will get a kick out of it.

Remember when Ad Wolgast and Battling Nelson went forty bloody rounds in the rain at Richmond with Nelson's title involved? And remember that Nelson, blinded with blood, protested when the referee stopped the fight?

They give us a day off following this terrific intellectual effort. We're going to spend it wondering how the Willard-Dempsey fight got as far as it has.

Blankenship Defeated in Tribune Play

Girard, Kosht, Hetzel and Hall Come Out on Top.

Four matches were rolled last night in The TRIBUNE diamond medal tourney at the Maryland alleys. Kosht won two straight from Schmidt. Herb Hetzel won the first two from Cliff Blankenship. However, Cliff was right at his heels from the first frame to the tenth of each game. Bush Young thinks that Cliff's new ball was not bored just right.

The Hunt vs. Gerard match went the full route with Girard on the winning end. Hall took both games from Burl Morton. The southpaw faced too many splits to make a good showing. The last games of the first round will be rolled Monday night after which the drawing for the second round will be held. The scores:

Kosht	188	169—	357
Schmidt	133	134—	287
Blankenship	116	133—	249
Hetzel	122	146—	268
Girard	213	182	191— 586
Hunt	136	231	165— 532
Morton	165	116—	282
Hall	181	170—	351

Season for A. C. A. L. Starts Today at Local Auditorium

The first game in the A. C. A. L. basketball league is being played this afternoon at the Oakland auditorium, according to an announcement given out this morning. Up until last night the directors of the league were doubtful about getting the use of the auditorium court for their games, but Manager George Keefe promised that they could have the use of it each Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoon until the full schedule of games is played. University and Tech highs will usher in the season this afternoon, while tomorrow will see Fremont and Berkeley playing their first game. All games will start at 4 o'clock sharp.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Feb. 13.—Jack Reed of Australia lasted three rounds of a scheduled ten-round bout here last night with Jimmy Hanlon of Denver. The men are lightweights.

What EDDIE HEARD from

JOE HECK.

"My supply of ink has run out, but just as soon as I can win enough on a billiard game I will buy a new bottle and write some more letters to my friends. I expect to win a game tonight." (Note—Joe made his win last night.)

TOM BENTON.

"Kid Parker should worry about the way I smoke my cigars as long as he is not paying for them. But when he kids me about it I always manage to get his goat by talking about those 'ducks' he swiped from Captain Bock."

JOHNNY CONDE.

"When a guy has an off night they commence to holler that he is going back. I have beaten Eddie Landon a few times and claim I win do it in a return match. Give me that boy Eddie Landon again."

NEW POULTRY RAISER.

"I have built my chicken coop against the graveyard fence, so I need not fear about anyone coming around at night to make a raid."

CHESTER GRIMMETT.

"Have issued challenges to Doc. Moskiman and Jay B. Nash for a game of golf, but neither will accept. That's what a fellow deserves for showing all his class the first time he plays."

BILL LEARD.

"Have you noticed how many games the Crockett team has won since I left them? Now you know why we beat Pittsburg in the first series and also took a win from Dan Hanlon's champions. Wonder if Tom Cahalan would like to have me now?"

GEORGE KEEFE.

"The other evening a fight fan asked me what was the idea of the screening about the eastern entrance to the Auditorium, and I told him the fish had a habit of coming up from the estuary at night and trying to drink the "H" out of the ticket office sign, so we put it there to keep them away. The fan left feeling like a fish himself."

BILLY BURK.

"I sure believe every word that Broadway Bill had to say about Benny Leonard, and Jim Griffin as referee."

HERBERT McFARLIN.

"From the talk I hear around town, the advance sale of tickets to the opening game in Oakland will be bigger than that of last year but I don't think any enlargement of the gates will be necessary."

HAROLD BROOM.

"I wish that fellow Ortega didn't get homesick and cause Tommy Simpson to return so soon. If he stayed away a while longer I would have had a supply of cigars stored away to last throughout the year, but as it is I have only enough for eleven months."

Sanborn May Head National Commission

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—I. E. Sanborn of Chicago, president of the Baseball Writers' Association, is being seriously considered for the chairmanship of the National Commission, according to reports circulated in baseball circles.

Sanborn, it is said, was recommended for the post by William Veeck of the Chicago Nationals and by Ban Johnson, president of the American League.

Johnson and John A. Heyler, president of the National League, were in conference here today and it was said a chairman might be elected before they left the city.

JOE HECK IS WORRIED ABOUT HIS BILLIARDS

Joe Heck is worried still. This time the case is serious, as he feels that his billiard game is not what it ought to be. When Joe's house burned down he saved his cigarette case and refused to grab a worry, and when his chickens quit laying the day eggs went to ninety cents a dozen he showed no signs of grief. But this is different. Joe has written the following letter to Professor Kretchel, D. P. B., seeking advice. We don't know what the D. P. B. stands for, but are willing to hazard a guess that it means Doctor of Poor Billiards. Let's go:

Oakland, Cal.,

Professor Kretchel, D. P. B.,
San Francisco, Cal.:

Dear Professor—Hearing of your fame as a doctor of billiards from I. Stahl, who said you made a perfect diagnosis of his case, I am writing to you for some information. I am a young man who has been playing billiards some time. I used to play straight rail, until one day I made a run of 14 and then decided to play 18.2 balk-line, and through constant practice I have improved my game so that now I average between 1 and 15. One day Frank Taylor was playing balk-line, and I watched him for one hour, and in that time, while he made a lot of billiards, not one of them was a hard shot, so I began to think that balk-line did not amount to much, because if a fellow does not have any hard shots, what is the use of playing? Someone suggested three-cushions to me, so I asked Dan Clifford's advice, and he said I ought to make a good three-cushion player because I had a strong back and a weak mind, so you see, Professor, I am all at sea. Don't think that I want to be a champion, but I would like to play as well as Texas Johnston thinks he can play. You know, John is always blowing smoke about his game. He says he is a champ down in Texas, but they all look good when they are far away. I have been practicing on that four-cushion masse called the fiddle shot, but I must have had bad luck or something, because I tore the cloth two or three times. I should worry; it don't belong to me. So Professor, think my case over and let me know what the trouble is. Some of the gang say I am not all there, but I assure you I'm all right. Si Gibbs and I are going to hook up tomorrow night, and if I don't knock Si for a basket, you can have John De Camps' watch. Yours truly,

JOE HECK.

Boxing Notes

121 Ellis st., San Francisco, Cal.

Bob Shand, Sporting Editor The TRIBUNE, Oakland, Cal.

Dear Bob: Just a line to let you know that I am ready to bring my little "Boston Bull Terrier" over to your side of the bay any time Tommy Simpson or Dave Symon say the word.

As Kramer is a regular bantam (118) German, Edwards or Moy ought to be able to make it interesting for him.

Have been informed that Jimmy Dundee weighs no more than 124 and if this is a fact, am ready to send Danny against "Lucky" any time Pete Nolan is ready to talk business. If Pete cares to wager a few slugs on the result will be pleased to accommodate him. That is, if Dundee is a 124-pound boy.

Of course I do not want to send the "Terrier" against a big featherweight and the scales is the only way that the old Marquis intended for the measurement of belters.

In the meantime am feeding my boy on pork and beans to make him think he is still in the city of culture. He has not made a kick as yet, only he was surprised that promoters out here managed their own boxers as well as seconded them. Can't blame the kid for thinking that this was responsible for the raw deal he was handed at the Dreamland bouts last week.

Thanking you for past courtesies and hoping to soon have the pleasure of showing this aggressive little miller in the Oakland auditorium, I am, 'zever,

Yours truly,

Local Boxers to Show at Sacramento

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 13.—Braving the jinx sign of 13, Fred Fulton will try to alter his Dempsey luck when he meets Jim Cameron, lanky negro boxer, in a four-round go here tonight.

Six additional bouts on the card are: White vs. Denny; Azevedo vs. Shaeffer; Conde vs. Papke; Jones vs. Vierra; Foster vs. Blue and Lee vs. Blondy.

FANS OF GOTHAM LOOKING FOR PENNANT

The Yankees now loom up as a team to be feared in the 1919 American league race. That's the way it looks now to Gotham fans.

Recent deals have given the team a formidable appearing pitching staff. Look it over. Dutch Leonard, Shore, Shawkey, Thormahlen, Mogridge and Schneider head the list. Shore and Leonard were obtained, with Duffy Lewis, in the deal with the Red Sox. Pete Schneider was obtained from the Cincinnati Reds.

Frank Baker now says he'll retire. But Frank has made that assertion before. If he changes his mind and comes back Miller Huggins will have for his infield Pipp, Pratt, Baker, Peckinpaugh and Ward. The outfield will include Lewis, Bodie, Lamar, Vick and Camp. Ruel and Hannah are booked to do the catching.

Of course future trades may alter the roster.

Stanford Defeats College of Pacific After Getting Scare

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 13. — The Stanford university basketball team traveled to San Jose last night and returned with their fourth straight victory in the race for the California-Nevada Intercollegiate championship. The College of the Pacific was the team to suffer the defeat, it being by a 33 to 11 score.

The Cardinal boys were rather scared after the first half had been played, as the losers were on the long end of a 9 to 7 score at the time. Two substitute forwards were used by the Cardinals in the first half, while in the second the regulars were put in, and the opponents were held to two points, while the winners shoved in 27.

TIGERS GETTING READY.

Batterymen of the Detroit Americans will report at Macon, Ga., the spring training camp at least in advance of the other players, according to tentative plans outlined by President Navin. The Tigers will play several exhibition games in Georgia cities with the Boston Nationals. Practice probably will be started in Macon, March 24.

U.C. Freshmen Basketballers Display Class

By DOUG. MONTELL.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Feb. 13.—Although the California Varsity basket ball team was inactive, the Freshmen five were very busy handing Andy Smith's Goat Island team a 27-24 beating on the court at Harmon gym. The game, incidentally marked the sixth straight win for the charges of Coach Wight and with but one more game before they tackle the Stanford first-year men, it looks as though the California babes will make a clean sweep of the preliminary season and crash into the Stanford Freshmen next Saturday night at Stanford without a defeat.

They have yet to play the Polytechnic High team of San Francisco tomorrow night on the court at Harmon gym, but the Poly bunch figure to be easy meat for the Blue and Gold freshmen, and Coach Wight is expecting little difficulty in taking their measure when his team takes them on.

The game with the sailors was featured by nothing save the closeness of the score. Ragged playing throughout detracted from the game and made of it more of a riot than a basketball game. The sailors came over with confidence and Andy had instilled fight into them, but they showed little skill and less teamwork. The freshmen were presenting a patched line-up and were not up to form.

Neff got back into the game after a spell of sickness and registered the most points with eight, while Ross with seven at the other forward position did fairly good work. Peterson and Theis at guard each shot three goals from the field and proved themselves all that Coach Wight has looked for at the guard position.

Phillips of the Goat Island boys did the best work, shooting four field goals and playing a consistant game, though he was well guarded after his four shots.

Eggleston and Ponsi were missing from the freshman line-up, but will be back in shape for the game with the Polytechnic High bunch and will round out the line-up for the Stanford contest. Wight has his choice of Ross, Ponsi, Neff and Damianikas at forward, any two of whom go well. Goodman and Larkey are jumping well. Goodman having the better of the argument with his weight and guarding ability, while the guard position has four strong men. Eggleston is a cinch and the other job lies between Peterson, Cline and Theis. In all probability all these men will see action against Stanford.

Goat Island (24)	Pos.	Freshmen (27)
Winningham (2)	Forward	Neff (8)
Phillips (8)	Forward	Ross (7)
Schaumer (8)	Center	Goodman
Clay	Guard	Peterson (6)
Rohlman (4)	Guard	Theis (6)
Cobb (2)	Guard	Pierson-Larkey

SPRINTER JOINS CALIFORNIA

News of the cinder path contains the information that Chas. Miller, quarter miler of note, who has been discussed before, has switched from Stanford to California. He hails from Ohio State, with a good record for the quarter, and while his presence on the California campus does not either aid California nor hurt Stanford this year, if he remains until next year, when he will be eligible to run, he will be a great help to the California track squad. Being a transfer, he is ineligible for intercollegiate competition this year.

INTERCOLLEGIATE SWIMMING

Swimming is taking its share of the athletes at California with a rush. Following on the heels of the sign-up Monday, the first inter-class swim is announced for March 1, probably to be held at Piedmont baths and will be the first meet of a long and busy season for the California tank artists. The Blue and Gold are well fortified in the aquatic sport this year, the freshman class bringing in much material and the list of entries for this meet will be available in a few days.

Talk of the proposed intercollegiate swimming league has reached the California campus and the California swimmers would fall in quickly for such a plan were it started in earnest. It is believed that the suggestion that St. Mary's, St. Ignatius, Stanford and California, with the possible addition of other colleges would be the start of making swimming a major sport on this coast, and while this suggestion has not been extended definitely to the University of California, it would meet with favor were such a plan brought about.

St. Mary's is about due to enter into the swimming world with a rush and intercollegiate competition of that sort would be to their advantage. Several swimmers of note were registered in college there in the last year and their lead in the matter would be welcomed by the other institutions toward raising the standard of the sport.

Stanford Decides to Play American Style Football

STANFORD, Feb. 13.—As was expected it would result after the game with California on last Thanksgiving Day, it was decided here last night that hereafter the Cardinal footballers will play the American style of game, instead of rugby, which was partly responsible for the now mended split between Stanford and California.

At the meeting held yesterday it was decided that Stanford would make application for the Pacific state conference.

HENRY FORD VISITS BIG AUTO SHOW

By JIM HOULIHAN.

Announcement of the revival of the Santa Monica Road Race, the expected appearance of Henry Ford, and continued big crowds with added numbers of purchasers were the outstanding features yesterday at the San Francisco automobile show. News that the first road racing classic California has witnessed in several years would be staged in the south was made by Earl Cooper, a show visitor.

Henry Ford, driving one of his own "flivvers," believe it or not, slipped into San Francisco Tuesday night and slipped out again for a short visit to his friend, Luther Burbank, at Santa Rosa yesterday. Ford came to California to get a well-earned rest. He denied himself to newspaper men and other visitors who tried to reach him early yesterday morning. During the sojourn around the bay region Ford intends to keep out of the limelight. Other than for a visit to the auditorium he won't show himself to public gaze.

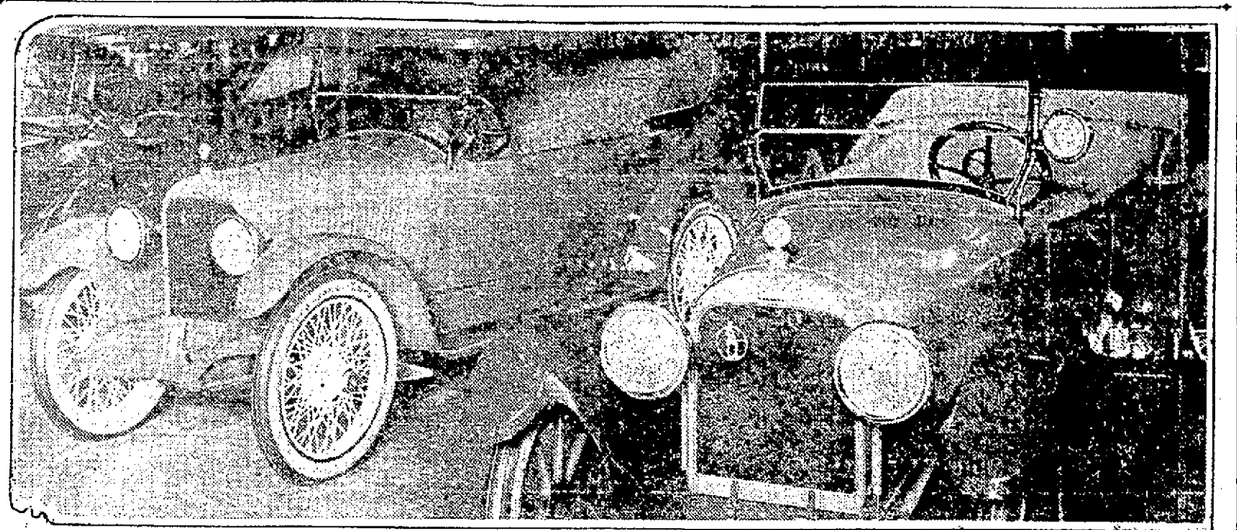
Buyers continue more plentiful at every booth in the big auditorium. There isn't an exhibitor of any kind who hasn't derived some results from the week's showing. Sales of automobiles range from twenty or more cars in the popular priced class to at least three in the very top notch-ists. The present has been the most productive exposition of automobiles on record, in California.

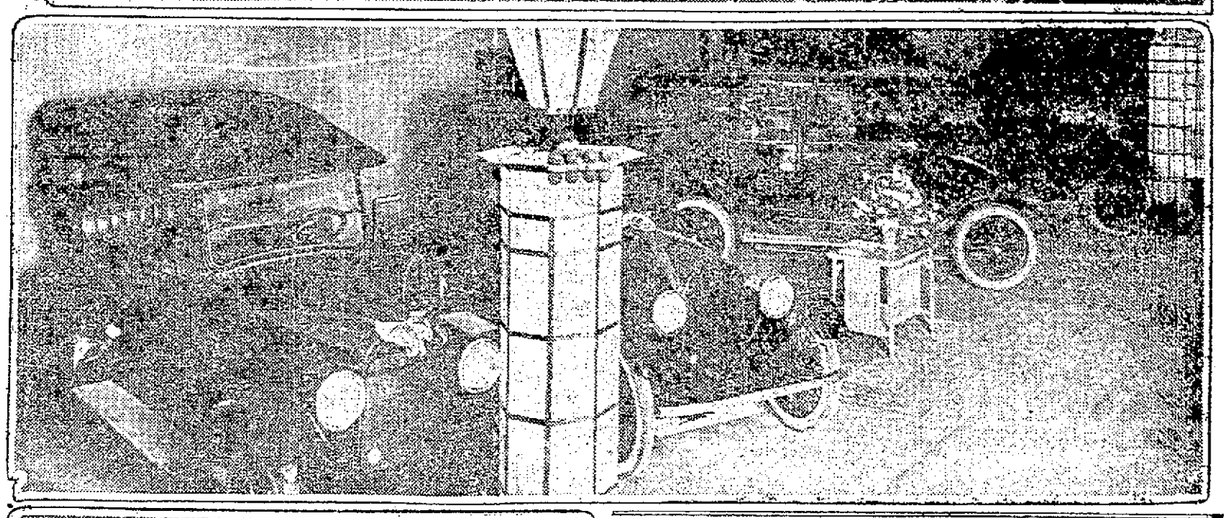
Where special jobs are offered there has been in most instances two or more buyers of the particular car.

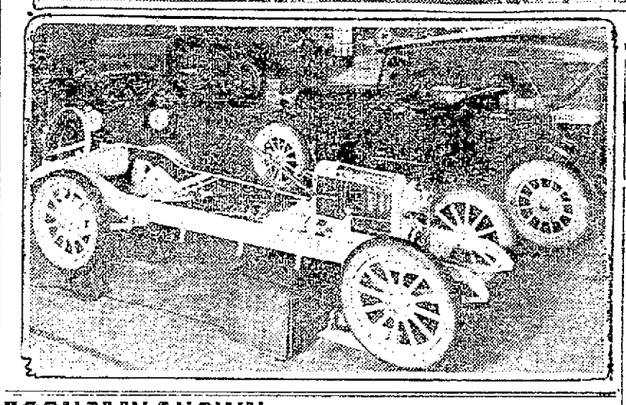
Oakland motorists have turned out in large numbers. Local salesmen tell me that enough prospects have been booked from this side to keep them working steadily for the next few weeks.

Tonight is Society Night.

Three exhibits at the San Francisco Automobile Show which have had a good share of attention from thousands of the visitors to the mammoth motor car display. Top, the Lexington showing of new models; center, a corner of the Chalmers space, and lower, the Nash cut out chassis and Nash touring models.







Myron T. Herrick's Condition Improves

PASADENA, Cal., Feb. 13.—Reports early today were that Myron T. Herrick, former ambassador to France, who was taken ill yesterday following arrival from Cleveland, was somewhat improved.

Herrick suffered a slight attack of heart failure when he arrived at Pasadena and was notified that his friend, H. T. Eells, of Cleveland, had died here suddenly a few hours previous to Herrick's arrival.

CAR IS FINISHED IN FULL LEATHER

The Cole exhibit at the San Francisco auditorium is marked by a showing of a unique car. It is finished in leather instead of paint. The outside of the machine is covered with fine grain leather put on with material that is guaranteed weather proof. The leather will stick. This car is attracting a great deal of attention in the California Motor Sales Company's exhibit.

"We have closed many deals in the last few days and have secured a list of prospects that will mean many sales after the show is over," said L. D. Allen, president of the California Motor Sales Company, Cole distributors here. "The show means much to use because this is our second and since last year's exhibit we have grown in leaps and bounds and are selling many more cars now than we did a year ago.

"The Cole factory is backing us to the limit and in building a fine car at a reasonable price is making a great impression all over the country.

"The shoy is a success in every way and we are glad to say that conditions never looked brighter."

Y. M. I. Day to Be Celebrated Feb. 22

The Young Men's Institute of the East Bay district is planning a celebration of Y. M. I. day February 22. The Young Ladies' Institute will join in the celebration.

A memorial mass will be celebrated at St. Anthony's church at 9 a. m. In the evening there will be a musical and literary entertainment at which Judge Wm. H. Donahue will be the speaker. The following celebration committee has been named:

E. J. Ennis, T. C. O'Brien, E. Rogers, M. L. Gomez, N. J. Kenney, the Misses Anna C. May, Zita Tweedy, Delphine Kenney, Irene Judge, and Elizabeth Quirk.

ECONOMY SHOWN BY 'HOT-SPOT'

The continued production of low grade gasoline for motor car and other uses has compelled many automobile makers to adopt some means of preheating the fuel before it enters the combustion chambers of the engine.

Today there are many devices intended to do just what the Chalmers "hot spot" did a long time ago, for Chalmers engineers were convinced that, to obtain economy, keep a clean motor and to get power and other results, it was necessary to do something to volatize the fuel, then and now so heavy that ordinary methods would not break up the heavy particles of oil.

Branch Manager J. L. Brambila, of the Lou Rose company, points out that many heating devices have come forward and that this is the best evidence of the farsightedness of the Chalmers engineering department; and, just as it was ahead in the matter of the "hot spot" and the ram's horn manifold, it has been to the fore in other respects that go towards making a modern automobile—one that will give comfort, satisfaction and economy.

Brambila has had some member of the Oakland sales force in attendance at the automobile show since opening day. Yesterday he was in charge of the display himself and if orders which have been already booked for Chalmers are to be taken as an indication of this car's popularity for the coming year it's an assurance of a sales record that will place Chalmers high in the registration ranks.

Capt. George Praises Work Done by K. of C.

Captain Harry George, U. S. N., who has retired after serving throughout the war as commandant of Mare Island, has written a letter to Frank Gibb, Knights of Columbus director at the island, in which he expresses appreciation of the work done there by the Knights.

"I wish to express my appreciation of the services of the Knights of Columbus at this yard and of the attractive buildings erected by them for the entertainment and recreation of the enlisted men," he says.

Col. Thaw on Way to Rockwell Field

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Feb. 13.—Lieutenant-Colonel William Thaw, famous American ace, is due here on Saturday, when he will assume the duties of executive officer at Rockwell field, North Island, the army flying school. Captain Clyde Balsley, who, with Thaw, was a member of the Lafayette escadrille of the French army before the United States entered the war, reported for duty here yesterday.

Masked Men Hold Up Two S. F. Saloons

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. —Two masked men held up two saloons in succession here this morning. At 1900 Sutter street Henry Baum bartender, and John Maas were held up. Maas was beaten over the head with a beer bottle, and $15 was taken from the till. At 1600 O'Farrell street, Herman Franklin and two customers were compelled to lie face downward on the floor. Franklin was robbed of $7.50 and a $75 diamond pin. John Ostron, a car conductor, was robbed of $18.50 and Daniel Creeley, a cook, of $1.50.

Revenues of Central Western Railroads Increase, But Operation Costs Jump Faster

HOLDEN GIVES FIGURES ON 10 MONTHS' WORK

Increase in operating revenue of the railroads in the central western region under government control for the ten months' period ending October 31 was 17.3 per cent, while the operating expenses increased 34.1 per cent, resulting in a decrease of 12.7 per cent in net operating revenue, according to the report just made by Railroad Director Hale Holden.

Holden explains that "it is well understood, however, that operating expenses for the ten month period have included substantially all wage increases effective since January 1, 1918, and increased costs of materials and supplies, whereas operating revenues only reflect the increased freight and passenger rates for substantially the last four months of the period indicated."

Heavier freight movements were handled with less train mile effort, according to Holden, who says that 61,963,654,000 net ton miles were handled, as compared with 59,175,175,000 in the corresponding period of the previous year, while the business was handled with 89,903,600 train miles, as compared with 102,442,600 train miles in the same period a year before.

In the period for which the report is made, Holden says that 389 passenger trains were eliminated, accomplishing a saving of 15,500,784 passenger train miles a year, resulting in an estimated annual saving of $11,231,317.92.

SERVICE CUT DOWN.

Other savings in passenger train service costs were accomplished by reason of the discontinuance of parlor and observation cars and the reduction of Pullman car service of 38,703,614 passenger car miles. The money saving by these eliminations is not estimated.

At the beginning of his report Holden lists the estimated annual savings from the unification of terminals and stations with a total amount estimated to be saved in a year of $6,442,615.81. In this list some of the larger amounts are as follows:

Passenger stations consolidated, $281,-618.22; ticket offices consolidated, $507,-421.01; freight stations consolidated, $447,652.00; consolidation of car inspection, $1,360,169.74, consolidation of switching, $1,886,602.77.

OTHER SAVINGS.

Savings made by consolidation of less than carload lots in the "sailing-day plan" are also mentioned.

"Especial attention," says Holden, "has been given to the most economical and direct routes in the handling of traffic between San Francisco territory, Southern California points on the one hand, and northwestern territory on the other, and middlewest terminals and junctions. In consequence, as an important illustration, the movement of California deciduous and citrus fruits has been handled with better satisfaction than ever before. During six months 581 solid trains of California fruit moved to the Missouri river and Chicago, with a total of 32,561 cars, an average of 38 cars per train. The growers and distributers have expressed general satisfaction with the service rendered."

Notes of Business World

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13.—The annual report of the Union Oil Company of California made public here today showed that for the year 1918 the company handled by production and purchase one-fifth of the oil produced in the state. The total was 8,271,894 barrels.

Soaring production and marketing costs reduced the net earning to $6,-022,139.25, compared with $7,642,284.12 for the preceding year. Employees' shares of the profits were $312,570.52.

WILLOWS, Feb. 13.—Ernest Fabe has sold a consignment of 10,000 bags of Glenn county rice of the Early Prolific variety to be used for seed purposes. The deal was arranged through the Southern Rice Growers' Association. Five cents a pound, f. o. b. local warehouses, was the price paid.

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—Estimated annual economies of $6,442,615.81 were effected by consolidation of switching, car inspector service, lines, stations, rerouting of freight trains and other means, according to the annual report of Hale Holden, railroad director of the central western region, made public today, showing also an increase of 17.6 per cent in operating revenue.

Operating expenses increased 34.1 per cent, resulting in a decrease of 12.7 per cent in net operating revenue, according to the report covering only ten months, not including November and December. An additional saving estimated at $11,231,317.92 resulted from elimination of 389 passenger trains, eliminating 15,500,784 passenger car miles, according to the report, and 38,703,614 passenger car miles were saved by discontinuance of parlor and observation cars and reduction of Pullman car service. The "sailing day" plan has saved 4672 cars a week in handling less than carload lots of freight, the report said.

FRUIT CONTRACT UPHELD BY COURT

The first suit brought by the California Fruit and Apricot Growers, Inc., against a non-delivering grower, has just been won by the association, it was announced today by Sapiro, Neylan and Ehrlich, the association's attorneys. It had been brought against A. L. Drown in the Superior Court of Ventura county.

The decision is important in that it established the validity of the contract entered into between the association and growers. The contract in question is identical with all others between the association and growers. It requires a grower to deliver all of his product through the association.

During the two days occupied in the hearing of evidence and argument of counsel every pertinent detail of the contract, from the time it was entered into by the defendant and the corporation to the time of the breach on the part of the defendant was elaborately discussed.

Canada Making Big Display at Lyons

LONDON, Feb. 13 (By Canadian Associated Press).—Representatives of about a hundred Canadian manufacturing firms arrived at Liverpool on the Canadian Pacific railroad liner Minnesota today bound for the Lyons fair. It is understood that Canada is making a big display at this exhibition as her first effort in pushing goods in continental markets.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—Big upward jumps in the price of corn today carried the market more than 8 cents a bushel in some cases above Tuesday's finals. Transactions were on a large scale. Uneasiness over diplomatic developments, together with unfavorable domestic crop conditions, had much to do with the advance.

The market closed excited at the top prices of the day, with May $1.22¼ to $1.23⅛ and July $1.19⅝ to $1.20.

Greatest advances were in the active deliveries of May and July.

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—Reports touching on the possibility of war renewals had a bullish influence today on corn. The market was strengthened by unfavorable conditions for the winter wheat crop for rural wagon transit. Offerings were light. Opening prices, which ranged from 1⅛@⅜c higher with May at $1.17@1.18 and July at $1.13⅜@1.16, were followed by continued firmness at a level moderately below initial top figures.

Oats ascended with corn. After opening ⅝@⅞c to 1@1⅛c up, with May 58⅝@59⅝c, the market scored further gains. Big shipments lifted provisions. For the fifth day in succession lard made a maximum advance.

Bank Clearings

OIL CO. WINS LANDS IN KERN COUNTY

Through two legal victories in Washington, the Honolulu Consolidated Oil Company, which has many stockholders in the bay region, has come into possession of oil lands in Kern county valued at fifteen millions. The decision, as handed down by the United States land office in the Honolulu Oil case, was made public at the local offices of the company today. The decision follows long litigation arising over the government's efforts to dispossess the operating company. The land involved is in the Midway field, and totals thirteen quarter sections, besides which the decision was followed by an incidental ruling affecting four more quarter sections also in dispute. The decision holds that as the operating company was diligently employed at operation of the fields at the time of the government withdrawal order, in 1909, and is therefore entitled to patents.

The company, composed almost entirely of California stockholders, and organized by the late Captain Matson, held thirteen sections at the time the withdrawal order was signed in 1909 by President Taft. The Department of Justice filed suit asking withdrawal of thirteen quarter sections, and Peter F. Dunne of San Francisco was retained as attorney for the company to fight the case in the federal land office hearing. In addition to the land involved, the Honolulu company owns other land which will be affected by the precedent set in the decision. The company had spent $4,000,000 improving the lands involved, Dunne said at the hearing.

The decision establishes the company on a sound basis again, say the officers of the company. Some months ago a receiver had been appointed for the corporation by Federal Judge Frank Rudkin. This receiver will not be dismissed.

S.F. PRODUCE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—Activity in winter vegetables reached the highest point and is gradually decreasing. For the past few weeks shipments from California and eastern markets have steadily declined and prices have been lower.

Celery reappeared on the market this morning, but in a small way only, and brought up to $8 per crate. Green peas were in heavier supply and lower at 10 to 12½ cents per pound.

Representatives of local wholesale houses who have just returned from the south report that the early estimates of the damage to the orange crop were from 5 to 10 per cent below what the actual loss will be.

Where no changes have been made in prices quotations have been omitted.

STOCK PRICES MAKE GAIN ON WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—News advices here over the holiday caused further hasty covering of shorts in various specialties at the opening of today's stock market. Gains of one to three and a half points were registered by oils, prominent equipments, the motor division and the more active tobaccos, leather and distilling shares. There was virtually no exception to the higher trend although coppers were slightly irregular and U. S. Steel shared moderately before the end of the first half hour. The trend of the day's trading follows:

FORENOON—Shipping supplemented the active stocks of the morning, but oils and equipments continued their lead. Features of marked strength included Mexican Petroleum, Pan-American Petroleum preferred, Royal Dutch, Texas Company, American Can, Baldwin Locomotive, American Tobacco, Industrial Alcohol and distillers, Hide and Leather, common and preferred; Automobile subsidiaries, American Sugar and United Fruit.

AFTERNOON—Gains were further extended during the more active trading at midday, oils still dominating the list on favorable statements attributed to Mexican interests. Equipments, motors and shippings also enhanced their early advances, notably United States Steel, Baldwin Locomotive, Studebaker and some specialties.

CLOSING—Stock of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railway broke three points today upon announcement in Wall Street that application had been made for a limited receivership for the road before Federal Judge Knox in connection with a long pending suit to recover $150,000,000 in behalf of certain stockholders. Revival of receivership proceedings against the New Haven and a 6 per cent rate for call loans caused temporary reactions of one to three points in the last hour. The closing was strong. Sales approximated 650,000 shares.

GREAT DRAINS ON TREASURY STIR SENATORS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Attempted "raids on the public treasury" amounting to $11,000,000,000, or nearly twice as much as the revenue bill will raise in 1919, were summed up in the Senate yesterday by Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania.

Taking up bill after bill presented to the Senate and House, many of which had the approval of executive departments and proposing appropriations ranging from $50,000 to $1,000,000,000 for "chimerical" ill advised and ill considered purposes, Senator Penrose said he could not see where the money to carry out "these ingenuous projects for extracting money from the public treasury" was coming from.

Penrose first attacked the $100,000,000 food for Europe bill, declaring that the money was to be spent for Europe by a man

CHARITY OPPOSED IN AIDING HEROES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—"The most difficult problem we have to encounter in re-educating disabled soldiers," said Dr. C. A. Prosser, head of the federal board for vocational education, which is charged by congress with this work, "is that of the man who has been given a mere job by some patriotic employer, and where the disabled man is not expected to do anything much beyond drawing his salary.

"It is a very mistaken sense of kindness and patriotism, because it is a positive detriment and disadvantage to the man who accepts. In a comparatively short time business is going to swing back to normal conditions and there will be the age-old competition of men for jobs with possibly not enough jobs to go around. There will be competitions in various lines of business and manufacture. In this competition useless expenses are bound to be lopped off, and when this comes about the disabled man who can do no one thing well, who has no skilled trade knowledge, is inevitably going to suffer. He will probably be the first to go, notwithstanding the fact that he was injured in his country's cause. It may sound hard and thankless to say this, but it is a fact.

"If the zealous friends of these disabled men will in the first instance refrain from offering these employments and induce the men to take the free special education offered by the government, the men themselves will be greatly the gainers. If single men they will be supported at the rate of $65 per month while undergoing training, and all legitimate expenses will be borne by the government. If the man has a family, the amount allotted him for support will be proportionate to his needs. This training is given in the shops, industries, trades, technical institutions, colleges and universities all over the country. There are over 400 occupations from which the man to be trained can make his selection. After he has finished there will have been found a job for him; he will be kept there for a time on probation, until he qualifies and is able to go on the payroll."

A postal card or letter addressed to the federal board for vocational education at Washington will bring all particulars. Each case is handled strictly on its merits with the idea solely of developing the best there is in that particular man.

Return of Soldiers from State Urged

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13.—Members of the state committee on readjustment have announced that at an executive meeting here resolutions were passed urging that all California soldiers be discharged and returned to the state immediately on showing by them that positions are held for them.

It was stated also that a plan was under consideration by which each community would be asked to furnish employment for a certain number of returned soldiers, just as it was asked to furnish a quota for the army. Adjutant General Borree is to work out details of the plan.

German Salaries Object of Comment

MUNICH, Feb. 13.—The Conservative Center or Catholic organ of Bavaria, the Courier, which since the revolution has made a feature of the cost of the new government, takes delight in printing, with appropriate comment, the salaries of the employees of the central government in Berlin, as somewhat reluctantly announced by People's Deputy Landsberg before the National Council of Workmen and Soldiers' Councils.

The forty-five members of the council to which Landsberg belong receive $12.50 a day, annually $4565, or, as the Courier points out, the equivalent of the salaries of over-presidents of courts; forty-eight confidential assistants and forty-two couriers are paid $10 a day, annually therefore $3650, or as much as German senatorial and government presidents.

"Yes, we certainly have done well," remarks the Courier.

White Goods Workers May Be Called Out

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Approximately 20,000 workers engaged here in the manufacture of white goods, underwear, house dresses, kimonas and children's dresses may be called out next week in connection with the strike of 20,000 dress and waist makers, now entering its fourth week, according to announcement last night by Benjamin Schlesinger, president of the International Garment Workers' Union.

A meeting was held last night at which plans were perfected for a strige of 8000 muslin underwear workers, who, with the other branches of the international union, are seeking a forty-four-hour week, an increase in wages and union conditions. These workers, Schlesinger announced definitely, would be called out next week.

Palo Alto Police Held Not to Blame

PALO ALTO, Feb. 13.—Vice conditions that Mrs. Nellie F. Goodspeed found in Palo Alto are such as exist in all cities of Palo Alto's size and are no reflection on its police department. This is the decision today of the Board of Public Safety, which has refused to discharge Chief of Police Noble and his assistant as had been recommended by Mayor Cooley's investigating committee. The decision is the result of a hearing Tuesday night at which Mrs. Goodspeed, former policewoman, made her charges in public. The board found no specific charges existed against the chief of police.

U. S. Mission Will Study German Food

BERLIN, Feb. 12.—The American mission headed by Captain Walter Gherhardi, former American attache in this city, is today preparing to make a trip throughout Germany to study the food and economic situation. Especial attention will be paid to the food outlook.

AIR INSTRUCTOR RETURNS.

First Lieutenant Edward von Adelung, a former student at the University of California, has arrived home from France, where he served sixteen months with the American air service. His principal work was as flying instructor at the Second Aviation Center at Tours. Lieutenant von Adelung is the elder son of Dr. and Mrs. Edward von Adelung of this city.

BOGUS LAND SWINDLER IS SENTENCED

D. A. Hatfield, frenzied financier, captured at the fashionable Bauer apartments several weeks ago after eluding the police of several cities, and escaping from the Hotel St. Mark by one door as detectives, on his trail entered the other, has received a five-year sentence in Portland, according to word received by the local police today.

Hatfield, who is said to have put over two bogus land trades while here, one in Oakland and one in San Francisco, in which he traded property on which mortgages had been foreclosed for other property and collected rent on the latter, was in hiding at the Hotel St. Mark when attention of the Oakland police was attracted to him. A report that his room had been robbed at the hotel led the police to him, and he fled, going to the Bauer apartments, to which his trail was later traced. He made a hard fight against extradition before he was finally taken to Portland to trial.

Hatfield while in Oakland posed as a capitalist and cut a wide swath in hotel lobbies and cafes. He was arrested on a warrant alleging fictitious signatures to legal papers in connection with a land deal in Walla Walla, in which property which had passed from his ownership through mortgage foreclosures was "traded" for other property on which rent was collected in advance before the fraud was discovered by owners.

LODGE TO GIVE DANCE.

Oakland Homestead, No. 839, of the Yeomen Lodge, will give a dance tomorrow night at N. S. G. W. hall, Eleventh and Clay streets, for the benefit of a member whose husband died in the recent epidemic.

"Raffles" Works in Society Circles
Ebell Club Theft "Inside Job?"
Clews Secured to Daring Operator

Face to face with a clever swindler, or perhaps more than one, who has made society circles of the Eastbay district a prey, the Oakland detective force has set to work in dead earnest to halt his, or her, bulgarious career. Latest of a long series of crimes, suggesting in their craft and their uniform success the depredations of Raffles himself, was the theft of a fur coat, valued at $250, last evening at the Ebell Club.

The garment was the property of Mrs. Martha Maguire, residing at the Hotel Oakland. It was with other garments in a cloak room in the clubhouse. There was no one present but invited guests. There was, the detectives say, no means by which a burglar could have entered the place without being observed.

BELIEVE "INSIDE JOB."

They are, therefore, impressed with the probability that this was an "inside job," committed by someone who had surreptitiously secured an invitation to the affair at which the theft occurred.

The detectives declare, however, that the investigation will be thorough, whomever is hurt by it.

It is to be undertaken particularly by Inspector William Kyle, but he will have other assistance. In proper afternoon and evening dress, as the occasion warrants, Kyle is to move among the guests at approaching important society events determined to apprehend the Raffles.

"The Ebell Club theft," Kyle said today, "was evidently an 'inside job,' for which someone in social circles, or with an entree thereto, is to be blamed. This is the second time that a similar crime has recently come to light and there are a number of parallel cases of recent report. Taken together, they indicate that thefts are being committed by a burglar, or burglars, of the 'Raffles' type. The field of operation is chiefly the big clubs and big hotels, but private homes at reception times and the like have been similarly invaded."

KYLE HAS CLEWS.

Inspector Kyle has clews that may lead to the apprehension of last night's burglar as well as to identification of other criminals who have been similarly at work. Among the recent burglaries of this type the most sensational was that at the home of Mrs. Granville Abbott in Piedmont, which has never been satisfactorily cleared up. There have been two or three burglaries of the "Raffles" sort at the Hotel Oakland, which could only be traced to someone posing as a person of means and prominence. Berkeley has reported similar invasions of private homes as well as hotels. All of these the police are coupling in one investigation.

CONGRESSMAN WILL INSPECT COAST BASES

Seventeen hold-over members of the House naval committee, who will be accompanied by Congressmen Kettner of San Diego and MacArthur of Oregon on a tour of the ports and naval bases on the Pacific Coast, will be guests of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce in the near future, the exact date yet to be fixed. The several Chambers of Commerce of the coast have arranged for an endless chain of entertainment while the visitors are here.

According to members of the local Chamber of Commerce, it is the intention of that body to familiarize the visitors with the Helm report on the proposed naval base off the Alameda shore, and to point out to them its many advantages.

Supplementary to the visit in the Eastbay cities the members of the committee and the two Congressmen will visit Mare Island, which is seeking an enlarged navy yard; San Francisco, which wants a dry dock; Los Angeles, where provision has been made at San Pedro for a submarine base; San Diego, which is to have an aviation field; Gray's Harbor, Coos Bay, Portland, Astoria, Tacoma, Seattle, Bremerton, Everett, Port Townsend and Bellingham, all of which cities seek naval improvements.

While on this tour the members of the delegation will make a careful study of conditions that they may be in a better position to make suggestions pertaining to the claims of the several cities.

U. C. STUDENTS HOLD RALLY FOR WHEELER

Assembling at an impromptu rally, more than five hundred students of the University of California marched to the residence of President Benjamin Ide Wheeler on the campus last evening as a demonstration of the affection in which the retiring executive is held on the campus.

President Wheeler answered the college yells and cheers of the assembled students by coming to the steps of his residence where he delivered a brief address to his "children."

"The most gratifying fact of my term at the university has been the whole-hearted support of the student body," the president declared in acknowledging the tribute of esteem paid him by the students. "In all college activities, athletics, publications, and most important of all, student control, the students have been behind me. I hope that our close relations will not end but that when my duties are less pressing and I can give more time to the things I like to do we shall become closer friends than ever before. I also hope you will give my successor the same support you have given me."

Last night's rally was planned at a joint meeting of the university rally committee and representatives of men's organizations on the campus held yesterday afternoon following the announcement of the coming retirement of President Wheeler. Students responded to the hasty summons by meeting in front of the library last night and marching in a body to the president's house.

President Frank Hargear of the student body headed the procession, opening the evening's ceremonies with a short address as President Wheeler came from his home to meet the students.

February Madness Is Blamed For Troubles of Policemen

"February is the month for heated passions and angry moods—we all go just a little bit crazy in February, because of the way the planets form themselves."

This is the explanation of Chief of Police Henry Nedderman for the trials and vicissitudes which have caused two suspensions and three official investigations into the doings of members of his department.

"We are all a little bit crazy in February," said the chief. "You see, the planets so form themselves that this is the case. I have a horoscope on my own life, in which by planetary calculations an astrologer has figured out my condition at every hour of every day. I can tell when I will be angry, and when I will be ill—within an hour or so. There is no doubt about it.

"I don't believe in all kinds of astrology, but this horoscope is by a very high class man, and very well educated, and he is wonderful. He has told me some remarkable things. That is why I know you can't blame a man who goes a little crazy in February."

Nedderman has a large "chart," setting forth his "conditions" for every hour of every day of the month, prepared by the astrologer. He expresses implicit faith in it.

DYNAMITER CLAUDIANES OUT OF CELL

"Pete" Claudianes, sentenced to San Quentin prison for life on conviction of dynamiting the Oakland home of "Big Jim" Gallagher, former San Francisco supervisor, who figured prominently as a witness during the famous "graft prosecution trials across the bay, has obtained his freedom again. The prisoner, who was captured after a chase to Chicago, following the dynamiting, has been paroled, it was learned today. He was the last man serving time in the state prison in connection with the graft cases.

The dynamiting of the Gallagher home here followed the news that the former supervisor was to go on the stand in the Ruef and Schmitz cases and incidental trials. The witness and his family were home at the time, and had and an outbuilding being badly damaged a narrow escape from death, the home by explosives.

John Claudianes, a brother of the accused man, was picked up by detectives in San Francisco and broke down, telling a story that involved his brother, who in the meantime had fled East. Peter Claudianes was finally located in Chicago, and brought back for trial. John Claudianes turned State's evidence and was released. Both men said the dynamiting was under the direction of their uncle, John Paudevarla, who in the meantime had fled to Greece and was never found.

CHICAGO PRISONER NOT WANTED HERE

Who is "George Billings?"

This is the question that is bothering the Oakland police. The Chicago police, who have arrested him as a confidence worker, say he is "wanted in Oakland."

The Oakland police have no record of the man. If he is wanted under another name here, the Chicago police have not yet hit on the right name.

Wires from the Chicago police are to the effect that Billings, whom they say is wanted here as a confidence worker, was jailed in Chicago while trying to inveigle Fred Kutz, a poultryman from Sioux City, in, a "gambling club swindle."

After investigation the Chicago police said that their circulars and Bertillon bureau showed the man to be wanted in Oakland on similar charges.

"We have no record of anyone wanted in a confidence game by the name of Billings," said Captain Drew. "The only explanation I can see is that the Chicago police have us mixed up with some of the other Oaklands in the United States that the Chamber of Commerce talks about, or they have the man under a new name that we don't know.

Chicago has been wired for further details.

BATTLESHIPS ARE COMING TO COAST

Seven battleships will reach the Pacific within the next few months to become part of a fleet of twenty great warships that will be permanently stationed on the coast. This was the intimation brought here today by Rear Admiral William P. Fullam. It is coupled with the announcement of the Navy that half of the grand fleet is to be held in Pacific waters. This will be the greatest concentration of warships ever known on the coast.

As a vanguard of the fleet there have just arrived in this naval district six submarine chasers, ten in the Seattle district and three in the Panama district. Admiral Fullam, now commanding the Pacific fleet, says the seven additional battleships will probably reach the coast by the summer months. They are the battleships Alabama, Kearsarge, Kentucky, Iowa, Missouri, Wisconsin and Illinois. The Pacific fleet now consists of eight battleships.

'SHIMMY' DANCE ARRIVES HERE

The "Shimmy" dance has come to Oakland. The "shimmy" is the latest thing in syncopated stepping, and the military men coming from New York and other eastern centers where it has held the boards for some months are introducing it in the bay cities. It is proving popular and the public is taking hold.

The "shimmy," as explained today by incorporated it in his course of instruction, starts in a fox trot. You just do a little syncopated fox-trotting with the young woman. Then you stop and do a little more syncopating from the waist up you shake her rhythmically sideways, so to speak, and you have the "shimmy" dance.

Along with the "shimmy" there is introduced in the newer modes of dancing military movements and an accentuation of that good old southern "jazz." "Jazz" music, of course, has always accompanied modern dancing more or less. But now, it appears, it is to be more "jazzy" than ever. It is to be "jazz" plus.

The military positions in dancing—movements, steps and poses that suggest the parade and the review—these are the rag time variations that go hand in hand with the "shimmy," when the boy who came back and the girl who waited start out at night to trip the light fantastic.

Since the country has been in the war there have been practically no new dances, explains the same Oakland dancing instructor. Those old reliables, the one-step and the fox trot have done yeoman's service. The convention of dancing teachers slated for the coming season is expected to change considerably the trend of the stepping.

MOTHERS PLAN CLUB CONVENTION

Plans for the annual convention of the second district California Congress of Mothers, which will assemble several hundred delegates from the bay counties in Berkeley in April, were discussed today at a meeting of the executive board of the district held at the Frances Willard school at Berkeley. Dates for the annual district meeting, at which the Berkeley Federation of Mothers will be hostess, are being decided upon this afternoon, as well as the date for the annual reciprocity luncheon of the district, which was postponed from last fall due to the influenza epidemic.

Women gathering at today's meeting included 35 members of the district's executive board, which includes representatives from counties bordering Sonoma on the north and Santa Cruz on the south. The delegates were guests today at a luncheon served by the Berkeley Federation, with the morning and afternoon sessions devoted to business and legislative matters.

Mrs. Charles S. Aiken of San Francisco, president of the district, presided at the gathering, while Berkeley officers assisting in the plans for the gathering are: Mrs. J. J. Koughan, first vice-president; Mrs. Arthur Painter, treasurer, and Mrs. H. G. Pratt, reciprocity chairman.

Sleuths Given Jolt in Viewing Prisoners

Detectives Tom Wood and Tom Gallagher got the jo't of their lives today in the police lineup in the city prison, when M. P. Weil and J. R. Riley, captured in the Hotel Oakland as bad check artists, were looked over by the Oakland detectives prior to being taken to San Francisco.

'We had come in from a case,' said Gallagher, "and dropped into a restaurant to get a bite to eat, when in came these fluffy loking guys! I said to Tom, 'There's two live ones.' 'Yes,' he agreed. 'It's written all over them.' First we thought we'd betetr pick them up for investigation, and then decided perhaps we'd better watch them. We followed them, with their pinch-back overcoats and camouflage for a while, and then decided to pass them up. We had nothing on them. Oh, if we'd only known this fancy bird was wanted in a dozen cities!"

Child Run Over, Killed by Wagon

Joseph Caracillo, six years old, of 1020 Eighth street, is dead as the result of an accident at Eighth and Myrtle streets, when a wagon, driven by Paul Muntardo, passed over his body. The child was riding on the wagon with Edward Davis, another boy, last night. They were ordered off by the driver. In attempting to alight while the wagon was in motion the smaller boy fell under the wheels.

Officers Chosen by Student Engineers

The annual election of officers for the Engineers' Society, composed of students at the Polytechnic College of Engineering, was held last night. Reuben Feagren of Wakefield, Nevada, was chosen president; C. C. Mattson of Santa Rosa, vice president, Edwin F. Krause of Redlands, secretary; L. G. Allen of Canada, treasurer.

Mattson has returned to his studies at the Polytechnic College of Engineering after serving for more than a year in the army.

China Misisonary Is Willed $10,000

A Home-Made Gray Hair Remedy

You Can Make at Home a Better Gray Hair Remedy Than You Can Buy.

Gray streaked or faded hair is not only unbecoming, but unnecessary. You can darken it without using a dye.

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home, at very little cost, that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1/4 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be had at any drug store at very little cost, or the druggist will put it up for you. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray haired person look twenty years younger. It is not a dye. It does not color the most delicate scalp, it is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."—Advertisement.

ERICSON COULD HARDLY WALK

Lays Cane Aside After Taking Tanlac and Is Now in Fine Shape.

"I can't tell just how much I have suffered, for that would be impossible, but I can say that out of all the treatments and medicines I have taken, Tanlac is the only thing that has done me any good at all," said William Ericson of Oakland, Cal., while in San Francisco the other day.

"About a year and a half ago," he continued, "I was attacked with rheumatism, and ever since then it has been necessary for me to use either crutches or a cane when I tried to walk. My joints were all very badly swollen, especially my knees and ankles, and would get so stiff and drawn that it was impossible for me to walk very much. My nerves were very badly affected and I hardly ever slept well. My stomach was also in very bad condition, and everything I ate would sour and cause gas to form in my stomach, and I would suffer something awful for hours after each meal. I was badly constipated all the time, and very often had severe headaches. I lost a great deal in weight and finally got so run-down and thin and weak that I was not able to do any kind of work.

"I had read and heard so much about Tanlac, and the good it was doing so many people, I decided to try it and see if it would help me. In a short time after I began taking it I could see that it was doing the work for me all right, so I just stuck right to Tanlac and it has simply made a brand new man of me. I am actually in as good condition now as I ever was in my life, and I don't know what it is to have an ache or pain. The rheumatism seems to have left me entirely, and I have laid my cane and crutches away for I never need them now, and I have such a ravenous appetite that I often wonder how I hold all I eat, and the best part of it is, it all agrees with me perfectly. My stomach is in fine condition now, and I am altogether free of constipation, and can't remember the day when I have had a headache. I have gained ten pounds already and feel that I am still gaining every day. Tanlac has been a wonderful blessing to me and I am more than glad to have this opportunity to recommend it to everybody."

A CAN AND DO EVENT

Saturday, February 15th. You know what that means. Better be early than sorry.

If you saw it in The TRIBUNE, tell them so. Thank you.

Josef Hofmann

Duo-Art Piano

The Duo-Art piano reproduces from accurate records of Mr. Hofmann's performances every beauty of his wonderful playing. With the DUO-ART you can have Mr. Hofmann and scores of other master pianists play for you in your home with the utmost realism.

The Duo-Art is the Piano which created a sensation at the concerts of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra Friday, January 31, and Sunday, February 2, when it took Harold Bauer's place as soloist, playing his interpretation of the Saint-Saens Concerto in G minor.

In addition, the DUO-ART is a Player Piano which you can play (without pedaling—it is operated electrically) according to your own ideas of expression. Then again, the DUO-ART may be played by hand from the keyboard in the usual manner. It is the piano for the home—it may be had in the Steinway, Weber, Steck and Stroud models, both in uprights and grands (in the Stroud, upright only).

We are sole representatives for the Duo-Art Piano in our territory on the Pacific Coast—we cordially invite you to come in and hear the marvelous Duo-Art.
